PLANE CARRIERS CAN BE MADE OF SHIPS ON WAYS

Cargo Craft Easily Converted.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 29.—More than 70 cargo vessels under construction in the shipyards of the United States can be speedily converted into aircraft carriers, marine experts revealed here today.

Shipping men, who are trying to meet the need for carriers as evidence of the supremacy of the bombing plane over the battleship continues to pile up, view the cargo ships on the ways as the answer. Plans for these vessels may be changed midway in their construction.

There are also hundreds of other ships flying the American flag and already afloat which could be turned into carriers, but the job would take longer. It would be necessary to tear the ships down before building on the flight decks and other facilities.

C-3 Type Adaptable.

Most readily available and most adaptable for the conversion are the C-3 type cargo ships. According to a maritime commission statement last Oct. 16 there were 71 of these fast freighters in various stages of construction on the shipbuilding ways.

The C-3 type has an overall length of 492 feet, a beam or width of 69 feet 6 inches, and cargo carrying capacity of 7,886 gross tons. Top speed has been estimated as 20 knots.

At least seven of the C-3 vessels are being converted into aircraft carriers at the present time, a fact made public several weeks ago. In addition, one, the Mooremacmail, has already been completed.

Liberty Vessels Too Small.

The so-called Liberty fleet vessels, originally called "ugly ducklings" because of their appearance, are too small and too slow for effective use as aircraft carriers, according to maritime officials here. More than 300 of these ships are on the ways and are replacing the British and American victims of bombers and submarines.

Two vital requirements for the adapted carrier are sufficient length and speed. The ship must be long enough to provide a flight deck from which bombing, torpedo and fighter-interceptor planes may take off and upon which they may alight safely.

Speed is not only essential for the protection of the lightly armored carrier but also gives it punching power. In modern sea warfare the airplane carrier uses "weather" as a protective screen for operations whenever possible, and it is only possible with great speed.

How Carrier Stalks Prey.

When a carrier is stalking its prey, it attempts to ride to a point within striking distance in a storm or foggy weather. Then the vessel, using its speed, darts out into good weather to launch the planes and darts back into bad weather to hide again. It emerges to pick up the planes on them.

Shipping authorities here agree that every convoy on its perilous blue water route should be accompanied by at least one aircraft carrier. Such a carrier can furnish scouting planes to fly on ahead to look for submarines and fighter-interceptors to beat off attacks from enemy bombers.

Changed in 45 Days.

It took only 45 days to make over the Mooremacmail. Smokestacks were moved from the middle to one side in order to provide the unbroken expanse for the flight deck. A huge elevator operated by steam winches was installed to lift the planes from nesting places below to the flight deck.

From 16 to 25 planes may be accommodated by converted carriers of this type, it is said. Other facilities required include: Signal tower, control apparatus, guns, smoke screen equipment, magazines, and repair shops.

According to information from authoritative sources here the United States is also carrying on conversion work for the British because this country is far ahead in building plans of this sort. It is believed at least one converted carrier has already gone from American shipping ways into the British navy and has seen service in the North Atlantic.

Another type of conversion going forward is that of rebuilding merchant ships into navy seaplane tenders.

Contrary to some published reports the French liner Normandie, the floating palace which has been tied up in the port of New York since the war and was recently taken over by the United States, was not constructed to be converted into a carrier.

$21 PAY ASKED FOR UNIFORMED REAR LINE UNIT

Would Release Men for Combat Duty.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—Creation of a volunteer women's auxiliary corps which would take over many rear line duties now performed by army regulars was recommended today by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson.

Edith N. Rogers.

In a letter to the house military affairs committee, he indorsed a bill introduced by Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers [R., Mass.] for formation of a paid, uniformed feminine corps serving directly with the army.

"At the present time," Stimson wrote, "there is no shortage of man power in this country; nevertheless there are a great many types of duty in the corps area service commands and in the aircraft warning service for which women are better fitted than men, and the employment of women on such duty would increase efficiency and release men for more intensive work or combat service."

Size of Corps in Doubt.

The secretary said that the size of the auxiliary would be dependent upon military requirements and "cannot be determined at the present time." He estimated its cost at $3,000,000 for 1942.

Chairman Andrew J. May [D., Ky.] previously had assured Mrs. Rogers that the military affairs committee would begin hearings on her proposal after obtaining an opinion on its merits from the war department.

Under Mrs. Rogers' bill, the pay for women who enlisted would start at $21 a month, just as in the regular army. Officers would be trained at special schools.

Stimson said the auxiliary would not replace or conflict with activities now under the supervision of the Office of Civilian Defense.

Many Fields Covered.

One or more companies would be stationed at each large army post or camp, he said, and its personnel would be given such assignments as clerks, machine operators, cooks, and bakers, stewardesses, telephone and telegraph operators, pharmacists, dieticians, hygienists, hospital and laboratory technicians, hostesses, librarians, theater employés, welfare workers, post exchange employés, and laundry workers.

Stimson said an aircraft warning section would be set up in the auxiliary, and indicated it would supersede the present volunteers procured by the Office of Civilian Defense.

He explained that the filter and information centers of the aircraft warning service called for use of highly specialized installations "which cannot function properly with part of the operating personnel absent."

The army at present cannot compel attendance of volunteers.

CANADA AWAITS CASUALTY TOLL IN HONGKONG FIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 29.—More than 2,000 Canadians were among the empire troops at Hongkong when resistance ceased against the Japanese onslaughts, but Canada does not know the extent of Canadian casualties or precisely what has happened to its troops, which were composed of Winnipeg Grenadiers and the Quebec Royal Rifles. It is believed two of their leading officers, Col. Patrick Hennessy of Ottawa and Brig. J. K. Lawson, are dead.

Everything possible has been done to obtain particulars of casualties, Defense Minister J. L. Ralston said after news of the cessation of resistance had reached Canada. Particulars of the battle itself, he said, were meager but so stiff was the resistance and such was the nature of the battle that heavy casualties occurred. Defense authorities said accurate details might not be available here until the Red Cross was notified thru customary international channels of those taken prisoners.

Among the Canadians who were known to have been engaged in the defense of Hongkong was Lieut. Francis Gavin Power, son of Canada's air minister, Charles G. Power.

Manila Harbor Forts Bombed 3 Hours

DON'T LET 'EM STOP FOR LACK OF TIRES. KEEP 'EM ROLLING!

HERE ARE DAY'S DEVELOPMENTS ON ALL FRONTS

Here are the latest developments in the war in the Pacific, Europe, and Africa:

A big force of Japanese bombing planes blasted at the coast defenses of Manila bay for three hours yesterday in an effort to silence the guns which guard the seaway approaches to the capital of the Philippines.

The bombs fell on Fort Mills on Corregidor Island, Fort Drum across the bay, Fort Hughes, and others.

Lose "Number" of Planes.

Manila dispatches said the Japanese lost a "number" of planes. The United States war department said four bombers were shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

More Japanese troops were landed in southern Luzon Island, on which Manila is situated. It was admitted that Japanese pressure was rising steadily on that front. There was no change in the situation in northern Luzon.

The British acknowledged that Japanese invaders had penetrated south of Ipoh, tin and communications center in northwestern Malaya. This town is 290 miles north of Singapore. The British said they were fighting back strongly in that area. The Japanese drive along the eastern coast of Malaya evidently made no progress.

Claim Capture of Ipoh.

The Japanese high command claimed the capture of Ipoh, and said its troops were pursuing "the retreating British" southward.

The British conceded the fall of Kuching, capital of Sarawak, British protectorate on the island of Borneo. Kuching is 475 miles east of Singapore.

Dutch flyers resumed their one a day toll of Japanese shipping with a direct bomb hit on a transport off the coast of Sarawak. A communique said 30 persons were killed and an airdrome was damaged in the Japanese aerial attack on Medan on the island of Sumatra Sunday. However, there was no official word on Japanese parachute troops which were reported to have landed 10 miles from the Medan airport.

Red Chutists Kill 400 Nazis.

The Red army reported that 400 German troops were killed and 29 bridges were blown up by soviet parachutists who landed in the rear of the retreating Germans. The big soviet offensive smashed new lines of defense thrown up by the Germans in several sectors. The Nazis claimed that a Russian battleship at Leningrad was damaged by shellfire. They said bombing planes sank one soviet transport and damaged six others in the Black sea.

In Libya the British were tightening a noose drawn around German and Italian forces which were trapped south of Bengazi, a port on the Mediterranean. The desert was turned into vast fields of mud by heavy rains. British bombers assaulted tattered axis columns which had fled into Tripolitania from Cirenaica.

The Italians announced aerial torpedoes struck a heavy British cruiser and two torpedo boats in the eastern Mediterranean.

CORREGIDOR IS ATTACKED; FOUR JAPS SHOT DOWN

U. S. Defense Lines Shortened.

(Maps on back page.)

MANILA, Dec. 30 [Tuesday]—(AP).—The opening salvoes of what may be a long and dramatic siege of the Corregidor Island fortress, whose powerful guns stand athwart the sole seaway approach to Manila, were fired yesterday when Japanese planes roared thru an earth shaking barrage to blast the citadel for three hours.

It was a costly assault, for the Japanese lost "a number" of planes to the accuracy of the fortress gunners. Four were shot out of one formation of 27.

Ignoring undefended Manila, which had been savagely bombarded on Saturday and Sunday, the raiders circled high over Corregidor unloading their bombs.

[In Washington the army announced that Gen. MacArthur has consolidated his troops in Pampanga province, 55 miles from Manila, and shortened his lines, while the navy announced that United States submarines have sunk an enemy transport and a supply vessel. One American destroyer was attacked with slight damage and minor casualties.]

Land Air Forces in South.

The first officially reported attack upon the Little Gibraltar of the Philippines came as the invaders landed new land forces in southern Luzon, where island defenders were battling steadily rising pressure, while on the northern fronts the situation was little changed.

Heretofore Manila observers had noted one or two flights of Japanese planes over Corregidor and saw bombs dropped in that direction, but these were short and the attackers flew extremely high, maneuvering away from the fortress guns.

Official reports of damage were lacking but Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters indicated the effectiveness of the defending gunners with the succinct statement: "A number of Japanese planes were shot down."

The United States Armed Forces of the Far East issued their shortest communique of the war at 11:45 a. m. today, stating:

"Everything is quiet."

Tells First Battle Story.

The first Japanese troops which came ashore at Mauban on Lamon bay, southeastern Luzon, were killed to the last man, but the defenders were forced back into the hills by successive Japanese reënforcements, declared two Filipino soldiers on their arrival from the front today.

They said six Japanese transports arrived at Mauban Christmas eve and started landing operations Christmas morning. The Japanese illuminated the entire coastline with blue flares and threw out a smoke screen.

Concentrated fire from the shore sank many of their landing boats, but the survivors drove ahead.

"The invaders landed first in waves of 30 to 50 men," said the Filipinos. "We waited until they were 70 yards away from us before letting go. We mowed down the first series, but as succeeding ones came thicker and stretched the battleline wider around the bay, we finally had to retreat. We entrenched ourselves in the hills back of the bay."

Stopped Japs Four Times.

Then in two days the defenders stopped the Japanese four times, halting the forward line but always having to withdraw under the pressure of invader reënforcements even while taking a heavy death toll at every stand.

"They just marched grimly on, without taking cover," said one of the Filipinos.

Soldiers returning from the northern front also reported the Japanese failed to take cover, firing at defenders who were virtually invisible in tall grass. The Japanese showed marked inferiority in bayonet fighting and marksmanship, soldiers reported. Sometimes the invaders wore aluminum plates on their forearms.

Altho Manila went thru Monday bomb free, two alerts sounded in the city. One observation plane flew low during the morning over the Pasig river and other areas of Manila proper. Capital residents still were apprehensive lest yesterday's lull

CLAIM MOSCOW WANTS RED GENERAL TO RUN ALLIES' WAR ON HITLER

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Russia intends to reopen her case for a real two-front war in Europe in the near future, it was learned here tonight. The Russian suggestion was that an expeditionary force of Britons and Americans could establish a bridgehead on continental Europe and, under direction of a soviet generalissimo, participate in a giant pincer movement against the Germans.

The same sources made it quite clear that no soviet action against the Japanese at present is even being considered. It is said soviet military experts maintain that the war against Japan is, primarily, a sea-and-air affair for America, and that a powerful expeditionary force from the United States well could be spared to operate in Europe, America now being pledged to the defeat of Adolf Hitler.

The Russians are said to hold that they are the proven principal military power in the anti-axis bloc in Europe and, as such, should provide one of their generals to have broad control and direction of any European venture, just as Marshal Foch of France had in the last war.

[The British radio yesterday advocated that Britain and Russia join in policing Europe after the war. Details on page 4.]

'Pop,' Fit at 50, Sets Sail On a Naval Career

They call him "Pop" at the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

But they called him Mr. Spray—Mr. John William Spray—in Sioux City, Ia., and spoke of him as a long established business man. That was before Japan attacked Pearl Harbor, where his son, Averill, 18 years old, was stationed.

"Pop" Spray [top] and Averill Spray.

The Japanese attack aroused Mr. Spray. He waited for word that never came from Averill. He was glad when his eldest son, John William Jr., 28, went down to enlist. But John William Jr. came back with the word that the recruiting office didn't want him because of an injured foot.

Loses Interest in Some Things.

Mr. Spray, business man, didn't care to be Mr. Spray after that. He lost interest in the 2,700 chickens on his poultry farm, the three trucks he used in his motor transport service, the contract he held with the city to remove the scrap iron from a building that was being wrecked.

Six days after the Japanese attack Mr. Spray telephoned his wife that he had enlisted in the navy. Recalling that he was 49 years old, she was so astonished she didn't say anything. But when he got home she'd arranged for their daughter, Gertrude, 21, to manage the chicken farm.

John William Jr. said he'd take charge of the trucks. Loretta, 24, said she'd keep her job while her father was gone. Howard, 15, was persuaded that he should remain in high school until he was a little older.

Neighbors Shake Their Heads.

But there was that scrap iron contract. Bluejacket Spray said there was a war, and he guessed he'd let some one else worry about contracts.

Friends shook their heads. Even tho he is 6 feet tall, and strong, they didn't think he could stand the hardships of navy life.

But the naval officers didn't shake their heads when the 180 pound Iowan strode into the station at Great Lakes. They beamed when they read the report of his physical examination, assigned him to Company 219, and transformed Mr. Spray into Engineer First Class Spray.

Young Bluejackets marveled at his stamina when he told them he was the oldest enlisted man at Great Lakes. They listened to his counsel, asked him for advice, and by the time his 50th birthday came around the day after Christmas they had a new name for Engineer First Class Spray:

"Pop!"

OFFICERS TELL HOW CAPT. KELLY'S AID WAS BLOWN OUT OF PLANE

WITH THE USAFFE IN CENTRAL LUZON, Dec. 29 (AP).—Field artillery officers today told this story of how Capt. Colin P. Kelly Jr. met his death after bombing and sinking the Japanese battleship Haruna:

Kelly was within two minutes of his home field, his big bomber "sailing along prettily and getting ready to land," when two Japanese fighter planes dove thru a bank of low lying clouds, their cannon and machine guns spitting fire.

Kelly's plane staggered, righted itself and had gone another half mile when flames suddenly broke out in the motors. Five members of the crew bailed out and, as they neared the ground, the Japanese dove repeatedly to machine gun them, but without success.

With the plane shrouded in smoke and flame Kelly pulled back the stick and "got the nose straight in the air, when the ship exploded in a blinding blast."

The explosion blew Lieut. Robbins from the plane. He snapped his parachute open and landed "burned but in a fighting mood." Kelly died in the explosion.

Said the artillerymen, "the Lord had Robbins by the hand and pulled him out of that plane."

Biggest Waste Paper Drive by Britain Will Start Jan. 1

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 29.—New Year's day will herald the opening of what is described as the biggest waste paper drive Britain has ever known. Local authorities over the entire country are preparing to compete for part of $80,000 in prizes offered by an unnamed group of citizens for the biggest collections.

might be only a temporary respite while the Japanese were concentrating on Corregidor.

Four thousand prisoners, it developed, attempted to break from Bilibid prison Sunday night to join in the fight against the Japanese. Pro-Japanese felons had put out untrue rumors that the American and Filipino forces had been unable to halt the Japanese, said press accounts, and the great majority then revolted in an effort to help at the front.

MacArthur Shortens Lines.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—American and Filipino defense forces—with spirits high and resistance stubborn—fought doggedly against heavily reinforced invaders on a shortened defense line north of Manila today.

At sea American submarines torpedoed and sank two more Japanese ships, a transport and a supply vessel. This success was slightly diminished by scant damage Japanese planes inflicted upon an American destroyer.

The text of today's war department communique follows:

"1. Philippine theater: A very large force of enemy aircraft bombed the coast defense of Manila bay continuously for three hours. At least four Japanese bombers were shot down by anti-aircraft batteries.

"No important ground operations were reported from either the Lingayen or Atimonan sectors.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

U. S. Forces Consolidated.

An earlier communique, No. 23, read as follows:

"1. Philippine theater: The commanding general, United States army forces in the far east, has consolidated the majority of his troops in Pampanga province and shortened his lines.

"In the last few days the enemy has been heavily reinforced by several infantry divisions, tank regiments, and horse cavalry. Japanese units are composed of veteran soldiers with modern equipment.

"American and Philippine troops, despite constant fighting against heavy odds, are in high spirits and are offering stubborn resistance. Losses have been heavy on both sides.

"Enemy air activity continues heavy, with repeated bombing of Manila in violation of the declaration of an open city.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

55 Miles from Capital.

Pampanga province, northwest of Manila, is midway between the capital and Lingayen gulf invasion beachheads. Its northern boundary is some 55 miles distant from both the gulf and Manila, and the southern boundary only about 25 miles from the capital. Thru the southern portion of the province, a sugar producing area, flows the Pampanga river.

The disclosure that the Japanese now were employing horse cavalry was the first information that such units had been put ashore.

The navy communique follows:

"Far east: United States submarines have sunk two additional ships of the enemy. One was a transport, the other a supply vessel.

"During enemy air operations one of our destroyers was attacked. Slight damage and minor casualties resulted."

Paul P. Steintorf, American consul in Manila, reported in a telegram to the state department today that "the consular premises were undamaged and the entire staff safe and well."

Japs Deny Brutal Bombing.

TOKIO, Dec. 29 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—The spokesman of the naval section of imperial headquarters today denied that Japanese air forces had bombed indiscriminately at Manila. He said the navy would produce photographs "to blast all such allegations intended to discredit the imperial forces."

INDIA CONGRESS TO DROP GANDHI POLICY, REPORT

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 29 (AP).—Political leaders viewed as extremely important tonight reports from Bardoli indicating the All-India congress is about to overrule the policies of Mohandas K. Gandhi in favor of an approach toward war cooperation with Britain.

A protracted deadlock in the sessions of the congress working committee showed that a powerful section favors abandonment of the policy of noncoöperation now that the war is at India's very borders. Gandhi may withdraw from the party's leadership should it decide against him.

There were indications the congress would offer to form a coalition national government for the duration, altho undoubtedly an effort would first be made to secure a fresh London statement about India's future.

ORDER PRINTING OF TOKEN MONEY IN PHILIPPINES

MANILA, Dec. 30 [Tuesday]—(AP).—President Manuel Quezon today authorized branches of the Philippine National bank in certain cities to print emergency paper money because disrupted transportation has prevented the shipment of funds for government salaries and coins are scarce due to hoarding.

New bills, redeemable at face value, will be issued in denominations of one peso and 50, 20, and 10 centavos. The president authorized certain outlying business establishments to pay employés with token money.

Quezon and Vice President Sergio Osmena, both recently reëlected, planned to take their oaths of office at noon today before Chief Justice José Abad Santos.

RUIN OF PLANES IN HAWAII LAID TO 5TH COLUMN

U. S. Replies to Japs on Davao 'Killings.'

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—The state department issued a statement tonight rejecting and denouncing an official protest by the Japanese government, which complained that 10 Japanese nationals, presumably fifth columnists, were killed by Americans when Japanese forces attacked Davao, on the Island of Mindanao, in the Philippines.

Announcement of this remarkable complaint by the Japanese government was preceded by reports in well informed congressional quarters concerning Japanese fifth column activity in the surprise attack on Hawaii which caught American army and navy forces off guard on the morning of Dec. 7.

According to these reports, Japanese truck drivers employed on construction work at Hawiian air bases manned their trucks and drove them head on into army and navy pursuit planes on the ground when the Japanese air attack began.

Prevented Planes' Takeoff.

Altho most of the truck drivers were killed by guards, they succeeded in wrecking a considerable number of planes or damaging them sufficiently to prevent their takeoff, according to the congressional sources.

At least 20 Japanese truck drivers are said to have gone into action at Hickam field, the army's big air base.

The war and navy departments refused to affirm or deny the reported Japanese sabotage at Hawaii. Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox has announced that the Japanese attackers had complete information respecting American defenses as a result of "the greatest fifth column activity of this war, with the possible exception of Norway," but he gave no details.

Japs of American Citizenship.

Congressional sources suggested the army and navy might be reluctant to acknowledge that Japanese truck drivers were employed on construction work at the air bases lest it result in criticism of their intelligence services. The civilian employés are said to have been American citizens by birth, but of Japanese parentage.

The Japanese government's protest on the Davao "incident," was transmitted to the state department by the Swiss legation. The department's answer said the government had no reports to substantiate the incident complained of by the Japanese government. It recited that for days previous to the delivery of this note the Japanese had been bombing the defenseless civilian population of Manila.

Disregard of All Law.

The statement added that while the United States would not condone such killings as the Japanese reported had occurred at Davao, the record established by Japan shows a "wholly wanton disregard of international law and the principles of humanity."

It concluded that the purpose of the Japanese protest was to "divert attention from their iniquities by making accusations against others."

MISS JULIA ANSON DIES AT 80.

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 29 [Special].—Miss Julia E. Anson, 80, a Winnebago deputy county clerk since 1917 died here yesterday. She had worked for county clerks Marcus Norton, Truman Johnson and Howard Short.

Chinese People Flee

CHUNGKING, China, Dec. 29 (AP).—The main spearhead of a broad Japanese offensive in central China today was reported to have pierced to within forty miles north of Changsha, capital of Hunan province.

Civilians were fleeing the city as the Japanese, reinforced by several thousand fresh troops, drew near, after forcing a crossing of the Milo river under a heavy artillery barrage, Chinese front line dispatches said.

A Chinese communique issued here, however, indicated the Chinese were holding the broad Japanese offensive on most of the sectors, which stretch across parts of four provinces.

The Chinese army newspaper, Sao-tangpao, said the Japanese offensive is intended to split the Chinese forces along the Hankow-Canton railway in order to lessen Chinese pressure on Kowloon, the mainland part of fallen Hongkong, and to prevent Chinese troops in Hunan, Kwangsi, and Kwangtung provinces from reinforcing their allies in Burma and Malaya.

Japs Claim Successes.

TOKIO, Dec. 29 [Official broadcast recorded by Associated Press].—The news agency Domei broadcast this communique of fighting in China.

"Japanese troops crossed swollen Milo river and occupied four key points in Northeastern Hunan province including Kweiyi, about 50 miles north of Changsha, provincial capital. Japanese planes successfully raided Chinese bases in Western Anhwei province. In Northwestern Kiangsi province, Japanese land forces continued to gain ground against China's new 12th division along Chin river, while other units operating farther north in a snowstorm captured a point 15 miles west of Wuning."

19 MORE IN OPEN BOAT SAVED FROM TORPEDOED SHIP

HONOLULU, Dec. 29 (AP).—All but 14 of the 65 men aboard two American freighters torpedoed and sunk in the Pacific Dec. 17 were accounted for today with the announcement by naval district headquarters at San Francisco that another boatload of 19 has been rescued.

The 19 were from the freighter Manini, which had 33 on board. Twelve others of the Manini crew were picked up Saturday. That left only two missing crewmen.

Of 34 men aboard the other freighter, the Prusa, nine were killed by the torpedo which sank it, 13 were picked up Saturday from a lifeboat which had tossed aoout for nine days, and the other 12 are unaccounted for. Survivors in two lifeboats picked up Saturday were brought to Honolulu.

MORE THAN 1,600 MISSIONARIES IN EAST WAR ZONES

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—More than 1,600 United States missionaries are in war areas in the far east, the committee on East Asia of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America reported today.

Joe J. Mickle, secretary of the committee, placed these missionaries as follows: Japan, 82; Corea, 29; penetrated China, 862; Indo-China, 56; Thailand, 83; British Malaya, 69; Netherlands East Indies, 59; Philippine Islands, 424, and 47 en route to or from the United States.

In addition, he said, more than 2,000 missionaries are scattered thruout Free China, 300 in Burma, and a few in Oceania who may become involved.

DUTCH BOMBERS AT IT AGAIN; HIT A JAP TROOPSHIP

Resume One-a-Day Toll of Enemy Vessels.

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, Dec. 29 (AP).—The Dutch army air force has resumed the Indies interrupted one a day toll of Japanese shipping by scoring a direct bomb hit on a transport off the harbor of Miri in Sarawak, it was announced today.

Aneta New Agency, which released the communique, said it had no confirmation of Manila radio reports that 12 more Japanese troopships had been sunk by Dutch planes off Davao in the Philippines. But the communique did credit the squadron of American built Martin bombers which raided Miri with shooting down "probably" two Japanese fighter planes.

No Word on Chute Invasion.

The communique gave a detailed account of the Japanese attack on the airport at Medan on Sumatra yesterday, in which 30 persons were killed, 70 wounded and the airdrome was damaged. However, there was no further official word on the Japanese parachute troops which were reported to have been landed simultaneously within 10 miles of Medan.

Observers saw this official silence as an indication the Japanese, in their first effort to effect a landing on Indies territory, had not been able to do so in sufficient force to constitute a serious threat.

Report Scattered Activity.

Today's communique spoke of only scattered activity in the other parts of the archipelago. It confirmed the firing of a Japanese cruiser north of Celebes by Australian planes stationed on an Indies airdrome, which first was reported yesterday. It also said Japanese bombing and machine gun attacks at "various places in the outer provinces" caused no military losses.

Meanwhile the Surabaya Handelsblad, a leading Javanese newspaper, urged the Netherlands government-in-exile in London to release Dutch naval units now in European waters for duty in the Indies in order to "assist the navy here in carrying out its offensive purposes."

DENY CHUTE LANDING.

Quoting a Batavia communique as its authority, the British radio announced that "The reports of a Japanese parachute landing on Medan in Sumatra are based on a misunderstanding from the Japanese air raid on this town." Medan lies across Malacca strait from Penang, Japanese captured British base off western Malaya.

U. S. SHIP SUNK BY SUBMARINE; 19 LAND IN N. Y.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—The American South Africa line freighter, Sagadahoc, 6,275 gross tons, was torpedoed by an axis submarine Dec. 3 on her way to South Africa, it was disclosed here with the arrival of 19 survivors aboard a United States ship, which left New York Nov. 17.

Chief Officer Norris Chadbourne said the crewmen were rescued after seven and a half days in a lifeboat. He said 16 others in another lifeboat, including Capt. Frederick Evans, had reached South Africa safely, after being picked up by another ship.

Only one casualty was reported by the survivors, who said Anthony Castro, a United States citizen, probably was killed by an explosion that followed the torpedoing.

Chadbourne said the freighter, hit at dusk, sank 20 minutes after rolling over. The two lifeboats stayed together for several days and then became separated in the darkness, he said. He would not identify the submarine, but said the commander offered no assistance. The freighter did not have time to radio for aid, Chadbourne said.

Italians Make New Drastic Train Service Restrictions

ROME, Dec. 29 [ANDI Agency to Associated Press].—Further drastic reductions in railroad facilities thruout Italy were ordered today to meet "unavoidable exigencies of the general interest." All reduced fares for family tickets, as well as season tickets for journeys of over 60 miles and other fare reductions were abolished. This move followed a recent decree which greatly reduced the number of passenger trains in service.

JAPANESE DRIVE SOUTH OF MALAY TIN MINE CENTER

British Battle to Stop Penetration.

SINGAPORE, Dec. 29 (AP).—The British defenders of Singapore's approaches today fought back strongly against a Japanese penetration south of Ipoh, tin and communications center in western Malaya, but the invaders' complementary drive along the east coast apparently made no progress.

The fall of Kuching, the capital of British protected Sarawak on the Island of Borneo, where the Japanese seek a lodgement in such force as to threaten British-American communication with the allied Dutch East Indies, was conceded. Kuching lies 475 miles due east of Singapore.

Heavy Fighting in Perak.

As to the Malayan peninsula itself, the heaviest fighting was in progress in Perak state [presumably in the coastal areas above the Perak river] to the south of Ipoh. This town is 290 miles north of Singapore and just at the edge of the harsh mountain range which flanks the western coastal plain.

There, said the British headquarters communique, "our forces are in close contact with the enemy."

[Singapore reports received in London said the British had withdrawn from Ipoh because they were imperiled by a pincers movement from the north and southwest.]

Elsewhere in Malaya, it was added, the situation was unchanged. Enemy air attacks on British east coast positions about Kuantan were reported, but caused neither damage nor casualties.

Bomb Japanese Air Base.

At the same time, the royal air force was in heavy action against the Japanese operational bases to the north. Hard hit was the Japanese air base at Sungei Patani, up the west coast from Ipoh, where British bombs left fires and explosions. This was on Sunday night. A previous attack on Saturday night was shown by reconnaissance to have smashed seven Japanese fighter planes and three heavy bombers and to have badly damaged five other enemy fighters.

Claim Capture of Ipoh.

TOKIO, Dec. 29 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—The Japanese high command today announced the capture of Ipoh, Malayan tin mining center, 290 miles north of Singapore, and Kuching, capital of Sarawak, on the Island of Borneo, about 475 miles across the South China sea, east of Singapore.

The situation as claimed in Japanese communiques broadcast by the news agency Domei:

MALAYA. — Japanese troops are "pushing southward in pursuit of the retreating British," after capturing Ipoh, whose fall "opens to the Japanese advance for the first time modern roads and methods of transportation for a power drive toward Singapore."

BORNEO—Kuching fell after a four day assault and the Japanese thereby gained "oil and other precious natural resources while the British lost important air bases." The Japanese navy operating off shore downed 10 planes and destroyed two submarines while losing one destroyer and one minesweeper.

EX-EVANSTON WOMAN ESCAPES JAPS IN MALAYA

Drives Ambulance Out of Tin Mining Town.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya, Dec. 27 [Delayed].—The last white woman to leave Ipoh, British tin and communications center in northern Malaya, was Mrs. James A. Bines, formerly Miss Florence Schoepfle of Evanston, Ill.

A member of a medical auxiliary unit, Mrs. Bines brought out an ambulance under heavy bombing and machine gun fire from Japanese raiders.

[The British yesterday admitted the Japanese had penetrated south of Ipoh, while the Japanese announced the capture of the town.]

Four Bombs on Town.

The Illinois woman said that up to the time she had left on the night before Christmas, Japanese explosives had been falling on the town for four days.

Mrs. Bines formerly was a technician in an Evanston hospital. She left Evanston in 1938 to marry an Englishman in Malaya. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. John S. Schoepfle, who live in Elyria, O.

British who have escaped from the Japanese say that the enemy does not keep marching order. They declare the Japanese move along roads in any formation. The invaders do not have much in the way of motor transport. They are coming as fast as they can walk, altho some are riding bicycles. The troops carry a box of ammunition, as well as several pouches, to accommodate automatic weapons. Some of the Japanese troops dress in khaki breeches, white shirts, puttees and sandals or boots. Others wear boots with separate big toes.

Live on Rice Cakes.

Japanese troops do not have the bulky rations problem of western soldiers. They live on cakes of compressed rice, a small portion of which soaked in water fills a large bowl.

Tin mining in Malaya virtually has been halted. Mine owners destroyed equipment in hydraulic mines. Much other machinery is being moved southward.

The production of rubber in a large part of Malaya also has been halted.

ARMY OF TAILORS RUSHES CLOTHES FOR NAZI TROOPS

Fur coats, hats, woolen jumpers, gloves, and underwear are being collected thruout the reich.

Coat collars are being made into body belts and baby quilts into soldier hoods in the vast remodeling program, the correspondent wrote.

DEMANDS KNOX RESIGN POST AS NAVY SECRETARY

Is Unqualified for Job, Says Legislator.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 29 [Special].—State Rep. Charles J. Jenkins, Republican, and member of the Chicago colored delegation in the house, today called for the resignation of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox for the disaster at Pearl Harbor.

Rep. C. J. Jenkins.

Addressing the house during consideration of a defense bill to license handlers of germ cultures, Jenkins declared that Knox should resign rather than take the Pacific command from Adm. [Husband E.] Kimmel, and termed the elevation of Knox and Secretary of War Harry L. Stimson to the cabinet "political appointments."

Jenkins entered the debate on the germ control bill by envisioning possible axis attempts to spread plague in the United States and Illinois, then replied to the Democratic charge that the measure under consideration, by carrying 802 new jobs, was essentially political in nature.

"They talk of politics," Jenkins said. "The appointments of Secretaries Knox and Stimson to the cabinet were political appointments. And furthermore, none of the axis powers would keep a man in charge of their navy or army who hadn't been a navy or army man substantially all his life."

Jenkins headed a legislative commission to Washington last spring seeking to find more jobs for Negroes in defense industries and also their entrance into the navy. Secretary Knox told him, he recalled today, that it would be impossible at that time to admit colored men into general navy service.

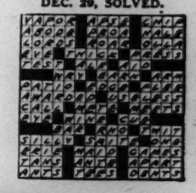
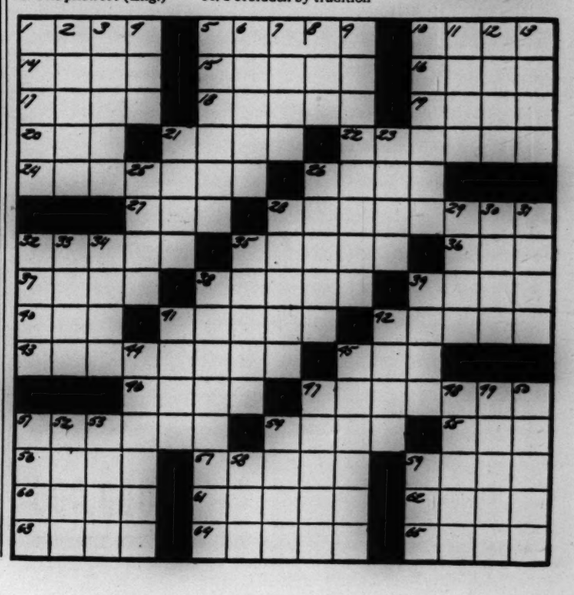
PUZZLE OF MONDAY, DEC. 29, SOLVED.





LITVINOV TELLS U. S. HOW MUCH RUSSIA WILL AID

Attack on Japan Soon Is Believed Likely.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—While the war and navy departments today concentrated on the problem of relief of the beleaguered Philippines, developments in Washington and London indicated that an understanding has been reached with Dictator Josef Stalin on the participation of Russia in the war with Japan.

Maxim Litvinov, soviet ambassador to the United States, had a long conference with Secretary of State Cordell Hull following the announcement in London that British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden had returned from Russia with a complete agreement with Stalin on joint measures for the conduct of the war against the axis powers.

Parleys to Be Resumed.

Altho neither Hull nor the ambassador would discuss their conference for publication there is reason to believe that Litvinov had been instructed by Stalin to report to the American government the purport of the agreement with Eden.

The agreement with Russia will figure in the discussions of the Anglo-American war council which will be resumed this week upon the return of British Prime Minister Winston Churchill to Washington from his trip to Canada. The rôle of the soviet power in the World war is a highly important feature of the allied grand strategy for defeat of the axis nations that is being mapped out in the Washington conferences.

Russia to Get War Supplies.

President Roosevelt and Churchill are understood to be in complete agreement that Russia shall be supplied with an increasing number of planes and tanks and other war material in order that the soviet armies may not only retain but augment their superiority of arms over the Nazis, which brought about the German headlong retreat on the eastern front. While some of the material furnished Russia will be of British manufacture, the greater part will be produced by the United States.

It is taken for granted here that the Eden-Stalin agreement comprehends the assistance that may be expected from Russia for overcoming Japan. It is not doubted that Russia's Siberian forces will go into action against Japan and perhaps at no distant date. Presumably, the time when the Russians may be expected to strike figured in the Eden-Stalin discussions.

Fear War on Two Fronts.

Up to date, the Russians have taken the position that nothing should be permitted to divert them from the job of licking the Nazi armies. If they got into the war with Japan they would be engaged on two fronts and might fail to prevail on either. The suggestion was clear that once the Nazis were disposed of the Russians would be ready to take on Japan.

The soviet government has a large army in Siberia and an air force that has commanded great respect in Japan, particularly as it is only a few hundred miles from the Siberian air bases to Tokio. Japan's paper houses would soon go up in smoke once Russian planes loosed incendiary bombs.

Moreover, if and when Russia gets into the war with Japan, Siberian air bases will become available to American bombers flown from the Aleutian Islands for the bombardment of Japan.

NAZI PLANES CUT 35 PCT. IN RUSSIA, BRITAIN IS TOLD

LONDON, Dec. 29 (AP).—Aviation observers estimated today that losses in the campaign against Russia have reduced the German air force to about 63 per cent of its peak strength.

"The German air force is literally worn out," said a reliable commentator with excellent sources of information. "The pilots are tired and there is a real shortage of planes in certain categories. To all appearances the German air force is just about 35 per cent under what it was, for instance, when it gave London its first heavy fire bomb attack just a year ago."

In addition to the losses in the Russian campaign, this source said, the Germans' air strength has suffered severely in the middle east. He said the Nazis have lost 476 planes in Libya since Nov. 18.

J. T. M'CUTCHEON FINDS PARALLELS IN 2 ISLAND WARS

Recalls 1898 Events in Philippines.

Altho the Japanese invasion of the Philippines is a war that is totally different from the one that began with the Spanish-American conflict of 1898 and continued thru the Filipino insurrections, there are many obvious parallels. John T. McCutcheon, THE TRIBUNE'S distinguished cartoonist and war correspondent who spent three years in the Philippine archipelago covering events now famous in American history of 40 odd years ago, described some of these parallels last evening.

An important one relates to the numbers of American troops and their equipment, he said. In the Spanish-American war our regiments used the inferior and obsolete Remington rifle and black powder cartridges. The Spaniards, however, fought with the Mauser rifle—finest gun of its kind in that day—and with smokeless powder cartridges. Our own riflemen gave away their positions each time they fired their rifles.

Spanish Guns Salvaged by Natives.

Vast stores of the Mausers and ammunition were dumped into Cavite bay after a peace was concluded with Spain. Adm. George Dewey gave permission to the Filipinos to dredge them up. Later these same weapons were turned against American troops who sought for two years to put down the guerrilla warfare of the Filipino patriots.

In contrast to the up-hill war the American troops in the Philippines are fighting today, lacking essential numbers of modern fighting airplanes, the Japanese are using bombers and fighting planes to support every landing attempt and for aerial assaults on the cities of Luzon, the coastal towns, and the harbors.

Most of the period during the insurrection, Mr. McCutcheon continued, American troops were fighting against overwhelming numbers. The troops had a song about this which went:

"The Rebels up in old Tarlac,
Two men to every gun,
They say the war is over,
We say it's just begun."

As a matter of fact, he recalled, the rebellion was not put down until large numbers of reinforcements were sent out to the 50,000 men already in the islands. A similar situation exists today, in that our outnumbered and poorly equipped troops in the Philippines need reinforcements immediately.

Censorship Clamped Down.

The military censorship that has been clamped down on all newspapers, radio, and magazines today was not unknown in 1899 and 1900, Mr. McCutcheon said.

"All the correspondents out there at that time felt that Gen. Otis who commanded the troops and civil government was keeping the real military situation from the people at home because, as they phrased it, 'it would have them by the ears.'

"Finally some 13 of us wrote a story which told the truth about the need for men and equipment and the strength of the rebels. Gen. Otis refused to permit us to send the story. We said we'd ship it over to Hongkong and send it from there. He threatened to have each of us put out of the islands if we did so. Nevertheless we did as we threatened.

War Secretary Resigned.

"The result was that Russell Alger, then secretary of war, resigned the day after the story was published. We got a new censor in the Philippines; there was an immediate move to reinforce the troops, and the famous Krag-Jorgensen rifle was shipped out eventually to help 'civilize 'em,' as the army song had it."

Even the terrain that was important in the Spanish-American war is once more in the news, Mr. McCutcheon said. The Rio Grande, a river that cost some American lives in the earlier war, is a natural barrier to Japanese progress from the northern landing points toward Manila. The river probably will enable American forces today to make a stand at Calumpit, where there were battles in 1898, he said.

First in Courthouse

Emblazoned in letters three and one-half inches high, the words "Remember Pearl Harbor" were displayed across the six foot panel over the door of United States Attorney J. Albert Woll's office yesterday. The sign is the first such permanent display in the United States courthouse, of the words which have become the rallying cry of the war.

JAPANESE DICKER WITH RUSSIANS ON FISHERIES TREATY

TOKIO, Dec. 29 [Official broadcast recorded by Associated Press].—Masayuki Tani, head of the government information bureau, told a press conference today that negotiations between Japan and Russia concerning extension of their fisheries agreement, which expires Dec. 31, were continuing at Kuibyshev.

Tani asserted that Japan's relations with Russia continued to be perfectly friendly and that Japan was quite satisfied with them. Relations with Moscow were regulated by the terms of the Japanese-Russia neutrality pact signed at Moscow last April 13, he said.

[The fisheries agreement, dating back to 1905, gives Japan the right to fish in certain Russian coastal waters. Authorities on the far east have expressed the belief that the question of its renewal might provide a test of Russia's stand in regard to the Pacific war.]

3,000 AMERICANS IN MANILA FACE SAFETY PROBLEM

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

MANILA, P. I., Dec. 29.—A vital problem facing the American authorities in Manila is the disposal of the estimated 3,000 to 4,000 Manila Americans in a way that will provide maximum safety for them in the event of the occupation of the open city by the Japanese.

The Japanese suggestion that Filipino and American non-combatants take refuge in two points near the city, Antipoli and Montalban, offers obvious difficulty. Both points are small places, Montalban being an overnight resort town while Antipoli likewise is a small place where one of the popular Catholic shrines is located. Both places are already crowded with refugees under the care of the Red Cross.

Nevertheless, the suggestion is being given serious consideration by the American authorities and community leaders.

CHURCHILL SAYS CREST IN VICTORY ROAD IS REACHED

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 29.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told Canada's war cabinet today that a hard struggle was ahead for Britain, the United States and their allies but that "the crest in the road" had been reached and it was possible to see the destination clearly.

Sounding the same theme as in his speech to the United States congress, he declared a belief that the salvation of the world after the war lay in some organization which would have as its core the English speaking peoples.

Excited Canadians had given the cigar puffing wartime prime minister of Britain a resounding reception upon his arrival in the Canadian capital today.

Cries of "good old Winnie!" acclaimed the prime minister as he descended from the special train which had left Washington, D. C., yesterday.

It was reported Churchill is scheduled to return to Washington this week to resume conversations with President Roosevelt on the war program.

Guarded by Soldiers.

Extraordinary precautions had been taken on the trip here from the American capital. American and Canadian soldiers guarded every crossroad. Newspaper men aboard the train were not permitted to file stories lest the route of the expedition become known.

A roar went up from the crowd at the Union station here when Churchill appeared on the rear platform of his train. With his flair for the picturesque, he doffed his black hat and held up his stubby fingers in the "V" for victory signal.

Pushes Thru Crowd.

A limousine was waiting, but Churchill first walked into a cleared space and waved to the crowd. Hundreds of spectators swept thru police lines to crowd around him. He succeeded in scrambling to his car, however, after he had good naturedly shoved aside a number of onlookers.

Even the red coated royal Canadian mounted police lost their usual composure and joined in the enthusiastic shouting for Churchill. Amid the enthusiasm he was sworn in as a member of the Canadian privy council, an honor sometimes conferred on notable visitors.

Tomorrow afternoon Churchill will address the Canadian parliament. He is expected to appeal for even greater Canadian war effort. A Churchill spokesman said far-reaching decisions can be taken once the prime minister had completed his talks with Canadians on their war rôle.

Following his address the prime minister will hold an off the record meeting with Canadian newspaper editors and publishers. "He does not want to be asked questions," the announcement said.

REPORT CANADA MARKS BRITAIN'S WAR DEBT PAID

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 29 [Special].—In token of the complete union between Canada and the United Kingdom in their effort to defeat Nazidom it is understood that the Canadian government has decided to cancel the British war debt of approximately $1,500,000,000.

This debt accumulated during the last two years owing to Britain's shortage of Canadian dollars with which to pay for armaments, munitions, and services in Canada.

For some time the debt has been regarded as Canada's share in the armament of Britain, but as the item stood on the nation's books, Canada was not given the credit which was due. Now, it is said, the slate will be wiped clean and all the armaments which that enormous sum represents will be regarded as a gift to Prime Minister Churchill.

80 Canadian War Nurses Take a Peek at New York

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—Eighty Canadian nurses, recruited for foreign service, visited New York today and like other visitors took time to peek at the skyline from the top of the Empire State building. Their crowded social calendar included a luncheon and a theater party. They were the second contingent of an eventual group of 300 going into similar service.

Pacific War Equality Sought; Urges Dominions Get Voice

Dutch Pique

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—Both the Australian and the Netherlands governments have made representations to the United States against the British contention that the war with Japan in the western Pacific is only a sideshow and must be subordinated to the main European conflict.

Dr. A. Loudon.

This was disclosed by authoritative diplomatic sources today as Dr. A. Loudon, minister of the Netherlands, conferred with President Roosevelt, and the Anglo-American war strategy conferences were continued in Washington, notwithstanding the temporary absence of British Prime Minister Winston Churchill in Ottawa.

Equality with Hitler Front.

The Australian and Netherlands governments, it was learned, have insisted that the war against Japan in the Pacific be treated equally with the war against Hitler in Europe in the disposition of available anti-axis forces and supplies.

The Roosevelt administration thus is placed in the delicate, if not embarrassing, position of arbiter between conflicting interests within the British commonwealth of nations and between it and the Dutch empire.

In the war strategy conferences thus far held at the White House, currently the world G. H. Q. of the anti-axis forces, President Roosevelt is understood to have agreed wholeheartedly with the Churchill thesis that the war effort must be directed primarily against Hitler in Europe. According to this view Japan can be disposed of in short order after Hitler is knocked out.

Fear Indefinite War.

In his speech to the senate last Friday Churchill replied to criticism in Great Britain of the British government's failure to provide ample modern equipment for the defenders of Malaya and the East Indies. The materials were needed primarily in Libya, he said. Likewise, he explained, the United States was caught at a disadvantage at various points in the Pacific ocean because of the aid it had given for the defense of the British Isles, for the Libyan campaign, and, above all, for the battle of the Atlantic, upon which, he said, "all depends."

The contention of the Netherlands and Australian governments is that the Japanese must be knocked out before they take Malaya and the East Indies and there obtain the oil and other supplies which would enable them to wage war indefinitely.

WIFE SAW PILOT, SHOT DOWN, GO BACK TO BATTLE

Belleville, N. J., Dec. 29 (AP).—The wife of Lieut. George R. Bickell of Nutley today told how she saw her husband shot down uninjured and take off again in another airplane to fight the Japanese raiders who struck at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7.

Lieut. G. R. Bickell.

Mrs. Bickell said her husband, flight commander of a pursuit squadron, was attacked as his plane and two others were taking off from an auxiliary airfield. The pilots of the other craft were killed and Bickell's plane crashed into the sea 200 yards offshore. The flyer swam ashore and took another plane.

Mrs. Bickell and two other women, one with a baby, were attacked with machine gun bullets and bombs by low flying Japanese planes. They were forced to get out of the automobile and seek refuge in ditches. Reaching Honolulu, Mrs. Bickell joined other emigres on the first ship sailing for the mainland.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Col. Mary Booth, granddaughter of the Salvation Army founder, is carrying on her work among internes in a German concentration camp, where she has been confined since the occupation of Belgium, it was disclosed today in letters to her mother, Mrs. Bramwell Booth.

Australia's Worry

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Sir Keith A. Murdoch, Australian director general of information, in a letter to the London Times complaining that the dominions have not been consulted in deciding the strategy of the war, declared:

"How dangerous this is is proved by the position of 9,000,000 British white people in the southwestern Pacific, who face a great onslaught of Japanese upon all British interests, in the knowledge that the Whitehall government has made decisions which brought about inadequacies and miscalculations."

Warns of Internal Strife.

The effect of the exclusion of Australia from the war councils, and, indeed of an invitation from Whitehall to all dominions to take part in a united decision, may be far reaching, Murdoch said.

"There are elements in the politics in all dominions ready enough to blow upon isolationist embers," he declared. "But why, in any case, should [Prime Minister] Churchill choose to play so dangerous a game?" He suggests that dominion viewpoints would bring strength into the war councils.

Charges Churchill Domination.

Murdoch, in an article cabled to a chain of newspapers in Australia, accused Prime Minister Churchill of "dominating much too greatly those around him," of overriding the service chiefs in making decisions on strategy, and of "being misinformed or judging unwisely" in making appointments, sometimes to important posts.

"None can claim," he said, that the prime minister has "handled the dominions well, or even shown a breadth of sympathy, as he has not included the dominion secretary in the war cabinet."

Warns of Upset.

Murdoch expressed the belief that "should we be swept out of Singapore, the government will change. I believe in any case some change should be forced by the dominions or initiated in Britain by Churchill with dominion knowledge."

He urged that "Australia should request immediate entrance into the war cabinet and a place for her experts on the council of defense," and suggested S. M. Bruce, Australian high commissioner to London since 1933, Sir Earl Page, Australian minister of commerce, and senior Australian officers as "the best possible choice."

Asks Hearing for Dominions.

The Times, in commenting on Australian demands that war in the Pacific take precedence over war with European members of the axis, said:

"Geography makes it natural that Australia should take this view, just as it is natural that the people of this island should regard Germany as the more immediately dangerous enemy."

The Times contended that altho the dominions are not consulted, the "fault does not lie entirely with this country" as plans "for the fullest possible collaboration . . . must be multilateral." It expressed hope, however, that as a result of the Washington conferences, "Australia will be included to the fullest possible degree in the allied war councils."

Hails British Tie.

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 30, Tuesday (AP).—Former Prime Minister Robert Menzies said today that Prime Minister John Curtin is making a grave blunder if he thinks the ties between Australia and Great Britain are merely traditional.

Commenting on a statement by Curtin that Australia is dependent on the United States, Menzies said, "If the people of the United Kingdom were our only colleagues in the war, we would fight by their side to the end. The ties between Australia and Britain are real and indissoluble."

Begin Plane Expansion.

CANBERRA, Australia, Dec. 29 (AP). The Australian war cabinet is completing a plan for a tremendous expansion of the commonwealth's aircraft production effort which will revolutionize the aircraft industry, it was announced here today.

The plan is expected to take final shape in a war cabinet session tomorrow. It calls for consolidation of the operations of all aircraft producing agencies, including the Commonwealth Aircraft corporation and the Aircraft Production commission.

Premier John Curtin declared he was determined that Australia should merit the powerful assistance of her friends in the Pacific by making a powerful effort to help herself.

HENRY J. POPE TO HEAD STATE TIRE RATIONING

Courtney Plans Means to Combat Thefts.

Henry J. Pope Jr. of Glencoe, formerly associated with a hosiery concern and prominent in the fight on vote frauds during the last general election, last night accepted the position of Illinois state administrator of the new tire and tube rationing plan. He announced that he would outline his plans for the rationing to start Jan. 5 at a meeting this morning in his office at 120 South La Salle street. Other developments of the day:

1. State's Attorney Courtney and Sergt. John Kelly of the stolen automobile division made plans to combat the expected increase in automobile tire larcenies. They warned automobile owners and tire dealers they must know serial numbers of tires to make identification possible.

2. Tire rationing officials from eight states, meeting in the Civic Opera house with John C. Weigel, regional administrator for the Office of Price Administration, were told that the government might seize tires which were hoarded by automobile and truck operators before the freezing order Dec. 11. He also said that any one falsifying application for a new tire could be prosecuted under federal statutes. Members of local tire rationing boards will be sworn in as federal agents.

3. Harvey S. Firestone Jr., president of the tire and rubber company bearing his name, asserted in a radio address that there are 300 million wild rubber trees in the Amazon River valley in South America. These, he said, might be tapped to relieve the war shortage of rubber in the United States.

Measures to Solve Problem.

Spokesmen for tire companies in Akron held possible solution for the nation's tire shortage lay in the following five points:

1. Increased retreading and recapping of automobile tires. It was pointed out that the tire worn smooth, usually thrown away, may have at least a third more use in it.

2. Collection of scrap rubber and enlargement of reclaiming facilities. It was estimated that there are one million pounds of scrap rubber which could be collected and reused.

3. Increased use of synthetic rubber. Of 760,000 to 800,000 long tons of rubber used in 1941, about 1.6 per cent or 12,000 tons were synthetic. This is expected to increase to 75,000 to 80,000 tons by the end of 1942.

4. Increased commercial extraction of rubber from the guayule plant found in Mexico and southwestern United States. This plant is expected at present rate to yield 37,000 tons of rubber from 45,000 acres of plants within the next four years. The main drawback is that the entire plant is destroyed in obtaining the rubber.

5. Development of natural rubber in the western hemisphere.

Experiments Under Way.

Some experimental work is now being done in extracting rubber from the goldenrod and milkweed. The work on the goldenrod was started by Thomas Edison and has been carried on since his death.

While the milkweed's rubber content is low, and rubber extracted has been found brittle at low temperatures and watery at high, the work is considered valuable because the milkweed is a perennial and is present in great quantities in the United States.

During the last war the Germans tried a metal wheel with coiled springs inside. Observers said that this contraption roused the country side, shook to pieces the vehicle on which it was used, and wore out quickly.

Solid tires, some 35 per cent rubber and the rest synthetic materials, were found to be fairly serviceable if the weight of the vehicle was not allowed to rest on them for a great length of time. When this happened the solid took a permanent set and left a flat place in the tire. The same arrangement tried in a pnuematic tire was said to result in frequent blow outs when heated.

Other Suggestions Made.

The Germans also employed with some success, bicycles and pleasure automobile tires with wooden treads connected by chains and affixed to a solid wheel. Those who would allow themselves to dream on the subject yesterday mentioned with some hesitancy the following:

Possibility of endless treads on pleasure cars as now employed on tractors and tanks.

Tracks for pleasure cars running to accepted destinations.

Put governors on automobiles, slowing them to 10 or 15 miles an hour, go back to the wooden wheel and steel tire, and allow good roads to help out.

Possibilty of leather or cotton fabric casings.

Wayne Dinsmore, executive secretary of the Horse and Mule association, said the tire ban is expected to cause an increase in the use of horses in the city for the first time in 20 years. He pointed out that horses were useful in many lines of business—dairies, meat packing companies, and peddlers.

FIRST TIRE THIEF SINCE RATIONING ORDER IS SEIZED

Junior Jackson, 25 years old, colored, of 5958 South Michigan avenue, believed to be the first tire thief seized since rationing was ordered, was charged yesterday with the larceny of seven tires.

Also arrested by Sergt. John Kelly of the stolen automobile division, were Lee B. Lamkins, a barber at 2345 Lake street, also colored, and Mitchell Ptazak, 23 years old, 1515 Wicker Park avenue. Altho they denied the charge, they were named by Jackson as receiver of the stolen tires.

Four of the tires, which Jackson confessed stealing, were recovered in the rear of the Lake street address. Jackson, who worked as a watchman at the Arrow Motor Sales company, 1807 Chicago avenue, admitted, police said, that he took the tires valued at $75 and a radio worth $65. Four complaints of tire thefts were reported yesterday, according to Capt. George Teeling of the stolen auto detail.

JAMES J. DOODY NAMED COUNTY DEFENSE LEADER

James J. Doody, former superintendent of prison industries, was named county coördinator of civilian defense activity yesterday by Clayton F. Smith, chairman of the Cook County Defense council. The county defense council will have jurisdiction over the 500 square miles of the county outside the 93 villages, towns and cities.

Problems discussed at the council meeting yesterday concerned the protection of water supplies and organization of fire fighting services. In a meeting yesterday in the office of United States Marshal William H. McDonnell, all deputy marshals were given instruction in protecting records and safe handling of prisoners.

SOVIET CHUTISTS HARASS REAR OF RETREATING FOE

Blow Up 29 Bridges; Slay 400 German Soldiers.

MOSCOW, Dec. 29 (AP).—The army organ Red Star tonight reported that soviet parachutists which landed in the rear of retreating German troops blew up 29 bridges, killed 400 German officers and men, burned quantities of equipment and then rejoined their detachments.

The westward rolling soviet offensive smashed German attempts to hold new defense lines on several sectors of the front and reoccupied a number of additional villages, the official communique announced.

"The enemy is suffering heavy losses," the soviet communique said.

In a new burst of aerial activity, 26 German planes were destroyed yesterday against six Russian losses.

Tula Freed of Peril.

War reports broadcast on the radio declared Moscow and Tula, 100 miles to the south, have now been freed of immediate danger as a result of crushing defeats administered to the Germans on both Moscow flanks.

The Nazi wedge at Mozhaisk, 57 miles west of the capital, is now threatened as a result of soviet gains to the north and south, it was said. The reports said the Germans were beginning to withdraw from areas around Mozhaisk and Maloyaroslavets, 65 miles southwest of Moscow.

On the Kalinin front, 95 miles northwest of Moscow, a new Russian success was said to have resulted in capture of headquarters of a German infantry regiment. The German troops, surprised at night, rushed into the snow wearing only their nightclothes and were mowed down.

Italians Show Suffering.

An Izvestia correspondent said a picked German division, "crammed with officers" made desperate counterattacks on the Leningrad front but was repulsed without gaining a yard and lost 1,500 men.

The communist party newspaper Pravda reported from the far southern front that Italian divisions encountered there put up a sorry appearance, altho one division had offered brave resistance before being ejected from one position.

Large groups of Italians, led by their own officers, often surrender in units, with their weapons in working order, the paper said. Many of them are without overcoats to protect them from the blizzards, and have wound themselves in blankets and shawls.

Hit Russian Battleship.

BERLIN, Dec. 29 [Official broadcast recorded by Associated Press].—The German high command today announced the damaging of a Russian battleship at Leningrad and reported the sinking of one soviet troopship and damage to six others in the Black sea.

The action against the Russian transports took place in Kerch strait, between the Crimean peninsula and the Caucasus, and was carried out by German bombing planes.

[Recurring references in recent German communiques to attacks on Russian shipping in Kerch strait have led to the supposition that the Russians have been trying to reinforce their troops in the Crimea by water from the Caucasus.]

Fascist Headquarters in Montevideo Are Raided

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 29 (AP).—The home of an Italian consular employé described as headquarters of a secret Fascist party was raided tonight by police and the congressional committee investigating anti-Uruguayan activities. Several persons were arrested. The German Transocean News agency and an Italian construction company also were raided. Documents were seized at all three places.

New York, Dec. 29 [Special].—Miss Anna Carroll Drum, daughter of Lieut. Gen. and Mrs. Hugh A. Drum, was married at noon today to Lieut. Thomas Holland Johnson Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Holland Johnson of Forest Hills, Long Island, at a military mass in the newly completed army chapel at Governors Island. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John P. Kiniry. A reception was held later at the Officers' club.

Waukegan Votes to Try Parking Meters 6 Months

The Waukegan city council last night voted, 8 to 6, to award a contract for parking meters to the Duncan Meter corporation on a six month trial basis with an option to buy. The contract is expected to be signed today, and the meters will be installed in all principal downtown streets within 45 days. Plans call for a fee of 1 cent for each 12 minutes, or 5 cents an hour.

CALLS ON BRITISH TO LINE UP WITH REDS AFTER WAR

Radio Urges Joint Plan to Police Europe.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 30 [Tuesday].—THE TRIBUNE correspondent listened to a British Broadcasting corporation program called "London calling" a few hours before the return early today of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden from two weeks' of Moscow conferences at which Britain and Russia came to complete agreement on the conduct of the war. The broadcast emphasized the necessity for complete soviet-British collaboration in policing Europe in post-war reorganization.

This broadcast made it clear that certain changes of frontiers may be necessary to prevent the resurgence of armed rivalry among other European states, particularly Germany. The same collaboration with the United States, regarding the domination of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, was urged.

Lineup Approved.

The London Times editorially approved this lineup.

It said: "Collaboration among the United States, soviet Russia, and Great Britain is one sure guarantee that the axis threat to civilization will be repelled and broken. Its continuance after the war will afford the best—perhaps only—hope of rebuilding our civilization of ordered freedom and shared prosperity. . . .

"British foreign policy in the future will be effective insofar as it rests on the firm foundation of collaboration with the United States in the west, and the soviet union in the east, and of regard for the military security and economic interests of these great powers."

"Much to Learn from Reds."

Expressing the hope that Eden's visit to Moscow will smooth the path to British-soviet rapprochement it added:

"There is much we can learn from the great overseas democracies whose traditions have the same roots as our own. There also is much we can learn from soviet Russia, whose traditions are alien to ours, sometimes even repellent, but whose social and economic ideals have already influenced the thought and practice of many countries, and are bound to play a large part in any future reordering of the world."

Russia Hails Parley.

MOSCOW, Dec. 29 (AP).—Izvestia, the government newspaper, today declared there was no doubt the peoples of both Britain and Russia would receive with great satisfaction the announcement that as a result of the visit of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain to the Kremlin the two countries are in agreement on policies of defeating Adolf Hitler and preventing a repetition of German aggression.

Actress Maureen O'Hara gets a kiss from Film Dialog Director Will Price after their marriage yesterday at St. Mary of the Pines convent, Chatawa, Miss.

McComb, Miss., Dec. 29 (AP).—Screen Actress Maureen O'Hara and Film Dialogue Director Will Price, a native of McComb, were married this afternoon at nearby Chatawa. Miss O'Hara, born in Ireland, was "discovered" in London by Charles Laughton. Price worked in "Gone With the Wind." Only members of Price's immediate family attended the ceremony at picturesque St. Mary of the Pines convent.

12 Red Trade Union Chiefs in London for a Parley

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Twelve soviet trade union leaders are in London, it was disclosed today. They will represent Moscow at meetings of the Anglo-soviet trade union committee, established recently when a delegation of British labor leaders went to Moscow.

GRAND TRUNK-CANADIAN NATIONAL

We pledge ourselves to this cause

A Statement by
The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company

We make this pledge publicly to our national government and to the people of the United States:

That we will cooperate unhesitatingly in every effort of authorized government agencies to prevent unwarranted rises in prices of foods.

That we will continue our efforts to reduce the spread between prices paid to the grower and prices charged to the consumers.

That to this end we will continue to do everything in our power to assist the farmers and growers of America in the orderly marketing of their products at the fairest possible prices to them.

That we will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers, or consumers, will cause higher prices.

That we will endeavor to continue to pay our employees the highest wages and to give them the best working conditions in the grocery business generally.

That we will make every effort to continue to sell food at retail at the lowest gross margin of profit in the history of the retail grocery business.

Today we are providing food for our customers at the lowest gross profit rate in the history of the retail grocery business. This means that we have achieved efficiencies in the distribution of food never before attained. More of your food dollar goes for food and less for overhead expenses than ever before. No other great retail business in the United States in any field is operated with such a low cost of distribution.

No one in the food business can control the wholesale price of food. Only the government of the United States has power to do this, and for the protection of our people this power in the government is now a necessary power.

Today, with the nation at war, we believe that no private interest has any rights in conflict with the general public interest.

The armed forces of the United States are today receiving more and better food than ever before in our national history. It is equally important that all of our people working and living behind the lines, men, women and children, shall be better fed and better nourished than ever before in our national history.

NOOSE TIGHTENED AROUND GERMANS TRAPPED IN LIBYA

British Smash Six Tanks; Renew Air Attacks.

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 29 (AP).—British mobile columns drawing a noose around the main axis forces at Agedabia, 80 miles south of Bengazi, were reported officially tonight to have smashed six tanks in a sharp prelude to the big conclusive battle of Cirenaica.

Heavy rains turned the desert into vast mud fields and made ground operations difficult, but the RAF still sprayed explosives on all the tattered German and Italian columns which had escaped into Tripolitania by way of the Bengazi-Agedabia coastal road.

Even if the Germans and Italians escaped British encirclement at Agedabia it was believed they would run into considerable trouble to the west in Tripolitania. British patrols have been reported 150 miles inside that western half of Libya.

Main Remnants of Nazis.

Official dispatches established that the axis concentration in the Agedabia region is not a mere covering force, but embodies the main remnants of Gen. Erwin Rommel's African tank corps along with Italian contingents.

British columns closing in on this area from the south ran into stubborn opposition, but the army communique said the Germans and Italians retreated to the west after losing six tanks.

"Northeast of Agedabia," the bulletin added, "our artillery successfully engaged an enemy motor transport column."

The RAF was active all the way to Tripoli, 400 miles to the west of the Cirenaican border, "damaging or destroying a considerable number of vehicles."

British planes and "Free French" also rained bombs on a small pocket of axis troops still holding out at Bardia far to the rear of the imperial columns which last week captured Bengazi.

60 Attacks on Malta.

LONDON, Dec. 29 (AP).—The British air ministry announced tonight that the Mediterranean island fortress of Malta underwent 60 axis air attacks during Christmas week and said the defenders destroyed seven raiders and severely damaged 15 others.

Claim 58 Vehicles Destroyed.

BERLIN, Dec. 29 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—The German high command announced today that axis forces in Libya had destroyed 58 British tanks and other motor vehicles in a fierce counterattack in the Agedabia zone.

German bombing planes and submarines, smashing at British ships along the North African coast, were credited with damaging a destroyer off Tobruk, Libya, and two merchant ships and sinking two transports aggregating 9,000 tons off Matruh, Egypt.

Italians Tell of Attacks.

ROME, Dec. 29 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—Italian torpedo-carrying planes scored hits with aerial torpedoes on a heavy British cruiser and two torpedo boats in the eastern Mediterranean during a raid on a naval formation, the Italian high command reported today.

EINSTEIN QUITS PACIFISM FOR HIT AXIS 'HARD'

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 29 (AP).—Dr. Albert Einstein, renowned German Jewish refugee scientist and once a militant pacifist, said tonight the democracies eventually would win over the totalitarian powers but that "we must strike hard and leave the breaking to the other sides."

"I believe it [the war] will come out well for the democracies, but it will be costly and we'll need big sacrifices," declared Einstein, now an American citizen, before he addressed the 43d annual meeting of the American Physical society.

"In the 20s, when no dictatorships existed, I advocated that refusing [to war] would mean making war improper," he said.

"As soon as conditions came about that in certain states there was so much coercion that this method could not be employed, I felt that it would weaken the less aggressive nations in the face of the more aggressive."

Einstein said pacifists criticized his change of opinion.

RELIEF AGENCIES VOTED FUNDS TO MEET ALL NEEDS

For the first time since 1936, Illinois relief agencies are to be allocated funds on a basis of 100 per cent of their needs. The Illinois Public Aid commission yesterday at a monthly board meeting certified 100 per cent allocations for January. In December funds were made available on a 93 per cent basis of need.

The January total to be spent in the state will be $2,473,186. Chicago agencies will receive $1,961,257.

Decreases in the state relief rolls have made the total allocations possible, the commission announced. The decreases result from increased employment, according to Russell L. Peters, executive secretary of the commission. Chicago relief administration figures show a total of 52,561 home relief cases to be cared for in January, a decrease of 530 from the December total.

THE QUESTION.

What is the most important event recorded in American history?

WHERE ASKED.

In the loop streets.

THE ANSWERS.

Foster Fox, Ottawa, a glazer—The signing of the Declaration of Independence was the greatest event in American history. It was the first blow struck in the world for freedom and natural rights. It was an event of great courage and great consequence. If our forefathers had been afraid to sign the Declaration, there would be no great united nation as we are today.

M. L. Gilbert, Ottawa, hatchery owner—When Abraham Lincoln declared the Emancipation Proclamation and freed the slaves, he performed the greatest event in American history. With the Emancipation, he justified our democracy and gave to all races the equal rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness which the American people must preserve today.

Mrs. Robert Rigby, 2632 North Monitor street, housewife—The drawing up of the Constitution was the greatest event in American history. It signifies everything we want, we have and hope to keep, freedom of speech, of religion, and of assembly. It is the backbone of the nation.

Dale May, 2620 North Shore avenue, high school student — I think the invention of the airplane by Wilbur and Orville Wright in 1903 is the greatest thing in history. The airplane changed the map of the world and has brought continents together. It has been one of the best weapons in our good neighbor policy and now in wartime will be one of our greatest defenses.

Miss Minnie C. Vietti, Virden, teacher — The signing of the Declaration of Independence gave the country what it wanted in 1776 and what it still wants today, ultimate freedom. It is a document we should all know by heart but unfortunately do not.

Earl Lueder, 6167 North Winchester avenue, bank clerk — The Bill of Rights was the most important event in history. More and more as time goes on and especially with the events happening today, people begin to realize what the Bill of Rights means to them. It is our insurance policy of freedom.

DEFEAT ROMMEL NOW, CALLED KEY TO LIBYAN DRIVE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 30 [Tuesday].—What really is going on in Libya has been a recurring subject since the British spokesman in Cairo, two days after the Libyan offensive began, announced that more than half the axis forces under Gen. Erwin Rommel had been smashed.

Maj. Gen. P. J. Mackesy, analyzing the situation in today's Telegraph, declared the most important problem now is whether the British can force Rommel to "fight it out" or whether he will be able to retreat with the remainder of his armored and mechanized forces toward Sirte and Tripoli, contacting reënforcements and supply bases, and lengthening British lines of communication while shortening his own. The British are unable to make much use of Bengazi, because of the devastation, and must depend on Tobruk.

A few weeks ago, Mackesy recalled, it appeared Rommel was trapped, but he escaped. "Our best hope of speedy, decisive success lies in holding and defeating him now."

DECISIONS MADE IN 10 OF 20 ENEMY ALIEN HEARINGS

The three man board hearing the cases of enemy aliens arrested in the Chicago district, has made recommendations in 10 of the cases, J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, said yesterday. In all, the board has considered 20 cases. The board is empowered to recommend outright release, release on parole, or continued internment. The recommendations will be sent for final decision to the attorney general in Washington, D. C. Members of the Chicago board are Leon Green, dean of Northwestern university law school; John C. Fitzgerald, dean of Loyola university law school, and Jacob Grossman, lawyer.

TRIP TO HOSPITAL GOOD LUCK FOR 93 BRITISH TROOPS

Set Free When Comrades Recapture Bengazi.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES AT BENGAZI, Libya, Dec. 26 [Delayed].—Ninety-three British officers and soldiers are back with their own people. They were left behind in a Bengazi hospital when the British recaptured the city from the axis.

A major of a South African regiment today told me of his joy at his release. He was a commandant among prisoners of war in the axis prison camp here, until he became ill and was hospitalized.

His story was interrupted long enough by a South African radio broadcasting unit to record a spoken holiday message from him to his family, which will be among the hundreds being broadcast to and from South Africa. He grinned shyly and said, "That is the first they have heard from me. We were reported dead."

Overrun by Nazi Tanks.

The major and a brigadier general were among the soldiers captured at Rezegh on Nov. 26 in bitter fighting when the German tanks overran the South African 5th infantry brigade.

Three battalions were grouped around a little hill with the artillery posted behind them, but they hadn't had time to get into position when the Germans suddenly launched an attack with 40 or more medium tanks.

The South Africans stood their ground and fought with the gunners firing over open sights as fast as the guns could work.

From noon until 6 p. m. they kept up the fight, but the tanks charged back and forth thru the camp, knocked out guns, and finally captured nearly all the survivors.

Pursued to Their Trenches.

One sergeant-major, who got away with 12 men, said they lay for hours in small trenches unable to fight the Germans' tanks because they were armed only with rifles and light machine guns. Some men tried to run for it at dusk, he said, but the Germans got them.

Whenever the Germans knew a man was in a certain trench, they charged it with a tank, and, because their guns were unable to get at him, swerved suddenly just beside it, so that the trench was crushed in on top of him, burying him alive.

British prisoners were not the only people uncomfortable in Bengazi. For months on end, the British have been bombing Bengazi over and over, hammering at the port and the warehouses and shipping.

There is no doubt that they did a thoro job. I saw nine sunken vessels, and there are probably more. Concrete moles are cracked and crumbled, and trucks lie about drunkenly.

The buildings along the water front are smashed into heaps of broken stone and plaster. In fact, if there is an undamaged building anywhere in Bengazi I haven't been able to find it, and scarcely an unbroken window pane.

Water and light are cut off. Every car that would run was taken away. What the bombs didn't damage the Arabs did before the British arrived. Bengazi is the essence of desolation.

Last year, when the British took Bengazi, there were pleasant hotels, attractive shops, and a handsome theater. Now, all these are in ruins.

Gets $200 a Month

MARIAN MARSH.

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 29 [Special].—Pending trial of her suit for divorce from Albert Scott, mining promoter, Marian Marsh, blonde film actress, will receive $200 monthly in temporary support, Superior Court Judge Dudley S. Valentine ruled today. Miss Marsh, who originally sought $445 a month, testified that she has no home and has been forced to live with her sister and in friends' homes since separating from Scott three weeks ago. Scott told Judge Valentine he was "a man of considerable means" when he married Miss Marsh in 1938, but that since then he has had to liquidate his assets to support his wife.

HITLER BOMBERS RAID NORTHEAST COAST OF BRITAIN

LONDON, Dec. 29 (AP).—On this first anniversary of the great fireblitz on London German raiders pummeled the northeast coast tonight, but steered clear of London. It was the heaviest assault in weeks and there were casualties in one town. Other raiders were over the industrial Midlands.

The British air force dealt heavy blows on western Germany and Nazi held continental bases Sunday night. The great German naval ports of Wilhelmshaven and Emden; the huge rubber substitute producing works at Huls; Duesseldorf in the Ruhr; the industrial Rhineland, docks at Dunkirk, Boulogne, and Brest; rail yards at Bethune, France, and airdromes in the Netherlands were blasted by the RAF. [The Germans claimed nine British planes were shot down.]

Results of the British land, sea, and air raid Saturday on Vaagso and Maaloy Islands off the Norwegian coast, the British claimed, were eight ships totaling 15,650 tons sunk, and oil tanks, ammunition stores, and an industrial plant destroyed; the entire garrison of Maaloy Island killed or captured; a total of 120 Nazi casualties and 95 prisoners taken.

California Churches Drop Use of German Language

Orange, Cal., Dec. 29 (AP).—The two largest Lutheran churches in southern California have discontinued use of the German language, and all other Lutheran churches in Orange county have taken similar action. The Rev. A. G. Webbeking, pastor of the Emanuel Lutheran church, and the Rev. W. C. Gesch, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, jointly announced the action for their churches.

BERLIN ENVOY CALLED HOME BY ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 29 (AP).—Argentina recalled her ambassador to Germany today to "give an account of some phases of his mission," in a surprise move which raised the question of a possible change in the status of Argentine-German relations.

The government spokesman who announced that Ambassador Ricardo Olivera had been called home did not say whether a change in the diplomatic status quo was imminent or whether Baron Edmund von Thermann, German ambassador to Buenos Aires, might be withdrawn. Von Thermann has been the target of congressional condemnation since he was linked with pro-Nazi subversive activities in Argentina.

It was considered significant that Olivera was called home on the eve of a cabinet session which is expected to fix the nation's position at the Pan-American conference of foreign ministers in Rio de Janeiro in mid-January.

THE RUBBER SITUATION

And How It Affects Tires For Your Car

With the declaration of war between the United States and the axis powers, the long-threatened danger of our principal sources of rubber supply has become an unpleasant reality. From Malaya and the Netherlands East Indies comes 75 per cent of the world's rubber and these two countries are now under attack by our enemies. Today, Japanese troops are attempting to penetrate southward through the jungles of Malaya and to land by parachute on the island of Sumatra in a desperate effort to occupy these vital rubber producing areas and thereby slow the wheels of American industry.

Rubber in Modern Warfare.

Rubber is indispensable in modern warfare. Airplanes and scout cars, tanks and trucks, barrage balloons and gas masks are only a few of the many essential war materials that require rubber.

The Reserve Supply of Rubber.

Keenly aware of this strategic importance of rubber and anticipating the day when the United States might be cut off from the far east, our government, in co-operation with the rubber industry, began more than two years ago to build up a reserve supply. After Pearl Harbor it became necessary to take drastic steps to protect this precious store of rubber, and on December 11 our government issued an order prohibiting the sale of tires and tubes to any one not having a priority rating of A-3 or better. These temporary restrictions will end on January 5, and they will be superseded by new regulations which are now being formulated.

How long such restrictions will remain in force will depend upon the course of future events. Naturally, when our allied forces are victorious in the far east, shipments of rubber to the United States will be resumed. But in the meantime steps are being taken to relieve the present situation.

Facts About Synthetic Rubber.

The first of these is the expansion of facilities for the manufacture of synthetic rubber. There are a number of large plants now under construction, and the one for which we are responsible will be ready for production in the first part of 1942. Nearly ten years ago, our organization began experimenting with various types of synthetic rubber, and in May, 1933, we produced the first synthetic rubber tires ever manufactured for Uncle Sam's armed forces. As more synthetic rubber became available, we consistently increased our production of synthetic rubber tires. The most important elements needed for the manufacture of synthetic rubber are butadiene and styrene, both by-products of petroleum, which commodity the United States is fortunate in having available within its borders in unlimited quantities.

Brazilian Rubber Available.

Another possible emergency source of rubber is the valley of the Amazon river in South America. From that area, 45,000 tons were shipped in 1912 and it has been estimated that perhaps as many as 300,000,000 wild rubber trees exist in this region. These are not being tapped at the present time because the price of rubber is lower than the price which would provide the incentive for the natives to blaze the jungle trails, tap the trees and bring the rubber to market. In addition there is a possibility that some rubber can be obtained from Guayule shrubs, which can be raised in this country and Mexico.

Americans Should Produce Their Own Rubber.

In this critical hour, when rubber assumes a position of prime importance to our national welfare and to our ultimate victory, I cannot help thinking of the statement made by my father more than 20 years ago when he declared that "Americans should produce their own rubber." To him the dependence of this country upon a single, concentrated area for any basic raw material was economically unsound and it was his premonition of difficulties in the future that led to the establishment of the Firestone rubber plantations in Liberia, which are now being worked to the very limit to produce every possible pound of rubber for our country.

How to Make Your Present Tires Last Longer.

Naturally, it is going to take time to develop these additional sources of rubber. In the meantime, it is the patriotic duty of every loyal American to help conserve the present supply by making the tires that are now on his car last longer. You can add as much as 50% to the life of your tires by observing such simple precautions as keeping them inflated to recommended pressure, driving slowly and avoiding quick starts and sudden stops.

Nation-wide System of Factory-Controlled Retread Plants.

For a number of years the Firestone organization has recognized the merit and economy of retreading tires, and as a result, we have built up a nation-wide system of 132 retread plants, strategically located, to provide retreading service for our dealers and stores and their customers. To meet the present emergency, these plants are operating 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. By the process of retreading which we have developed, as much as 80 per cent of the mileage built into the original tread is added to the life of the tire and the quality of workmanship and material is such that we are able to extend our life-time guarantee to every Firestone retread.

New Victory Tire.

Still another step which we took some years ago and which will serve our country well today was the establishment of extensive facilities for reclaiming scrap rubber. Today the Firestone organization has the largest rubber reclaiming capacity in the world and we have the advantage of long experience in developing products made from this material. One of these is a new type of tire made from reclaimed rubber, which will give reasonably satisfactory service when driven at moderate speeds. We have named this product the "Victory Tire," and it is now in production in our factories. We also have in work a new type of tractor tire made from reclaimed rubber to help agriculture continue to play its vitally important part in the war effort.

The Patriotic Duty of Every Car Owner.

In the laboratories of the Firestone factories, our scientists and engineers are working night and day to find ways of using to best advantage the present rubber supply.

Equally important to the successful conservation of rubber is the co-operation of American car owners, whose patriotic duty it is to get the maximum amount of service out of their tires*.

Ever mindful of our responsibilities to our country and to the car owners of America, the Firestone organization is making full use of all of its experience, all of its resources and all of its technical skill to meet the needs of both.

GIVES DEFENSE BONDS TO 87 IN ICE REVUE CAST

Show Producer Is to Pass Them Out at Party.

Arthur M. Wirtz, producer of the Sonja Henie Hollywood Ice Revue now being presented in the Chicago Stadium, yesterday bought gift defense bonds for each of the 87 members of the cast in the Tribune Public service office in Tribune Tower.

Continuing his custom of several years Wirtz will give a party for the cast after the New Year's eve show. This year, instead of the usual knick-knacks, the souvenirs will be defense bonds.

Presents $1,631.25 Check.

William H. Burke, general manager of the show, and Ludolf C. Kassebaum, controler, brought Wirtz' check for $1,631.25 to the public service office. The $18.75 bonds will be redeemable in 10 years at $25.

Public service office sales totals since Christmas eve soared from $5,500 to $10,021.15 with yesterday's transactions. The tower office sold $3,093.75 in bonds and $77.40 in defense stamps, and the office at 1 South Dearborn street took in $1,200 for bonds and $150 for stamps.

Of the more than 200 purchases at these offices the most unusual was that of Karrington M. Lee, of Korean ancestry, who came from China to the United States 20 years ago. Korea is governed by Japan, and Lee's brother has fled before the Japanese penetration of his city of Hangchow in China.

Wants Tokio Bombed.

"I want to buy a $100 defense bond for the first American pilot who bombs Tokio," said Lee, a salesman of linen supplies to restaurants.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, queried about his request, said the plan could not be arranged because each bond must be made out to an individual. The public service office manager explained this to Lee.

"Very well," Lee said, "I will leave the money here, and you can have the bond made out for the pilot when time shows who he is."

He received a Tribune receipt for his $75 and walked out. Lee lives at 3169 Orchard street.

So many persons are buying defense bonds at the two offices that THE TRIBUNE cannot continue to print all their pictures. Pictures of the most interesting ones will be chosen and printed, however.

Reserve bank district figures showed yesterday that sales of defense bonds since Dec. 8 have totaled $39,000,000, or 37 per cent as much as from May 1, when they went on sale, to Dec. 8.

Postmaster Ernest F. Kruetgen announced that the main postoffice and its 61 branches have sold $4,822,290 worth of stamps and bonds since Dec. 8.

OPPOSES SHORT CUTS TO DEGREES IN LAW SCHOOLS

Dr. Harold Shepherd, president of the Association of American Law Schools and professor at Duke university, yesterday expressed opposition to short cuts in granting credits or degrees to law school students because of the war. He spoke at the opening of the association's 39th annual meeting yesterday in the Edgewater Beach hotel. More than 350 law school professors are attending the three day session.

"Our situation," Dr. Shepherd said, "is totally unlike a naval academy or most scientific schools whose students can be put to immediate use in the military service and who can at once utilize their training even tho incomplete. Whatever short cuts we may take in granting credits or degrees will not aid directly the military efficiency of the country, and I am inclined to think that even the supposed indirect aid by bolstering student morale is greatly overestimated."

Dr. Shepherd said the danger from turning out too few graduates is far less than turning out numbers of men poorly prepared.

PUBLIC HEARING ON CITY BUDGET IS SLATED TODAY

Public hearing on the proposed 1942 city budget will be held today in the council chambers in the city hall. The hearing, at which representatives of civic organizations and unions will criticize the proposed budget, is prescribed by law.

The budget for all funds, totals $166,138,734, compared with $163,534,645 appropriated for 1941 expenses. It was presented to the city council by the finance committee on Dec. 22 and action upon it was deferred until the next meeting, Jan. 5.

Among the organizations to be represented at today's hearing are the Civic Federation; Cook County Civic council; North Town Improvement association; Metropolitan Housing council; Painters District council, and the Avalon Park forum.

THE STRAUSSES AND THAT RADIO GO BACK HOME!

Back in 1938 Robert Strauss, who is no relation to Richard, got out of Vienna, where he had been a lawyer, a couple of jumps ahead of Hitler's men. By one means and another, he reached Chicago. He has since taken out his first citizenship papers.

Fortunately, Strauss, tho not of the composer's family, could play some piano. His wife had been a concert violinist. They eked out a precarious living here with their music, including some tavern appearances with an accordian.

Last night he and his wife came, much excited, a radio under his arm, to the Hyde Park police station. They said they understood aliens were supposed to possess no radios nor cameras.

Sergt. Robert Cr.ey told the couple they could go back home to 5210 Cornell avenue with their radio, that west coast orders don't apply here.

10,000 ORDNANCE MEN TO STAY ON JOBS NEW YEAR'S

Workmen at the Elwood and Kankakee ordnance plants, totaling 10,000 will work thru the New Year holiday, making TNT and pouring it into shells and bombs which will be used to blast the Japs. Only 700 or 800 construction workers will take the day off.

One shell loading line has been added to the operations of the Elwood plant since the opening of the Japanese war. Another will be completed soon, Lieut. Col. T. C. Gerber, commanding officer, said yesterday.

It is expected that nearly 8,000 privately owned plants employing approximately one-half million men in the Chicago ordnance district also will operate all day Thursday.

ANIMAL WORLD LETS US IN ON A BIT OF ITS NEWS

Animal world:

Elgin—Mrs. Charles Harms heard kittens crying at her home, 421 North Porter street, and called City Employes Fred Meier and Francis Whitcomb. They climbed 15 feet to the hollow of a tree, where a barking squirrel tried to bar their way. Reaching in they pulled out two tiny kittens, fat and happy. Meier and Whitcomb took them down, found them homes, explained: The kittens must have been crying because they liked the sound of their voices. The squirrel was obviously mothering them. But then they might grow up to eat hickory nuts and develop indigestion, so——.

Elgin—Ruddy, an Irish setter pup, got lonely for some one to talk to at 3 a. m., and pawed the receiver off the hook. The telephone operator asked him what he wanted and he barked at her happily until she sent police to the home of his master, Robert Freeburg, 12, at 321 Vincent place.

Aurora—Homing pigeons four boys were raising to give the air service got hungry. The boys raided a cornfield. Deputy Sheriff Byron Scott arrested them, learned about the pigeons, and sent the boys homing.

COLLEGES GEAR EDUCATION TO WARTIME BASIS

Courses Are Trimmed to Speed Graduation.

New York, Dec. 29 [Special].—Taking a leading rôle in the nation-wide movement to gear education to a wartime basis, many eastern colleges and universities have announced plans to "telescope" four-year courses into a three-year period or less.

The speed-up programs are designed to permit a large percentage of students to obtain degrees before reaching the draft age of 20. Junior colleges, high schools and even elementary schools also may be brought into the program in order to reduce pre-college study by as much as a year.

Student Decrease Shown.

Adoption of a 12 month study basis is expected to cushion the war shock which drained colleges of 20 per cent of peacetime enrollments and strained their finances severely during World war No. 1. Even so, a survey released by the University of Cincinnati shows a decrease of 9 per cent from last year in students at 669 approved institutions.

Harvard, Yale and Princeton have announced jointly that they are revising their programs to a year-around basis under which students may obtain degrees in three years. The Princeton program will go into effect with the opening of the second semester in February.

Brown Has Voluntary Cut.

Brown university today announced a voluntary schedule under which four-year courses can be completed in 2⅔ years. Brown also will admit high ranking high school students who have completed their junior year, becoming the first eastern college to announce such action on recommendation of the American Council on Education.

New York university will place its four major undergraduate divisions on a three-year optional basis with the opening of the February semester.

Representatives of seven New York City colleges with 150,000 students have formed the coördinating committee for intercollegiate defense as a campus agency of the Office of Civilian Defense. It also is to assist the board of higher education in curriculum revisions.

Dartmouth Pares Five Weeks.

Dartmouth, which lost almost two-thirds of its students soon after the United States entered the war in 1917, will cut five weeks off this college year. Most graduate schools also are formulating plans to shorten courses to offset the lower draft age limit. Medical and engineering schools are least affected so far, because of deferments granted to permit completion of training for specialized war jobs.

Even so, eastern medical schools are planning to eliminate summer vacations to cut courses from four years to three to provide more doctors for wartime needs.

Among engineering schools, Columbia already has announced telescoping four years into three. The speedup will graduate 200 seniors in April.

Broad wartime plans for all colleges will be mapped at a special conference called for Jan. 3 and 4 in Baltimore by the National Committee on Education and Defense.

Ray Anderson, 3, in hospital at marine base, Quantico, Va., after being lost 19 hours in the woods. With him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson.

Triangle, Va., Dec. 29 (AP).—Hunting for squirrels with a toy gun gave 3 year old Ray Anderson a cold night in the woods and his kin the harrowing experience of a 19 hour search for the missing tot. The child, son of Edward Anderson, a civilian employé at the Quantico marine base, shouldered his gun yesterday afternoon and went into the woods near the home of his grandfather, Morris Abel, to "shoot" squirrels. A search continuing thru the night ended today when marines found the boy about five miles from his home. He was cold and suffering from exposure, it was said, but was not in a serious condition when taken to a hospital at Quantico.

FOX RIVER TOWN MOURNS FIRST WAR CASUALTY

Batavia, on the Fox river, yesterday mourned its first war casualty. Word was received by Mrs. Frieda Benski of the death in action of Francis Alberovsky 23 years old, son of the late chief of police, Severin Alberovsky. Young Alberovsky recently enlisted for his second hitch in the navy. He was believed killed in Hawaii.

Happier tidings were received by three other families. Frank A. Tooley, head of the Atlas Calculating service, 25 East Jackson boulevard, got a Christmas cable from his son, Lieut. William J. Tooley, in the Philippines.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzgerald, 8008 Ingleside avenue, received a letter mailed Dec. 23 by their son, Harold, a private in the marines. He said it would be "a different story" next time the Japs attack Hawaii.

George Edgar, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edgar, 2713 Gilboa avenue, Zion, wrote that he had been "too busy" to send word earlier. He said he manned a machine gun when the Japs roared over Hawaii "and was with it for 15 days."

24-HOUR SERVICE

180 JOIN ARMY TO SET RECORD FOR SINGLE DAY

Hundreds of young men eager to join the nation's fighting forces yesterday gave recruiting offices in Chicago one of their busiest days since the war began.

Lieut. Col. Edward F. Shaifer, army recruiting chief, reported his office enlisted a total of 180 men between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. This broke all records for the Chicago army station since the war started. The largest previous total of recruits for one day was 133 men on Dec. 16, he said.

In addition to yesterday's large enlistment the army office was forced to turn away at least 300 other men seeking to join. These men will be accepted today and tomorrow.

At the navy recruiting depot in the United States courthouse, 102 men were sworn into service yesterday, according to Lieut. David Goldenson. Five hundred others jammed the office to make initial applications and probably 75 per cent of these will be accepted later in the week.

A total of 115 men were signed by the marine corps recruiting office to set a new daily record since war began. This brings total marine enlistments to 625 since the war declaration.

Coast guard recruiting officers accepted 50 men yesterday, bringing the total coast guard enlistment since war started to more than 200. Of the 50 men, 20 were from Green Bay and Milwaukee.

GIFTS, LETTERS STILL COMING TO 'LONELY' PRIVATE

Private Joseph Dee Everingham of Clearwater, Fla., was still learning about northern hospitality yesterday. Gifts, letters, and wires were pouring into Camp Grant, and Everingham was kept busy trying to find mouths into which to cram perishable foodstuffs.

It all began before Christmas when Everingham sent a letter to THE TRIBUNE'S Voice of the People, suggesting that someone write "the loneliest private this side of the Mississippi."

He got everything from cookies to a dictionary, including a list of wealthy widows from a Lonely Hearts club, and was forced to enlist aid in opening hundreds of letters and dozens of packages. He promised to answer every letter and acknowledge every gift, and said, for quotation: "Wow!"

GEN. E. W. CARTER IN COMMAND OF BADGER BRIGADE

Alexandria, La., Dec. 29 [Special].—Brig. Gen. Ellerbe W. Carter, of Louisville, Ky., arrived at Camp Livingston today and assumed command of the 57th field artillery brigade of the 32nd division, division headquarters announced today. The brigade is composed of three regiments from Wisconsin.

Gen. Carter succeeds Brig. Gen. William S. Wood, of Beloit, Wis., who was relieved of active duty last fall.

Gen. Carter, formerly commander of the 63rd field artillery brigade, is a native of Alabama. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the infantry of the Kentucky national guard on May 13, 1912 and served in the first World war reaching the rank of major. Serving on active duty until May, 1919. Gen. Carter was recommissioned a major in field artillery Nov. 26, 1921, and on March 5, 1923, became brigadier general.

Urge Interns to Seek Military Commissions

Two hundred interns and medical students, members of the Association of Interns and Medical Students, met yesterday in International House at the University of Chicago and adopted a resolution urging all eligible students, interns, and resident physicians to apply as soon as possible for commissions in the army, navy, or marines. Thomas Perry of Harvard university was reëlected president of the group and Wayne Barker of the University of Chicago was named executive vice president.

Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company Announces

A BRAND NEW KIND OF CLOTHES-WASHING SOAP

with a Difference you can Actually See!

SMELLS DIFFERENT! NONE OF THAT STRONG, SOAP-POWDER ODOR!
LOOKS DIFFERENT! ACTUALLY TWICE AS WHITE AS THE LEADING GRANULATED SOAPS!
GETS WHITE CLOTHES WHITER...YET SO MILD IT'S RAYON-SAFE!
Super Suds
WASHING CLOTHES AND DISHES
AT LAST! A NEW 4-PURPOSE SOAP WITH EXTRA-POWER TO GET DEEP DOWN DIRT OUT OF FAMILY WASH...
...YET SO MILD IT'S SAFE FOR ALL YOUR DAINTY RAYONS
...SAFE EVEN FOR WASHABLE SILKS AND WOOLENS!

Amazing New 4-Purpose Super Suds

WASHES UP TO 25% WHITER WITHOUT HARSH CHEMICALS...

so wonderfully Gentle it's RAYON-SAFE!

HERE IS a new conception in granulated soaps—with a difference you can actually see. Not merely a minor new "ingredient" added—not merely a different "name" or "brand."

THE MOMENT YOU OPEN the package you'll see the evidence with your own eyes. For New 4-Purpose Super Suds looks different—smells different—IS different in highly important ways.

INSTANTLY YOU'LL SEE that it's whiter—twice as white as the leading granulated soaps on the market today. And you'll immediately note that it has no strong soap-powder odor.

BUT THE BIG THING about New 4-Purpose Super Suds is the way it achieves extra washing power without HARSH-CHEMICAL ACTION. Gets white clothes dazzling white—yet so gentle it's Rayon-Safe! Safe even for washable silks and woolens.

THIS IS IMPORTANT For it means that there is now one soap—and one soap alone—for EVERYTHING IN YOUR WASH. No need of expensive, "extra" soaps even for dainty underthings.

WHEN FIRST YOU TRY IT for family wash, you'll see shirts, sheets, pillow cases come as much as 25% whiter, cup for cup, than with soap after soap we've tested. And you'll be amazed at the way it soaks out dirt in as little as 8 minutes by the clock—with no tedious scrubbing, no boiling.

WHAT'S MORE—you'll get suds galore with this newest of wash-day soaps. Actually up to 3 times the suds, cup for cup, of 8 of the popular brands we've tested.

SO NO MATTER what soap you've used in the past—no matter if you've used the old SUPER SUDS for years—try this new 4-purpose soap—SUPER SUDS—without delay.

DO THIS and see these amazing things:— (1) White clothes washed up to 25% whiter without harsh chemicals ... (2) Dainty rayons washed safely, a way that Better Fabrics Testing Bureau now officially recommends ... (3) Washable silks and woolens beautifully laundered without costly "extra" soaps ... (4) Dishes washed sparkling with extra speed—and real kindness to hands.

YOUR DEALER has the New 4-Purpose Super Suds in the big blue box now. Switch to it today—and you'll never switch again!

TO WASH WOOLENS, follow Rayon-washing instructions on the Super Suds box, but test for color-fastness in soapy water instead of plain.

NO CHANGE IN THE BIG BLUE BOX—BUT WHAT A DIFFERENCE IN THE SOAP!

GREEN MAY DROP 'EMERGENCY' TO PASS WAR BILLS

Plan Won't Provide for Appropriations.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 29.—Gov. Dwight Green and his house leaders decided at a conference tonight to make at least one last try tomorrow to get important bills in the administration's defense program passed with the 102 votes necessary for immediate enactment, and failing that, to attempt to obtain 77 votes for effectiveness July 1, 1942.

If the Green forces are compelled to take 77 votes by a wall of Democratic opposition which confronts them, they will probably have to abandon two measures they deem vital—one to appropriate $4,600,000 for a tripled state police force, and another for a $3,000,000 defense contingent fund, under the governor's control. This prospect faces them because of the provision that appropriation bills require 102 votes at any time. Emergency bills also require two-thirds vote.

Short Two Votes.

Seventy-five Republicans are expected to be in their seats tomorrow, all but one of the present G. O. P. membership. S. O. Dale of Fairfield is ill and cannot attend. So, assuming full Republican support, which the governor has had thus far in the special session, his side is still two votes short.

Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg, talking to reporters after tonight's conference, said that efforts would be made later tonight to solicit Democratic support for tomorrow's roll call, but the minority ranks have shown only slight signs of splitting to date. Two Democrats—Frank Holten, East St. Louis, and Walter O. Edwards, Danville, did cross over to help the G. O. P. last week and should they do so again tomorrow, 77 votes are in sight.

With 77 votes, the administration could put over a bill to give the health department licensing control of persons handling germ cultures, several similar measures, and in fact, the police increase bill, but the latter, failing to carry an appropriation, would create a problem in finance since to add 650 men without new funds would use up the present police appropriation before the biennium ends July 1, 1943.

Mayor Kelly May Intervene.

Mayor Kelly of Chicago and Police Commissioner James P. Allman are due here in the morning to attend the state-wide gathering of law enforcement officers summoned by the governor to pool their efforts toward citizen protection during the war emergency. It is inevitable that the mayor and the governor will meet at the conference, but whether they will manage a discussion of the tangled affairs of the special defense session could not be forecast.

The apparent hopelessness of the present deadlock was demonstrated today in house debate on the germ culture bill. The roll was not called, but the Republican side seemed no nearer to 102 votes than it was last week when the measure obtained only 76. Further consideration was then postponed.

Debate came forth hot and fierce today after Rep. Arthur W. Sprague [R., LaGrange] asked Rep. Joseph L. Rategan, spokesman for Chicago Democrats, if the Democrats would relax their opposition providing a division of the new jobs were arranged.

Rategan threw up his hands at the query, but Minority Leader William Vicars [D., Pontiac] blasted away at the governor in return.

Hits at Patronage Committee.

"There are 802 new jobs in this bill, which is 200 per cent more than the present personnel of the health department," Vicars told the house. "If Gov. Green wants to abolish politics let him abolish his patronage committee. Let him spend that part of the taxpayer's money on defense bonds. Let him pare off the pay roll some of those 30 personnel officers who have been appointed at the state institutions."

Majority Leader Frederick W. Rennick [R., Buda] the governor's floor leader, tossed at the Democrats a telegram from the surgeon general of the United States, Dr. Thomas Parran, urging that new and more stringent health measures be adopted in Illinois, but his argument was of no avail.

No progress having been made toward obtaining 102 votes necessary for the passage of the germ culture bill, Majority Leader Rennick moved adjournment until tomorrow morning.

Disclaims Press Release.

At the opening of the house session Speaker Schnackenberg arose to disclaim in his name and in those of Representatives Rennick and Reed F. Cutler [R., Lewiston] statements attributed to all three in a press release last Tuesday which quoted them as charging house Democrats with placing party above patriotism in opposing the governor's program.

Oldest Catholic Church in Lynn, Mass., Burns

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 29 (AP).—A $500,000 fire today destroyed St. Mary's church, oldest Catholic church in Lynn. Firemen said the blaze probably started in a storeroom back of the altar. It swept thru the building so rapidly that they were unable to do more than prevent spread of the flames to the adjoining grammar and high schools, chapel, convent, and rectory. Two firemen were injured.

12 Convicts Cut Thru Bars and Escape Texas Prison

Huntsville, Tex., Dec. 29 (AP).—Twelve convicts escaped today from the Wynne prison farm near Huntsville by sawing bars of a large cell and sliding down sheets. One of them, Joseph R. Tucker, was captured later, and bloodhounds and guards took up the trail of the others.

Successor of Dewey as Prosecutor Is Sworn In

New York, Dec. 29 [Special].—Frank S. Hogan, 39, today was sworn in as district attorney for New York county to succeed Thomas E. Dewey. An Independent Democrat, Hogan has been one of Dewey's principal assistants. He first was nominated by Tammany Hall and later by the Republican, American Labor and City Fusion parties for an uncontested "nonpolitical election."

When Dewey was named special rackets prosecutor in 1935, he selected Hogan as a member of his staff. When Dewey became district attorney on January 1, 1938, Hogan was made an assistant district attorney.

50 NURSES VOTE TO STAY ON JOB THO PAY STOPS

Fifty field nurses of the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium, facing discharge Jan. 1 because the institution must cut expenditures, signed pledge cards last night stating they will continue serving the patients as long as possible without pay. A score of nurses in the tuberculosis department of the Oak Forest infirmary have assured their coöperation in caring for patients on the south side.

The nurses met in the Berkshire hotel, 15 East Ohio street, and expressed hope the mass layoff will yet be averted. Mayor Kelly has referred the matter to the city council finance committee. C. E. Conway, secretary of the Chicago Associate Nurses of the AFL, said most of the 80 nurses threatened with discharge have been on the pay roll since 1922.

"These nurses are public health servants living up to the finest traditions of the medical profession," Conway said. "They realize the treachery of tuberculosis and it is their life work to defeat it. If it were not for the 45,000 out-patients treated annually in their homes by nurses more sanitariums would have to be built."

WEDLOCK SCORED AS WEAPON OF DRAFT DODGERS

New York, Dec. 29 [Special].—The increasing number of marriages among selective service registrants in an attempt to evade military service, was deplored today by Col. Arthur V. McDermott, director of selective service for New York City.

"Within the last few months the situation has become acute," he said at the first session of a joint meeting of the national conference on family relations and the New York state conference on marriage and the family.

Upon the recently married registrant, treated until recently with sympathy by local boards, now rests, he said, "the burden to establish to the satisfaction of the members of his local board that his marriage was contracted in good faith and in the natural course of human affairs and not for the purpose of evading service."

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Dec. 29 (AP).—Mexico canceled the commercial fishing licenses of all Japanese on the Pacific coast today and ordered the military there to watch the jobless fishermen carefully.

Quake in Oregon Smashes Windows and Jars Dishes

Portland, Ore., Dec. 29 (AP).—A brief earthquake broke windows and shook the entire city this morning. A display window in a downtown store was shattered by the tremor, which lasted only a few seconds. In various parts of the city residents reported that windows were broken and dishes were rattled.

TEACHERS' GROUP ASKS 75c BOOST IN SCHOOL LEVY

88th Annual Convention Opens in Chicago.

A resolution calling for a 75 cent increase in the school unit tax levy limit without referendum—from $1 to $1.75—was placed before the annual convention of the Illinois Education association in the Morrison hotel yesterday by its finance committee. It was the first time in 31 years that the 500 delegates, each representing 100 state teachers, had met in Chicago.

The tax boost is necessary, finance committeemen said, to insure high educational standards thruout the state. If the resolution is approved by the teachers today, a bill will be drafted for presentation to the state legislature next year.

State Income Tax Urged.

Other resolutions introduced at the 88th annual meeting recommended the following:

1. A graduated state income tax.
2. A law requiring a minimum wage of $100 a month for state teachers. [More than 9,000 rural teachers in Illinois receive less, the committee said.]
3. Legislation providing a minimum school year of nine months.
4. Organization of school districts into larger units of administration, support, and attendance.
5. Legislation providing for the return of all teachers to their former positions at the conclusion of military service.
6. Authorization of any school district to levy a special tax based on referendum, to furnish free textbooks to the pupils of their district.

Oppose State Textbooks.

The general legislation committee opposed the state adoption of textbooks and any further limitation on the total tax rates levied against property, unless and until other adequate and dependable sources of revenue are provided.

The study in the public schools of the "Union Now" plan and other schemes for the creation of a world community after the war is over was urged last night by Willard E. Givens, executive secretary of the National Education association, in an address to the convention.

"By such study," he declared, "the American people may be prepared to take their place at the peace table with some hope of preventing the recurrence of the great tragedies of the past."

Warns of Hardships Ahead.

Orville T. Bright, superintendent of the Flossmoor schools and president of the association, warned the teachers to expect additional hardships during the war. "If necessity dictates that our incomes be reduced and our classes enlarged let us simply pull in our belts a little tighter and resolve that education of the children shall suffer as little as possible," Bright said.

The meeting will continue thru tomorrow.

Luther J. Black of Douglas county was elected president of the County Superintendents' Association of Illinois yesterday. The Illinois Elementary School Principals' association elected as its president Roe M. Wright of Robinson, Crawford county.

GEM THIEF MARS NUPTIAL FETE OF VANDERBILT HEIR

Beverly Hills, Cal., Dec. 29 (AP).—A robber stole two small pieces of jewelry from Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt and her twin sister, Lady Thelma Furness, in the latter's home early today shortly after a wedding reception for Mrs. Vanderbilt's daughter, Gloria, and Pasquale [Pat] Di Cicco.

Detectives said a man, simulating possession of a gun, confronted Mrs. Vanderbilt and Lady Furness, who were alone except for servants, and took a small diamond clip and a piece of V-for-victory costume jewelry. Authorities said value of the jewelry was small. The thief later returned the "V" pin.

Gloria Vanderbilt, 17, with Di Cicco, an actors' agent, whom she married in Santa Barbara yesterday, had left with guests shortly before the robbery.

Granted Larger Allowance.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt Di Cicco, honeymooning with her husband, Pasquale Di Cicco, was awarded additional allowances from her estate today by Surrogate James A. Foley. The surrogate allowed Mrs. Di Cicco $9,000 which is in addition to $9,000 already authorized to pay bills incurred by her in 1941. An additional sum of $8,000 "to pay and discharge extraordinary expenses of setting up a new home and defraying the cost of her wedding," and a $450 a month direct maintenance allowance increase, raising the monthly sum to $1,200.

School Board Will Hold Budget Hearing Jan. 12

The board of education announced yesterday that members will hold a public hearing Jan. 12 on its tentative budget for 1942. In its present form the budget calls for appropriations totaling $72,377,659, an increase of $954,373 over 1941.

LOUISE LITTLE.

Galesburg, Ill., Dec. 29 [Special].—Louise Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harlan Little of Galesburg, was married at the Grace Episcopal church last night to William George Barr, son of State Senator and Mrs. Richard James Barr of Cherry Hill, Joliet.

Miss Little attended Chevy Chase school in Washington and also the University of Wisconsin, where she was a member of the Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Barr attended the Andover academy in Massachusetts and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin.

The young couple plan to live in Cherry Hill, where they have built a new home.

PRETRIAL PLAN TO BE DISCUSSED BY JUDGES TODAY

The Superior court executive committee will meet today with a committee of Circuit court judges to discuss the Circuit court's pretrial conference system of handling law cases, Chief Justice William J. Lindsay of the Superior court, announced.

Presumably, the judges also will discuss the feasability of having only one pretrial judge for both courts. The Circuit court has used the system, sometimes called conciliation, for five years. Under a recent Illinois Supreme court ruling, the Superior court must adopt it by Jan. 5. The purpose of the system is to eliminate unessential issues before a case goes to a judge and jury, and to speed trial of lawsuits.

The judicial advisory committee has urged that both courts use one pretrial judge. Yesterday, it was learned that a similar recommendation was made by the survey committee, headed by Douglas Sutherland. The survey committee is studying county operations with a view to economizing and correcting inefficiencies.

After the joint meeting, Superior judges will meet and decide what action their court will take, Judge Lindsay said.

HISTORIANS TALK ON VITAL WORLD EVENTS OF PAST

56th Annual Session Is Held at Stevens.

A wealth of scholarship and learning was centered in the Stevens hotel yesterday as 1,000 historians gathered for the 56th annual meeting of the American Historical association. Thirteen historical societies are holding joint conferences with the association, attracting delegates from all sections of the United States, Latin America, and Great Britain.

In some of the meeting halls, conference rooms and auditoriums, men of intellectual attainment concerned themselves with the seemingly less vital topics as the world position of Byzantium; the outlook of the Spaniards toward America at the time of Columbus; Whiggism in English politics from 1760 to 1783, and the beginnings of the Republican party in North Carolina.

In other rooms, more contemporary notes were struck. One was at the three-way discussion of "Do the Americas Have a Common History."

Exponent of the affirmative theory was Prof. George M. Brown of the University of Toronto, who asserted the compelling forces of self-interest are drawing the Americas, as in 1914-'18, "to take a stand against the domination of the Atlantic and the seven seas by a hostile system."

Edmundo O'Gorman, national archivist of Mexico, opposed this belief. "The two Americas exist as separate worlds," he said. "They are concrete realities whose changing being is the history which has formed and constituted them."

The relations between the two Americas also was analyzed by Prof. Jorge Basadre of the University of San Marcos, Lima, Peru. Despite the mistakes of the past, he said, the Americas now have one thing in common. "We all belong to a world still in the making and we face in the present dramatic point in the world's history the same enemies, the same challenge, the same destiny."

America can learn from British experiences about wartime price controls, employment, and similar problems, Buford Brandis Jr. of the federal reserve bank, Atlanta, Ga., told a parley on wartime economic controls. Two years after the present war, he said, British production of war materials is running at as high a level as in the fifth year of the first world war.

LO! THE POOR CAR DRIVER! 'S' TURN IS ALL HIS FAULT

Altho the last link in the park district's express drive thru Lincoln park was put into service Dec. 22, motorists northbound from the loop at the rush hour last night still were failing to find the smooth flow of traffic they have been expecting since the opening. It's all the motorists' fault, according to Otto Jelinek, park district traffic engineer.

On Michigan avenue from the bridge to Oak street cars crept forward bumper to bumper. This was because they formerly had eight northbound lanes upon entering the Outer drive at Oak street and now have only six. Southbound cars occupy the two other lanes.

Motorists in the local lanes, driving north in Stockton drive, now come within 150 feet of Diversey parkway and encounter barricades. They are forced to make an "S" turn, retreating southward on Lake Shore drive, then curving north on that same street, and finally entering Diversey westbound.

"Motorists acquire a set of driving habits and keep them when the rules are changed," Jelinek said. "This will all clear up in a week or so." The motorists, concerned more with getting home than with their own habits, were reported to be hoping so.

AUDITOR AT DETROIT ACCUSED IN $17,000 BRIBERY; ASK OUSTER

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 29.—Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson today petitioned Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner to remove Wayne county [Detroit] Auditor Ray D. Schneider from office on charges of misfeasance and malfeasance.

The petition of Ferguson, who is investigating Wayne county government as a one man grand jury, accused Schneider, a Democrat, of receiving $17,000 in bribes from food and insurance dealers and from a hospital in return for county contracts.

Judge Ferguson last week petitioned the governor to remove from the auditors' board Edward H. Williams, also a Democrat, on the same charges.

DEFENDERS IN THE PACIFIC.

The navy department has made public an account of the defense of Wake, compiled from the day to day reports from the island during the 15 days when it was defended by the little force of 385 men against 200 Japanese bombers, clearing the way for the approach of the naval units and transports. These details completely support the opinion that the defense was one of the most brilliant military performances in American history or in any other. The last word from the island was Dec. 22, and it was contained in the laconic message: "The issue is in doubt."

The marines had 12 planes and altho the approach of the enemy was referred to as a surprise attack, four of the 12 were in the air when the Japs came out of a cloud bank in a low glide. Eight were on the ground being serviced and the enemy got thru at the grounded planes and destroyed seven of them. One could be salvaged. The fact that four of the 12 were in the air proves that the marines were on the alert, altho the four could not prevent some 30 enemy bombers from putting over half the defensive air force out of business at the first blow. Apparently the attack was discovered as soon as it could have been, but the losses were unavoidable.

From this point on the story grows in the greatness not only of its heroism but of its effective fighting. The marines knocked out three enemy destroyers, a cruiser, and a submarine. They stood up under continuous pounding when they had only two planes that could fly and when they had only one. How many survivors of this new Alamo remain is, of course, unknown. But it is safe to predict that Wake Island will be imperishable in American military records. It will remain as a monument to the men who fought its battles. The American people can rest assured that their other armed forces will give just such an account of themselves and, altho the beginning of the war has been one of bad news growing worse and altho the immediate future will require patience and endurance, the ultimate victory is not to be questioned.

The treacherous attack at Hawaii, catching an unsuspicious command, put the air force out of commission before it could get off the ground. The destruction of ships then followed. In Manila the question of what happened to the American air force is answered by military authorities who say that the first attacks were on Nichols field, Clark field, and other fields, and the destruction was too great to be repaired. Enough remained for a few daring exploits, such as those of Capt. Colin Kelly and Lieut. Marett in spite of markedly inferior armament, but the Japanese mastery of the air was gained at the start and the invader has been reaping all its advantages ever since. His transports are able to approach the shores and land troops without much molestation.

It is reported that the air losses in Hawaii have been replaced, but it is another problem to repair the damage in the Philippines. If the balance could be turned in favor of the American and Filipino forces deliverance might soon follow. The Japanese supply lines could be cut, reënforcements stopped, and their fleet forced to consult its own safety.

Mr. Roosevelt in the name of the American people has spoken to the Filipinos and their American co-defenders, praising the steadfastness with which they have stood up under attack and fought under disadvantages, and promising them that the United States will get aid to them as rapidly as it can. He also assures them that America will see to it that their independence is not a shattered hope on July 4, 1946, when they would have had the complete freedom which Americans desire for themselves.

Less than a month ago that was a promise which could have been fulfilled by a ceremonious farewell and a withdrawal. Now it may require another feat like Dewey's and it may have to come from the air. However, we can contemplate no other idea than that on the 4th of July, 1946, as set in the previous commitments, the Filipinos will be free.

MINORITY GOVERNMENT AND SNOWSTORMS.

At the last meeting of the city council the committee on streets and alleys introduced an ordinance, approved unanimously by its members, designed to do a bit toward ending the appalling traffic tieups that Chicago suffers every time the city has a heavy snowfall.

The ordinance is, of its sort, a mild measure. A major cause of the traffic tieups is the impossibility of clearing away snow on streets which are lined on both sides by parked automobiles. When the snow falls at night the autos are frequently blocked in and a busy traffic artery becomes a narrow, almost impassable lane for many days. To prevent this the ordinance forbids parking between midnight and 7 a. m. on a small list of heavily traveled streets.

It might have been thought that such a measure would have received the unanimous approval of the council, as a most promising experiment in the field of traffic regulation. But because two or three members of the council, in whose wards the nonparking streets run, raised a hullabaloo, action on the ordinance was deferred. The city at large got another lesson concerning the minority government it seems fated to suffer whenever an attempt is made to improve traffic conditions.

To oblige a minority of his own constituents who have a selfish interest in improper parking regulations, every alderman seems willing to impose hardships on the 98 per cent of the people who live in other wards. These aldermen are also subjecting their own constituents to similar conditions in their own motor trips, 98 per cent of which lie outside their own ward.

There is a good deal of fruitless talk at present about expanding the activities of state and local governments to meet the war emergency. The one real contribution that local governments can make to national defense is to conduct their normal activities efficiently.

Efficient traffic control in Chicago is far more essential to defense than a fantastic organization of air raid wardens. Thousands of Chicago workmen are engaged on defense orders, and thousands more will be put to such work soon. By opposing regulations which will make it possible for those men to get to work after a snowstorm, the aldermen who insist on abusing their privileges to indulge in minority government are sabotaging defense.

TIRES.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson's regulations governing the sale of tires were a notification to the owners of perhaps 25 million automobiles in this country that when present tires are worn out there aren't going to be any replacements.

The announcement was not unexpected. A few days previously Mr. Henderson's office had explained that tho the stock of crude rubber on hand was larger than ever before, the source of 98 per cent of our ordinary imports was threatened by the Japanese and might be cut off at any moment.

"At the normal rate of consumption," the official announcement said, "the total supply of tires now available for civilian use would be exhausted within two months. Very few tires for civilian use will be manufactured in the future. It is apparent, therefore, that only the most critical civilian needs must be supplied and that where the use of tires is not essential to the war program or to the health and welfare of the nation the use must be denied."

That was a reasonably frank statement and was paralleled by an accurate accounting of tire supplies in Chicago. It is to be hoped that as time goes on Mr. Henderson's office will report frequently and in detail on the state of the rubber supply. There is no good reason why the figures should be kept secret. In all probability the Japanese will know them and, if not, the information will be of little advantage to them.

Merely to tell the American people or any other people accustomed to freedom that they can't have something is to invite them to get the forbidden article by one subterfuge or another. It was so with alcohol and it is likely to be so with tires unless the people generally understand exactly why a hardship is being imposed on them and are kept persuaded that the government's order is a reasonable one.

The use of automobiles is much more a part of our daily living, much more a habit, than was drinking before the liquor trade was prohibited. The habit of driving to work and recreation will be a hard one to break. Many Americans have located their homes far from public transportation and will find it difficult to get to work or to school except in the family car. Many factories are situated far from the car lines and can be reached comfortably only in private automobiles. A lot of people are going to be greatly inconvenienced and a lot more are going to be unhappy if they cannot have tires.

Only by holding the facts of a diminishing supply of rubber before the people can bootlegging be kept within bounds. It will be very easy, in the absence of the figures, to be persuaded that the government is just trying to scare the country and that there is no real shortage. People have a way of believing what they want to believe and they will want to believe that the rubber regulations are unnecessary and arbitrary. They will excuse their dealings with bootleggers by saying that Mr. Henderson is a left winger who takes a perverse pleasure in making people do what they don't want to do.

The way to avoid difficulties in administration is to tell the people the truth and keep on telling them the truth.

NEEDLESS GRIEF.

In a single day recently the press associations reported three separate instances of parents who had received official notification that their sons had been killed at Hawaii only to learn later from the sons that they were alive and well. Earlier there were a number of similar incidents, and no doubt others escaped public attention.

This bespeaks the slopplest kind of record keeping in Washington bureaus, particularly those in the navy department, which has had the larger number of casualties to report. It is a kind of sloppiness which is especially repugnant to good newspaper men. Newspapers and press associations handle some sort of casualty list almost every day. Occasions on which they give an erroneous report of a death are rare. If the newspapers, getting their facts in most such instances from unofficial sources, can keep them straight, it is strange that the navy department and the army, which are supposed to have every member of the armed forces ticketed and indexed, cannot avoid imposing this shock of needless grief on parents of sailors and soldiers.

Half of the broken down or draft dodging newspaper men in the country have been commissioned in the navy intelligence service. Those of them who are professionally competent might be taken off the production of press agent releases and assigned to the task of instilling a little accuracy into the casualty notifications.

THE LINCOLNS.

[Indianapolis News.]

Diligent research has enabled Dr. Louis A. Warren of Fort Wayne to deny many of the traditions that have been current relative to Abraham Lincoln and his ancestors. In an address to the Society of Indiana Pioneers, at its yearly dinner in Indianapolis, he asked Hoosiers to remember that Lincoln lived longer in Indiana than he ever lived anywhere else. Indiana has been tardy, he said, in recognizing and emphasizing the influence of the Hoosier environment upon Lincoln's later life and public service.

Evidence collected in all parts of the country by Dr. Warren has enabled him to state that both parents of Abraham Lincoln came from good colonial stock. Thomas Lincoln was not 'the shiftless, ignorant, purposeless individual that many of the biographers of Abraham Lincoln have made him. Dr. Warren said that Thomas Lincoln owned three farms in Kentucky before he came to Indiana; he paid his taxes regularly, took part in public affairs, and is shown by store records to have made adequate provision for his family. The discovery of numerous documents signed by Thomas Lincoln destroys the myth that he could not write.

Another tradition blasted by Dr. Warren deals with the Lincoln habitation in Indiana. It was not a half-faced hunter's camp, as some historians and biographers have contended. Instead there is evidence that Thomas Lincoln built a log cabin as sturdy and commodious as those of his Hoosier neighbors, and that the family underwent no more hardship than did other pioneers of their era. Both Thomas Lincoln and Nancy Hanks descended from forebears who ranked high in the nation's early history and it is Dr. Warren's view that they made an equal contribution to their illustrious son's character.

There will be no night baseball in 1942, as it would be awkward to have a blackout just after the catcher had signaled for the high, hard one.—Omaha World-Herald.

IROQUOIS ANNIVERSARY.

It happened 38 years ago today and shocked the world, but the present generation is hazy about the scene of the tragedy. There is no question that the Linemaster is asked oftener than "Where was the Iroquois theater?" . . . The present Oriental theater occupies the same Randolph street frontage.

* * *

After the fire the theater was abandoned for several years, and the general feeling was that it should never again be used as a place of amusement. But it was finally reopened as Hyde and Behman's, with vaudeville at first, and then with second-rate productions, to sparse attendance. After a year or two of this régime it became the Colonial, under the management of George W. Lederer, a popular figure in Chicago's theatrical life. It gradually regained public favor; "The Merry Widow" had its long run there, and also "Madame Sherry," another prosperous show.

* * *

The show that destroyed 575 members of its audience, mostly women and children [it was the scenery that burned, not the theater] was a fairy tale extravaganza of the English "Christmas pantomime" type called "Mr. Blue Beard." Here is its full "billing" as given on its program:

"Klaw & Erlanger present Mr. Blue Beard, the great spectacular entertainment from Theater Royal, Drury Lane, London, by J. Hickory Wood and Arthur Collins, adapted for the American stage by John J. McNally. The lyrics, unless otherwise indicated, by J. Cheever Goodwin. Music, unless otherwise indicated, by Frederic Solomon."

* * *

The former Annabelle Whitford, known to many Chicagoans of the present as Mrs. Edward J. Buchan, is listed on the program as "Stella, queen of the fairies."

* * *

The Linemaster was in the lobby of the Iroquois half an hour before the fire began; and in it again 15 minutes after the death-blast of flame had swept thru the audience. A description of what he saw, during several hours of prowling about the place as a reporter, seeking an explanation of the mystery, has no place in this column.

OLD MAN TIME TO HIS SON.

Lad, I am glad to be shrived and gone,
And my wearying sojourn done with!
The world needs a mightier brand of brawn
Than mine to receive and run with
Its darkling burden on long roads trending
By ways untried to an unguessed ending.

I have borne as I might a twelvemonth's worst,
And the fierce four seasons' scourging;
I have worn, not laurels but thorns accurst,
And my heart's past further urging.
In fearsome hours strength ages fast,
And I fret for the chime that shall free me at last.

Yet stride you bravely the road I quit,
Nor a jot of your young joy alter—
For the skies above you are victory-lit,
And wings that no winds can halter
Are gathering now their majestic might
To put my foes and the world's to flight!

Aye, spite of the glooms and the dooms of war
That have shattered earth's dreams to sorrow,
Abides what the nations have waited for
In your keeping . . . that proud tomorrow
When, unbelieved of gods and men,
Ineffable peace shall appear again!

A Dog's View of the Holidays.

Choppy says he just adored Christmas. He says that the doorbell was ringing most of the time, and sometimes it was the postman, or the grocery man with elegant-smelling packages, or boys with boxes full of sweet smelling candy. He says the telephone rang, too, but he never pays any attention to the telephone. No one comes in.

Choppy says he received several cards and that next year he is going to have Christmas cards to mail to his friends, such as Willie, 6 year old fox terrier in Peoria, who wrote him such a nice letter. Willie is going to Florida, and why am I not going to Florida, asks Choppy. He says then he could send us to the kennels for the duration, as we did to him when we went to Florida.

There are several dogs in the neighborhood that Choppy says he would like to meet, like Pal, just across the hall, "Butch" who lives one door north, and a fine figure of a dog who just moved in one door south of him. Next Christmas Choppy says he is going to send all of them cards.

Choppy says he is so full of turkey, cookies, candy, and friendly feelings for everybody that he feels as if he ought to have a party. Some day he hopes we get a big house so he can invite all his dog friends, and he wants to know would the Linemaster allow his little spitz to come.

Choppy further says that he is glad Christmas is over because he is completely tuckered out from running back and forth between the front and back doors, receiving packages.

WAKE ISLAND MARINES.

From the halls of Montezuma
To the sandy wastes of Wake,
We can take the best they've got to give
And never ask a break.

And no matter what the odds may be
We'll take 'em in our stride;
And we'll show 'em how to finish things
They never should've tried!

For we like it when the going's tough,
And we can take the raps,
If they just will keep our spirits up
By sending us more Japs!

HOME CARE FOR THE INVALID.

AMONG the millions of cases of illness which occur each year, many will be managed in the home. If I had my way about it, every high school girl would have a short course in nursing. It is not possible for all families to employ an expert assistant. In fact, every indisposition will not call for one. So much information is available that there is no excuse for not making the patient comfortable. Deft attention may spell the difference between a rapid and a tedious recovery.

Long before the day of hospitals, our great grandmothers helped care for the sick. They seemed to possess a knack for doing just the thing the sufferer needed. Today many types of aid are provided. Some communities supply hourly nursing service at a modest fee and, for those who cannot pay, the visiting nursing organizations are a real blessing.

But let us assume that it is necessary to make the best of a situation and that the duties pertaining to the sickroom must be performed by members of the household. In the first place, where shall the bed be located? A small amount of clear floor space should be left on each side. This will facilitate the changing of sheets and easy handling of the victim.

It is well to protect the bed with a square of rubber sheeting. If this is not possible, newspapers will answer. At any rate, the draw strip which lies across the bed must be tucked in tightly so that wrinkling will not ensue. The lower sheet may be changed by turning the patient gently to one side. A roll is started at the free edge until it lies like a long sausage against his back. He is then eased into his former position which will release the bedding which is to be discarded. In accomplishing replacements with fresh linen, the process is reversed.

Great caution must be observed concerning the use of hot water bottles. Those made of rubber are more pliable and more comfortable. Each should be inclosed in a canton flannel sack and the air squeezed out before the stopper is screwed down tightly. Water that is boiling may be quite too hot if contact with the patient's skin is allowed. A burn is anything but a pleasant complication. We must recall that any one who is unconscious may be easily injured in this manner. On the other hand, enough attention should be given to these devices so that the patient will not become chilled should the water cool.

Meals are as important as any single factor. Food will be consumed if it is served in an appetizing manner. We all know that we cannot expect nature to usher in recovery without good edibles which will feed the blood forming organs. Invalidism is a bore and variety in the bill of fare is called for. There is little harm in catering to the patient's taste unless the siege is due to a peptic ulcer or some other digestive disorder which requires a special regimen.

If a soft diet is the order of the day, a generous amount of nutriment may be administered by means of ice cream, custards, cream soups, eggnogs, etc. If large quantities of fluids are desirable, we may resort to weak tea, lemonade, fruit juices, and milk.

All in all, there are scores of useful hints for home nursing which might be detailed, did space allow. A list of practical suggestions will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NO HANGOVER FOR HER.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—In these serious times there is at least one custom which ought to be renounced by every patriotic American. That is the pagan rite of watching in the new year by participating in drinking orgies. This practice, which reflects more nearly the decadence of imperial Rome than the spirit of a vigorous, young democracy, is particularly out of place now, when many thousands of our own soldier boys are fighting for their very lives against an arrogant enemy. Let us, therefore, support our soldiers in their struggle by practicing patriotic self-denial at home. Instead of wasting our money on drinking bouts and expensive entertaining, let us donate this money to the Red Cross.

NOT THE HENS' FAULT.

Chicago, Dec. 24.—In all of the nice weather right up to Christmas, barnyard fowls have been scratching around in soft unfrozen earth and enjoying life, incidentally producing an unusual number of eggs for this time of year, which should lower the price. But the financial columns say that the government has resumed buying eggs for the express purpose of keeping the price up.

Retail stores are now selling the best grade of eggs at the outrageous price of 50 cents a dozen. Small chance for the unemployed and those in the lower income brackets to have ham and eggs for breakfast.
A. Vernon.

THE BEST FIGHTING AGE.

Seneca, Ill., Dec. 24.—I agree with the Tribune editorial, "It Is Better to Enlist." I do not agree with Mr. Rees, who says that men under 21 should not go into the army. The right age is 18, when young men are in the formative period. The standard of morals and ethics in the army, navy, and marines will compare favorably with similar groups in civil life. Ethics, did you say, Mr. Rees? How about the ethics of the marines on Wake Isle?
Cornelius Knutson,
Ex-soldier, ex-marine.

OPPOSES M. T. S. STAFF CUT.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—With pleasure I read your editorial, "Penny Wise and Pound Foolish." There are so many parasites now employed at the city hall that the 80 dismissed there would be only a drop in the bucket. It would be much better to remove twice that many useless pay rollers and give the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium the added money, where it can be put to real use.

OLD GROUCH?

Chicago, Dec. 26.—R. V. Johns complains of receiving, along with his old age pension check, a holiday greeting card from State Auditor Lueder. Mr. Johns says he may be "just an old grouch," but he would like to know what others think about it. Well, brother, you certainly guessed it right the first time. Old Scrooge had nothing on you!

WASH TUB ARISTOCRACY.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—After reading your feature article, "Debutante's Delight," in last Sunday's Graphic section, I could not help but recall the remark of a Chicago woman that Chicago society is a "wash tub" aristocracy. While in the East recently I suggested to a young woman whose family—never in "trade"—has been in American society some 300 years that she would enjoy a social visit to Chicago. She said that she had never been here and never expected to be—at least in a social way.

The remark of the first woman I attributed to the "sour grapes" of a parvenu, the wife of a nouveau riche Chicagoan. The second woman, to the manor born, made no comment of that character. Noblesse oblige is as natural to her as is breathing. It is simply unthinkable to vision her as an exhibitionist.

That undemocratic drivel [harmless enough under other than war conditions and communist creating at present] headlined "Debutante's Delight" reeks with commonness.
An Old Stock American.

THE COAST IS UNAFRAID.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—The statement of Lillian Gish, quoted Dec. 23, that "the west coast is in a panic," is entirely without foundation.

I live in Santa Barbara, I have recently been in Los Angeles, San Francisco, and San Diego. There is no fear, no panic in the heart of the American people of the coast. They would scorn any but an attitude of calmness, readiness, and cheerful determination. We're in this war to kick the pants off of the Japs, and if any Jap expedition wants to try to dent our spirits on the coast, we say, with the Wake Island marines, "Send us more Japs."
Hugh M. Lindsey.

THE MASARYK STATUE.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Regarding the bronze monstrosity proposed to be erected on the Midway, I think that the priorities division cannot cry about a shortage of bronze if it does not confiscate these eight tons of valuable metal for defense purposes. It is a plain waste to use this metal now for such a purpose.
Harry E. Entler.

WILL GET THE TRUTH.

Bloomington, Wis., Dec. 15.—Thru the dark clouds of recent days, with The Tribune "all-out for war," comes the editorial: "The Tribune's War Policy." The consolation that The Tribune will continue to be the watch dog, and thru that paper we will get the truth, is boundless relief.
L. H. B.

CHURCHILL AND REPORTERS.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—Your editorial, "Mr. Churchill Meets the Press," brings out the point that British heads of government have to face their hecklers on the floor of commons or go down to defeat. Our heads of government are more fortunate, if a pepper is near at hand to defend their cause. Winnie is an old hand at reporting, and had a pleasant visit with the "wolves of the American press."

Another example of British give and take is fiery little Lloyd George, who took on all comers during the last World war and was known as the bad boy of the peace conference. He is still on the job. Which government is more democratic—the empire or the republic?
Brazil Hoosier.

MAN AND COSMIC TWADDLE.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—I want to protest against the saying over the radio that "Man is a tiny insect in the face of the universe." I have examined hundreds of draftees and I know that they are not insects. An individual like Colin Kelly could not by any reach of the imagination be called an insect. It is no comfort to the man in the uniform or those who are backing him up to be told that we are insects. If that were true what is the use of the fight for victory? It is time that hyperbolic twaddle about the universe should be eliminated from the air.

BY MARY MEADE.

If you want to make your own cream of mushroom soup for tomorrow's luncheon, I hope you'll try this recipe, which is one of my favorites. Fresh mushrooms have been abundant for some time now, and there's nothing better for a hot lunch on a cold day than homemade cream of mushroom soup.

CREAM OF MUSHROOM SOUP.
[Serves five.]
1 pound fresh mushrooms
1 medium onion, chopped or sliced
2 stalks celery with tops, chopped
1 sprig parsley, chopped
2 cups chicken or meat stock, or bouillon
3 tablespoons butter
2 cups medium white sauce

Wash mushrooms and separate caps from stems. Slice stems and add to stock with onion, celery, and parsley. Simmer for 20 minutes and put thru a sieve. Meanwhile slice mushroom caps and sauté in butter for 3 or 4 minutes. Make the white sauce by blending 4 tablespoons butter and 4 tablespoons flour with ¾ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper, then cooking smooth with 2 cups milk. Combine sieved mixture with mushrooms and add white sauce. Add more salt and pepper, if needed. Heat just to the boiling point and serve.

This nut and rice recipe I obtained from a friend after dining in her home and having it served to me. It's unusual, and very good.

NUT AND RICE LOAF.
[Serves four.]
1 cup walnuts, chopped
1½ cups cooked rice
2 medium onions, chopped fine
1 cup thick tomato pulp
1 cup cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons olive oil
½ teaspoon sage
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Salt, paprika

Combine ingredients and pack into a greased loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for an hour. Serve with tomato sauce.

TOMATO SAUCE: Use the rest of a No. 2 can of tomatoes in making the sauce. There should be about 1½ cups. Add a slice of onion, a piece of bay leaf, two or three cloves, and a sprig of parsley and simmer 15 minutes. Strain. Melt 2 tablespoons butter, blend in 2 tablespoons flour and add tomato gradually, stirring constantly, to a smooth sauce. Season with salt and pepper.

COTTAGE PUDDING.
[8 inch square pan.]
2 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, and salt. Cream shortening and sugar together thoroly. Add egg and beat well. Alternately add dry ingredients and milk, beating batter smooth after each addition. Add vanilla. Bake in greased, 8 inch cake pan at 350 degrees for about 50 minutes. Cut in squares while still slightly warm, and serve with fruit sauce, chocolate sauce, or whipped cream.

Mustard Butter Is Zippy as a Vegetable Topping

Mustard butter is a zippy topping for cooked vegetables. To make it, soften ¼ cup butter at room temperature and add 4 teaspoons of prepared mustard and a few drops of onion juice if you like. You can make extra amounts and keep the mixture in the refrigerator until time to use.

An Unusual Desert.

For an easy and truly unusual dessert try this: Line bottom of baking dish with cinnamon toast and cover with sweetened stewed apricots. Bake in a moderately hot [375 degrees] oven for 15 minutes. Serve hot or cold with cream.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Sister Act

I HEARD THE DOOR BELL--WHAT WAS IT?--- WHY, NELLIE-- WHAT'S THE MATTER?
A TELEGRAM FROM MY SISTER IN SPRINGFIELD-- SHE'S--SHE'S VERY ILL, DOCTOR--- SHE NEEDS ME---

Children's Party Sandwiches

Just a little dressing up of their everyday food makes a party for children. Here are gay star shaped whole wheat sandwiches. They're spread with peanut butter and toasted. Chocolate half-and-half tapioca pudding and glasses of milk complete the menu. To make the pudding mix one or two egg yolks with ⅓ cup milk in a sauce pan and add ⅓ cup quick-cooking tapioca, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, and 3½ cups milk. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat immediately. Beat 1 or 2 egg whites until stiff and fold in ¼ cup sugar. Stir hot pudding into egg white and cool slightly. Fold in a teaspoon vanilla and fold ⅓ cup canned chocolate sauce into half the pudding. Pour half plain and half chocolate pudding in each dish and chill well. This will serve about 8 to 10 children.

PRUNE CHIFFON PIE IDEAL FOR HOLIDAY MEAL

They'll eat their prunes and like them in the form of a dainty and delicious chiffon pie. It's the kind of dessert that can be made ahead of time, and would be an excellent choice for some holiday dinner.

Prune Chiffon Pie.
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
3 egg yolks
2 tablespoons orange juice
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
¾ cup cooked seeded prunes, chopped
3 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
1 baked pie shell
Whipped cream

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat egg yolks and add orange juice, the ½ cup sugar, salt, lemon juice and rind, and the prunes. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until slightly thickened. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. Beat egg whites and fold in the ¼ cup sugar. Fold stiff whites into the prune mixture and pour into baked pie shell. Chill and serve with whipped cream topping.

Cutting Dried Fruits.

Dried fruits can be difficult when you're trying to cut them up before they're cooked. But here's a help. Dip your knife blade under cold water every once in a while. It really helps!

HERE IS A STEAMED DATE PUDDING EASY TO MAKE AND TASTY

Gone are the days when a housewife baked mince pies and steamed puddings by the dozen for holiday consumption. But who would forego them altogether? Mrs. Modern Homemaker makes one or maybe two easy puddings like this one.

Easy Steamed Date Pudding.
6 tablespoons margarine, melted
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, well beaten
1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups pitted dates, finely chopped
1½ cups chopped nut meats

Cream margarine and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, beating well. Sift flour with baking powder and salt and add gradually with dates and nut meats to the creamed mixture. Beat after each addition until smooth. Steam in well greased mold [about 7 by 4 inches] for 1½ hours. Bake in moderate [350 degrees] oven for 30 minutes. If individual molds are used, they should be filled ⅔ full and steamed for 1 hour or until done, without further baking. Serve hot with hard sauce.

Care for Fruit Cake.

Have trouble keeping your fruit cakes moist and tender? Wrap them well in waxed paper and pack them in a tin for safe keeping. Put a quarter of freshly cut apple in the tin with the cake for extra moistness.

LEFTOVER MEAT PROBLEM FINDS HAPPY SOLUTION

What to do with the tag ends of that leftover roast? Here's the answer: Even the tiniest of scraps can be used to make another meal.

Meat Savory.
2 cups diced, leftover meat
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
3 tablespoons flour
2 beef bouillon cubes
1½ cups boiling water
1 tablespoon onion juice
1 tablespoon tomato catsup
2 whole cloves
½ bay leaf
Salt and pepper
Buttered hot toast

Brown the meat well in fat and sprinkle with the flour. Dissolve the bouillon cubes in boiling water and add with spices, onion, juice, and catsup. Simmer in covered pan about 15 minutes, stirring constantly until thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper [because of the bouillon cubes, not much salt will be needed]. Serve on hot buttered toast.

THE Kitchen Kibitzer

By MARIAN CARTER

A look over the shoulder of the kitchen manager in an attempt to speed, lighten and add some novelty to her daily routine.

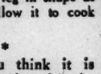
Didja know there's an eye-dropperish gadget on the market which you may use to suck up the excess fat from your meat drippings before making gravy and for removing the extra grease which cooks out of the bacon? Saves spooning it off in the usual awkward fashion.

• • •

A can of dried parsley on the spice shelf is a big help. Seems as tho fresh parsley never is at hand when a recipe calls for it.

• • •

And don't let the dealer remove the fell (that papery outer thin-skin) from the leg of lamb. There's no truth in the old belief that it affects flavor. But it will help keep the leg in shape as it roasts, and will allow it to cook in a shorter time.



• • •

'Tain't what you think it is department: A sweetbread is the thymus gland of a calf. And a great delicacy, besides being nutritious.

• • •

Use the vinegar from the pickles or liquid from the stuffed olives to thin mayonnaise or boiled dressing.

• • •

Wasn't the cranberry jelly firm enough to suit you? And did it "weep" when you cut it? You know what they say about "an ounce of prevention," don't you? Well, just add a little plain gelatin next time.

• • •

Got some stalish cake? Break it into coarse crumbs, combine it with diced fresh or drained canned fruit, and serve it in sherbets topped with whipped cream.

• • •

Yes, you can whip evaporated milk. But chill it first very thoroly. Pour it into a freezer tray and let it get very cold. Then whip it. Some cooks think they have better luck if they scald the milk, then chill it, then whip it.

• • •

Sauerkraut soup is good—and really appetizing. (Most soups aren't, you know, 'cause they're too filling.) Make it by boiling the kraut with water 15 minutes, straining, thickening with flour and butter, and seasoning with caraway.

TRIBUNE ADVERTISING FEATURES

TRY GRAPEFRUIT FRITTERS, TASTY LITTLE TID-BITS

For a simple dessert or an elegant meat accompaniment serve these good little grapefruit tid-bits.

Grapefruit Fritters.
[Serves six.]
2 medium grapefruit
⅓ cup flour
2 eggs, beaten
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons grapefruit juice

Peel and separate sections of grapefruit. Dip in flour lightly, then in egg, salt, and juice mixture and in flour again. Fry in hot deep fat [385 degrees] until golden brown; drain and serve hot.

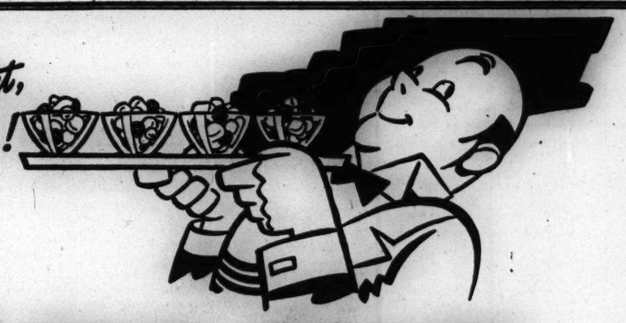
Grilled Turkey Sandwich.

Sliced turkey and nippy cheese between layers of bread make a delicious grilled sandwich.

Use of Skewers Advised in Serving of Appetizers

When appetizers are goo-ey they're likely to be more fun in the making than in the eating. So, if you'd be the thoughtful hostess, string yours up on small wood or metal skewers. Guests can nibble to their hearts content and still keep their fingers clean and dry.

For your New Year's buffet, a superb fruit cocktail!



LADY, IT'S FINE FRUITS THAT COUNT!

YES, the biggest difference between fruit cocktails is in the quality of the fruits.

You know how fine Libby's Hawaiian Pineapple is . . . and Libby's California Peaches, and Bartlett Pears. Libby's Seedless Grapes and Maraschino-Style Cherries have that same excellence.

Here they are in a handy cocktail. Get Libby's. You'll see . . . it's fine fruits that count!

CHILDREN'S RADIO SHOW TURNS TO DEFENSE THEMES

Stresses Need for Calm in Emergencies.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Irving B. Caesar, composer of safety songs for children, is seeking to teach youngsters how to keep calm in emergencies and is giving other instructions for war time in his "Sing a Song of Safety Club," aired over the Mutual network at 1 p. m. Sundays.

"Boys and girls right now need advice on how to take care of themselves in an emergency," he said Sunday. "Getting them to learn the necessary steps thru songs is an effective way of promoting safety."

Caesar also is placing emphasis on the singing of patriotic songs.

The Quiz Kids have made their New Year's resolution early. Their No. 1 resolve is to do their part to bring victory.

Joan Bishop, who has completed her second Red Cross sweater, has promised to keep her knitting needles flying even faster. Claude Brenner, who was born of British parents in Johannesburg, S. Africa, has resolved to do all he can to help America and Great Britain win the war by buying defense stamps, working for the Red Cross and building better airplane models.

Harve Fischman expects to become a messenger for civilian defense, to buy more stamps and to collect paper and devote the funds to war aid.

Jack Lucal, besides spending a good part of his allowance for stamps, expects to expand his collection of newspaper headlines of all important news events.

Mathematics whiz Richard Williams, who practically understands the national budget, considers buying defense stamps too obvious to put into a New Year's resolution. He's been doing that for some time.

Ruth Duskin, who at seven is the youngest Quiz Kid, has resolved to be kind and helpful; to see only good in others and to help our soldiers win the war.

News and notes: WOR, the Mutual network key station in New York, has discontinued the broadcast of request numbers on its all night show, "Moonlight Saving Time." The reason given was to avoid the possible code use of the requests by enemy agents.

The war has taken Yoichi Hiroka, Japanese xylophonist, off NBC after a run of eight years. A citizen of Japan, he was called back by his government six months ago but refused the summons. He is married, his wife and child being American citizens. Like other native born Japanese he has been ordered by federal authorities to remain at home.

Jean Tennyson, Chicago singer, has been engaged as the feminine headliner of the new Great Moments in Music series to start Wednesday, Jan. 7 on CBS. Jan Peerce, who will sing in "Eileen" on W-G-N at 8 o'clock next Saturday, will sing opposite Miss Tennyson on this new series regularly.

BLIND WOMAN'S TRAINED GUIDE DOG DISAPPEARS

Sharpy, a German shepherd dog trained to lead Mrs. Fay Wheeler, 48 years old, of 2704 Flournoy street, who has been blind for 28 years, disappeared yesterday as Mrs. Wheeler brought her home from a Detroit, Mich., training school.

A friend had driven Mrs. Wheeler from Detroit where she had spent a month of instruction in working with the dog. As they drew up in front of Mrs. Wheeler's home, the car was opened and Sharpy leaped out and disappeared. A frantic but vain search of the neighborhood by Mrs. Wheeler's family and friends followed.

The dog, 17 months old, was wearing a link chain training collar. The fur on her back and sides is black, while her legs are brown.

SERGT. BALATA, 56, RETIRES AFTER 31 YEARS ON FORCE

Sergt. Edward F. Balata of the North avenue station retired yesterday after 31 years of service. He joined the department early in 1911, and for 22 years worked as a detective. In 1928, after the election murders in what was known as the "Bloody 20th" ward, he was assigned as head detective in that district, and helped clean it up. Balata is 56 years old, and lives at 4909 Oakdale avenue. He told friends he was retiring "while still young enough to enjoy leisure," instead of waiting until the compulsory age retirement of 63.

Waukegan Lawyer to Head Bar Group in Lake County

Attorney Philip Populorum of Waukegan was selected yesterday by the nominating committee of the Lake County Bar association as the candidate for the association presidency in the January election. The selection is tantamount to election, as only one candidate is chosen. Also nominated were Gerald Snyder for vice president and Frank Daly as secretary treasurer.

SYNOPSIS.

Jack Waugh returns to Santa Rita after 20 years, determined to bring his father's murderers to justice. After saving Mary Lane from a holdup, he finds she is the stepdaughter of Corbett Carey, his father's friend, but her suitor is Abner Clinton III., grandson of old Ab Clinton, who instigated his father's murder and robbed him of his money bags following the murder. An old timer, Jim Fallon, tells Jack he saw Brad Clinton, son of old Ab, and Warren Tracy leave the scene of the murder and Jack feels they were the real murderers. Brad is now manager of the ranch, tho old Ab still owns controling interest. Tracy is foreman. Tracy starts a fight with Jack, but Jack gives him a terrific beating. Jack meets two more of Clinton's hired men, Ike Parker and Clem Peake, and recognizes them to be Mary's holdup men. He informs young Abner, who finds it is so, reports it to his grandfather, and is assured the Clintons will turn the two men over to the police. But old Ab double crosses his grandson and offers Parker $500 to get rid of Jack. Jack, in the meantime, has notified the sheriff, who goes to the Clinton ranch to arrest Parker and Peake. Jack, en route to the ranch, saves the life of a man who has been attacked from ambush. He discovers the assailants were Tracy, Parker, and Peake, who mistook the man for Jack. Jack manages to capture all three and deliver them to the sheriff at the Clinton ranch, but the sheriff arrests only Parker and Peake. Taking them back to town Brad and Tracy hold up the sheriff and allow the captives to escape to a mountain hideout. Jack stumbles into the hideout when he is searching for Paul Dillon, a small boy lost in the mountains. Parker and Peake are planning to kill Jack when young Abner, who has just found Paul, comes upon the trio. He rescues Jack by promising not to tell the sheriff of the outlaws' hideout until they have time to escape. In a drunken rampage, Tracy pulls his gun on Jack and Jack kills him in self-defense. Jack, in love with Mary, realizes the killing has put a barrier between them. Corbett stands Jack's bail and Abner III. persuades his grandfather to have a conference with Jack at the bank of which Edward Clinton, another of old Ab's sons, is president.

INSTALMENT XLIV.

OFFER DECLINED.

Before he reached the bank Jack was less sure of immunity. As he turned into Lincoln street a car passed him. He glanced at it in time to get one momentary look at the man sitting next to the driver. Altho he could not be quite sure, he had a strong impression that the man was Ike Parker.

If so, what was he doing in Santa Rita, certainly no safe place for him, unless he was under strong political protection? Jack could guess at one reason. According to Parker's story, old Abner had offered the gunman $500 to kill the Texan. That offer might still be open. It was possible that the orders given the outlaw might be to hold off until after the conference at the bank, since there would be no point in wiping out Waugh if he were amenable to reason. If so, he yet had an hour's safety.

When Jack was taken into the office of the bank president, he found in the room not only Edward Clinton but also his father and his nephew. Coolly he looked from one to another.

"Quite a gathering of the clan," he drawled. "I'm certainly honored."

Young Abner rose and introduced his uncle. Edward Clinton was a large, heavy set man whose ready smile failed entirely to warm the cold, hard eyes. He cultivated geniality, but it was of the surface only. In his earlier years he had been as hard as nails physically, but time and a sedentary life had softened him and brought a middle age paunch. No longer did he settle difficulties in the old frontier way.

Corbett Carey came into the room and found a chair.

The bank president made a few remarks about the great changes in Santa Rita and the neighboring country during Waugh's absence. He said he hoped the Texan had enjoyed the return to the habitat of his youth, altho it was of course extremely unfortunate that he had been forced by necessity to kill Tracy in self-defense.

Jack answered dryly that he had not had a dull day since his arrival.

The banker leaned back in his chair, hands resting on the stomach bulge, the finger tips pressed together. Waugh thought him a picture of smug self-satisfaction and decided that his urbanity was as false as a usurer's cordiality.

"Tracy has always been turbulent, always a trouble maker," Edward admitted generously. "We have put up with a great deal from him because he was an old employé, but of late he got worse. He made things difficult for you, Mr. Waugh. My father wishes you to understand—and we are all at one with him—that he holds you entirely blameless in the death of Tracy."

The Texan let an ironic smile flicker across his face as he looked at the unkempt octogenarian.

"Nice to know that he approves of what I have done," he replied.

"I don't like a damned thing about you," old Abner burst out. "Get down to cases, Ed. You've done spread enough butter."

"Your father and I understand each other," Jack explained. "He's a rough and ready old timer, but, of course, with a heart of gold. Business is business with him. No soft nonsense about the way he operates. When he offered $500 for my scalp he expected delivery before a cash payment was made."

"You can't prove it," old Abner snorted.

"All I can prove is that one of your killers admitted it. By the way, I saw him in town not 10 minutes ago. Is he here on the same job?" Jack asked the question with a polite suavity equal to that of the banker.

Abner glared at him. "I don't know who you are talking about."

"Ike Parker."

"You claim you saw Parker here—in town—today?"

"Yes. Hasn't he reported yet?"

"I don't believe it. This is the last place in the world he would be."

"Unless his little difficulties with the law have been fixed up," Jack amended.

"Far as I'm concerned he can go to the pen for the rest of his life," old Abner retorted shrilly.

"Are you sure it was Parker you saw?" his grandson asked.

"Not sure, but I thought so," Jack replied. "He passed me in a car."

"Whether it was Parker or not is immaterial as far as we are concerned," the banker said. "He is no longer a ranch employé. When my father discovered he was an outlaw he turned him over to Sheriff Wilmore. That ended his connection with the A C. Now, about the business that brought us here, Mr. Waugh. We want to adjust any difficulty there is between you and us."

"Adjust in what way?" Jack asked coldly.

"Iron out the trouble, whatever it is. Arrange a compromise, if necessary."

"That will be fine." The hard eyes of the Texan rested on the wrinkled old man and came back to his smooth son. "First, there is the death of my father, who was murdered by

Mrs. Carpenter Heads Defense Savings Group

BY JUDITH CASS.

WE'VE just been waiting until the Christmas festivities for the debutante and subdebutante sets were finished to devote our space to the activities that will engross every woman's attention until victory is ours. We cannot wait longer, however, for today it is being announced that Mrs. John Alden Carpenter has resigned as head of the women's division of the British War Relief society in Chicago to become chairman for Chicago and Cook county of the women's organization for the defense savings staff of the treasury department. Mrs. F. J. Lewis is vice chairman.

It also is announced that Mrs. Kenneth F. Rich is to serve as Illinois chairman of the same organization. It would seem that these two women are ideally fitted for the important positions they are to hold at this critical time, for they both have backgrounds rich in experience. Mrs. Rich followed Jane Addams as head resident of Hull House, and she has done notable work as president of the Immigrant Protective League of Chicago. Mrs. Carpenter headed the woman's board of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society for many years, and she has been active in numerous other philanthropic and civic enterprises, among them the Chicago Opera company.

Mrs. Carpenter to Have Organization Tea Today.

Today Mrs. Carpenter is having an organization tea at her home to which members of her executive committee have been invited. The list of women who will work with her is incomplete, but among those who already are working, or who will soon, are Mrs. J. Fred Reeve, who will serve in the publicity department; Mrs. Joseph F. Govan, who has been working for the last three months with the state administrator, Norman B. Collins, and Mrs. Earl Kribben, who will be in the speakers' bureau.

Mrs. William Sutherland has been appointed to take Mrs. Carpenter's place with the British War Relief society. Mrs. Carpenter will remain on the board. Mrs. Sutherland has been one of the most devoted workers for the society since it started work here and lately has had charge of the entire production department.

The Madonna center board of directors already has set the date for the annual Easter week ball, which will be given on April 11 in the Grand ballroom of the Palmer House. The center is initiating a Red Cross unit with Mrs. Allen B. Ripley and Miss Mary Amberg as chairman and cochairman. Mrs. George H. Kiefer is chairman of the knitting committee, with Miss Cecile Goodwillie as her vice chairman.

Hill School and Harvard Alumni to Lunch Today.

If a man is an alumnus of the Hill school and of Harvard university he will have a difficult time deciding which of two luncheons to attend today. And if, perchance, he be a member of the Tavern club, he'll have a third listed on his calendar, for this club, the Chicago Harvard club, and the Chicago Hill Alumni club are all having fathers' and sons' luncheons. The tavern party, of course, will be in the clubrooms atop the 333 North Michigan avenue building, where Robert M. Zimmerman will turn the rooms into a sort of adventurers' club. He will be the speaker and his subject will be "The Most Dangerous Job in the World."

Mr. Zimmerman is a former Olympic games swimmer for Canada and for the last five years has been a deep sea diver, working in West Indian waters to collect specimens for museums and to hunt treasure trove in the submerged wrecks of Spanish galleons. John R. Winterbotham is president of the Tavern. He also is a Hill alumnus, but Yale is his college alma mater. He and his son, John Jr., will attend the Tavern party.

Luncheon for Hill Alumni to Be at University Club.

The Hill luncheon will be given at the University club. Spencer Moseley, president of the Yale team, was to have been the speaker, but he has had to leave with the Yale Dramatic association.

Among those at the luncheon will be Duncan Forbes and his three sons. One is a Hill alumnus and now a freshman at Yale, another is in the fifth form at Hill, and Harry, the "baby," is not yet ready to go away.

William Humphreys, a bachelor, is president of the Hill alumni of Chicago. Frank Woods Jr. and Cyrus H. Adams Jr. are vice presidents. John J. Mitchell is secretary-treasurer.

The Harvard club's party will be given in the Red Lacquer room of the Palmer House. Highlights of the football season will be shown in movies, and Vern Miller, tackle on the team, will come from his home in Milwaukee to explain the action in the films. William R. Odell Jr. is president of the Chicago Harvard club, of which Howard F. Gillette Jr., William C. Boyden and Snelling Robinson are vice presidents. Michael Cudahy is secretary-treasurer, with William C. Egan as his assistant.

Barbara Bowes to Make Her Debut at Tea Today.

Today's debutante is Miss Barbara Bowes, who will be presented at a tea in the Highland Park home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome P. Bowes Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Bowes, their daughter, and the bud's grandmother, Mrs. James H. Channon, will receive from 4 to 7 o'clock.

Miss Bowes will have a dozen assistants: Miss Beverly Roach, Miss Roberta Bosworth, Miss Nancy McCloud, Miss Anne Northrup, Miss Ann Johnson, Miss Julie Goodman, Miss Rosemary Burkhart, Miss Barbara Pettibone, Miss Carol Gardner, Miss Shirley O'Brien, Miss Nancy Scribner, and Miss Lois Mason. After the party, which will be simple in keeping with the times, Mr. and Mrs.

3,500 Service Men Invited to New Year Party

Thirty-five hundred service men will turn the Chicago Service Men's Center into a huge café tomorrow evening but there will be no cover charge.

This was announced yesterday by Miss B. J. Norcott, promotion director for the center, at 176 West Washington street. Three ballrooms will be thrown open for one of the largest New Year's eve dances in the city and scores of women volunteers will serve hot turkey luncheons to the service men and their hostesses. Canteen service will begin at 12:30 p. m. and will continue thruout the day until the last soldier is served, Miss Norcott said.

One hundred service men will be special guests of the Polish Women's Alliance at a dance in its clubhouse, 1309 North Ashland avenue, and hundreds of others will be given tickets for the evening at the center.

Mrs. John P. Cohane, chairman of the women's committee for Bundles for American Bluejackets, announced the opening of new headquarters for her organization at 333 North Michigan avenue. The organization will move into the new offices today and tomorrow.

An appeal for women volunteers to knit sweaters, gloves, watch caps, and scarves for men in the navy and marine corps was also issued by Mrs. Cohane. "We have between 200 and 300 women knitting for the boys—but we need many more to help fill our comfort kits," she said. "We intend to deliver many hundreds of the kits each week to the Great Lakes Naval Training station for those who are going on active duty. We also need volunteers to help us with our office work."

James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, yesterday directed the attention of corporations to the fact that only contributions to the war relief drive made by 1 p. m. tomorrow will be deductible from the current year's tax.

"The date of the clearing by the bank of deposit determines the admissibility of the contribution as a tax deduction," he declared. "We have arranged with the auditor's office at the Emergency War Fund headquarters to clear all contributions made up to the closing banking time on Wednesday."

Quotas totaling $710,500 were assigned to 15 of the 55 groups in the industrial division of the drive, Mr. Forgan said. The remaining quotas toward the $3,750,000 goal here will be set within the next few days. In general, the quotas are comparable to those established for the same groups in the Community Fund campaign and it will be necessary to complete them if Chicago's share of the nation's $50,000,000 campaign is to be raised, Mr. Forgan stated.

The first big personal gift received by the Red Cross war relief drive was $50,000 from Marshall Field III., according to a statement made by chapter headquarters yesterday.

A third of the proceeds of the annual Cameo Salon ball will be donated to the Red Cross drive, Mrs. Harrison M. Libe, chairman, announced yesterday. The ball, which is given for the benefit of needy artists, will be held Saturday evening, Jan. 10, in the grand ballroom of the Cyrus McCormick home at 50 East Huron street.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

Russe de Monte Carlo.

Favorite episode at the ballet Friday night was the flower presentation at the end of the Dali "Labyrinth." After the première ballerinas had received corsages or bouquets, Igor Youskevitch, who danced Theseus, was formally handed a laurel wreath with a red bow on it. This was in the best Greek tradition and highly appropriate to Youskevitch.

Altho the word "balletomane" does not occur in our personal dictionary [it skips from "ballet" to "ball-flower"] may we join the group of those who are that? Particularly do we favor Chris Volkoff who dances the "Sicilienne" in "Vienna—1814." His nonchalance in impudently taking his ease [on his back] after an especially difficult step is right up our alley.

Did you know that in the days of imperial Vienna the proud beauties stayed in bed all day before a ball with raw beef on their faces?

Progressive Education.

Little Julie, age 5, received a decorative thermometer to hang on the wall of her pink and blue bedroom. Now she goes around happily announcing to one and all that she has a beautiful temperature! Her mother hastens to add that Julie has the standard 98.6.

Johnny, age 9, a determined contributor, has threatened F. V. and P. with a fate worse than death [says he won't read it] unless we print this remarkable episode. O. K., Johnny, here we go.

He pushed the swinging door in an attempt to get from the dining room into the kitchen. Someone was evidently in the way. Johnny politely shouted, "Excuse me, please." Nothing happened. He pushed again and bellowed, "Excuse me." No luck. This time Johnny heaved, throwing courtesy to the winds. And what did he find? An enormous carton sitting smack in front of the door. Johnny says he said: "Well, the next time I waste my manners on a box, you'll hear about it, Mr. Box."

A Tale of $2.

This happened last New Year's eve but it might happen again. A young man who lives in Hubbard Woods returned to his home from a rowdy costume party and was accosted in his own driveway by a character who asked for his wallet. The young man, supposing him a friend in disguise, gaily handed it over, apologizing that said wallet contained only $2. He added that he'd like to keep the wallet itself.

The character said, "Listen, bud, you don't look broke but guess you are. What say, you give me one buck and keep the other one?"

The young man, whose suspicions were now aroused, asked whether the character had a gun.

Character said, "Sure, but honest, mister, it isn't loaded."

"Well," said the young man, "you're pretty sporty, go on and keep both dollars."

This apparently astounded the character, for he vanished into the bushes and hasn't been seen since.

Forgive Us.

C. C. Holway writes as follows: "Holy Hill, which is actually a hill, is a popular name for the shrine and church [not a cathedral] of Mary, Help of Christians, which, along with an adjoining monastery, are in the charge of the Discalced [barefoot] Carmelite Fathers. They are not Franciscans. Holy Hill is at Hubertus, Wis., near Hartford, about 30 miles northwest of Milwaukee. St. John's, the cathedral of the archdiocese, is in Milwaukee. Partly destroyed by fire a few years ago, it is now in process of reconstruction."

We thank Mr. Holway for this accurate information.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

If there is one secret of complexion preservation we believe it's oiling. It's the dry skin that fades early. When it loses the precious moisture that natural oil supplies, it loses first softness and then smoothness. Skin that is dry and rough is a fertile field for the little lines that grow into wrinkles!

During the winter women must guard their complexions carefully against the loss of oil. If they have the kind of skin that's normally more oily than dry they're lucky. But if they have the kind that's thin and inclined to shrivel at the first blast of cold wind, they have their skin oiling work cut out for them.

They need to use as much of rich, softening creams as they can possibly apply. A cream created especially for lubrication always seems to us the best. Even tho you use the rather heavy, oily cleansing creams, you should supplement these with an even heavier, oilier one that serves no purpose except lubrication.

It needn't necessarily be an expensive one. We know of several that are rich, and well made, but produced in such volume that they can be sold at modest prices. We know of one, in particular, a dry-skin cream that is quite inexpensive, it's snowy white, thick, smooth—and a superlative skin softener. Use it, if your skin is dry, for nightly massage after cleansing.

If you use some ingenuity you can give yourself a good beauty treatment at odd times, you know. Do your house work with this cream slathered on, for example, and always bathe with a coating of it over your face. Your complexion will be smoother and softer for its every application.

Triangle Club Show Is Fresh and Sprightly

BY HARRIETT PRIBBLE.

"It's a tough schedule, but a Princeton man's an iron man," declared a Triangle club member as he sold musical scores from the 53d annual Triangle show between the acts last night at the Eighth Street theater. Indeed, one almost would have to be an iron man to take the schedule which awaited the Princetonians for their one night stand in Chicago. From Miss Carol Casselberry's teadance in the afternoon at the Casino, the visiting actors rushed back to the theater to climb into frills and false curls for the 8:30 o'clock curtain of "Ask Me Another." Miss Diana Hill's and Miss Eleanor Cochran's supperdance, also at the Casino, topped off the full day.

But for the tell-tale Princeton tiger cubs that frisked across the curtain, last night's audience might have been any gathering of collegians in a festive mood. Ankle socks, pullovers and beer jackets had been traded in for ball gowns and top hats, for the audience came largely in "white tie." And every one had a good time, from the high school freshmen in their first dinner jackets, squiring youthful belles several inches taller than they, to the Princetonians of another generation.

The lion's—or rather the tiger's—share of applause went to Mark Lawrence, the Triangle club's president. Versatile Mr. Lawrence wrote most of the hit tunes, including "From Broadway to Hollywood" and the lovely lyrical "Behind the Moon," and brought down the house with his rendition of his own "It's a Sad State of Affairs."

This show, the audience agreed, was fresher and sprightlier than last year's. Perhaps it was due to the original skits and central theme—a friendly satire on Dr. Gallup's poll—and perhaps to the smart tempo set by the Princeton Triangle orchestra, led by a young Evanstonian, David Betts.

There were drums galore at the tea-dance which Robert J. Dunham gave for his debutante granddaughter, Miss Casselberry, from the percussion instruments in the well known swing band which played for dancing from 4 to 7 o'clock, to the cylinders which decorated the ballroom of the Casino. Wide gold panels circling the room were surmounted with parchment drumskins drawn tight with heavy gold cord and rimmed in Kelly green metal. Each drum held masses of Sally roses.

Against her full skirted gray taffeta gown with gray velveteen bodice, Miss Casselberry held a bouquet of yellow butterfly orchids. Her mother, Mrs. Edgerton A. Throckmorton, wore a deep pink crêpe gown and a cluster of green orchids.

Pouring at the satin clothed tea table were a dozen friends of the late Mrs. Dunham, including Mrs. Nelson L. Barnes, Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, Mrs. Loyal Davis, Mrs. Frank Hibbard, Mrs. Ralph H. James, Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, Mrs. Hopewell L. Rogers, Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, Mrs. Herbert E. Schwarz, Mrs. Ralph M. Shaw, and Mrs. James Ward Thorne.

While the Triangle show was in progress, decorators worked swiftly to remove the military trappings from the Casino and to replace them with pastoral scenes inspired by Walt Disney's "Fantasia." Pairs of white and pairs of pink columns rose about the ballroom, and between them pranced stark white horses with leis of multicolored carnations about their hoofs.

Mrs. John L. Cochran and Mrs. Cyrus G. Hill received with their daughters against a pink and white screen adorned with a swag of eucalyptus leaves sprayed white. Miss Cochran carried deep maroon carnations with her heavy white satin gown with cartridge plaiting about the shoulders. Her mother was in emerald green satin with pale pink camellias across the neckline. Little satin rope bows caught up the off-the-shoulder neckline of Miss Hill's ice blue duchess satin gown. Her flowers were violets. Mrs. Hill's gown of a shade deeper blue had a satin bodice and crêpe skirt, and she carried a single pink orchid pinned to her purse.

Striped Fabric Lends Dash to Winter Styles

BY REA SEEGER.

The clean precision of striped fabrics makes fashion news of the hour. Wide, medium or narrow, stripes appear in the eye-catching new dresses that smartly contrast with a dark winter coat, preferably coats of dress length. They are striped silks, woolens, rayons, and cotton, headed south, of course. The way these striped materials are cut and used in streamlined suits and fitted basque top dresses with crisp full skirts is definitely a gay bit of news.

Only an exceptionally clever designer can use stripes so as to make the model distinctive and chic. Many tricks appear in knowingly cut creations . . . stripes in chevron shapes, in right angles, in sharp 45 degree formations, and the diagonal or bias cut band, usually dramatized with vertical or horizontal stripes.

Dresses, sleekly cut two piece suits or two piece effect costumes must of necessity use stripes for all accent duty or contrast. And the simpler the general outline or design the smarter the finished dress.

Sometimes a full skirt uses the striped pattern in three cuts, straight, diagonal, and at cross angles. It is with striped material that precisely cut and miter cornered bands appear smartest, and the same material excels for pleated flounces, inverted pleats or the stripes in contrast to the run of the stripes on the skirt and blouse. Entire bodice tops cut on the bias and sometimes even with bias cut sleeves combine to make the new striped dress the smartest model imaginable. Color is introduced with the varying shade of as many as five to six stripings in some materials, and not less than two or three in other fabrics.

Monte Carlo Dancers Give New Ballet

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The large number of ballets in which a thread of story and a wisp of background serve as excuses for a series of contrasting divertissements has been augmented by a piece called "The Magic Swan." It was given its first Chicago performance at the Civic Opera house last night by the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

"The Magic Swan" is really the third act of a full length Petipa-Tschaikowsky ballet, whose second act is familiar everywhere under the title of "Swan Lake." Aside from two or three reminiscences of the "fate" motive in the orchestra, "The Magic Swan" bears little resemblance to its relative.

Instead of a moon haunted glade its locale is a palace so spacious and so magnificently furnished as to suggest that its owners have never heard of the new income tax. Instead of flocks of swans and hunters the dramatis personae are agile and sumptuously garbed men and women who hail from a half dozen different countries and who are ready, at the drop of a hat, to break into one of their native dances.

There are exuberant dances from Poland, Hungary, Spain, Italy, and other less easily identifiable places. The whole piece suggests "Aurora's Wedding" [another excerpt from a full length Tschaikowsky ballet] in its splendor and gaity and intoxicating movement.

The present version is the work of Alexandra Federova, who presumably followed the original Petipa choregraphy with as much fidelity as the great lapse of time permitted. Eugene Dunkel did the extraordinary sets and costumes.

Further acquaintance with the surrealist ballet, "Labyrinth" [by Dali and Massine to Schubert's seventh symphony], reveals many things missed on the first performance. Examples are the powerful drama of the end of the first movement when Theseus finally enters the labyrinth, and the genuinely affecting last agonies of the Minotaur [whom one comes to love despite his past errors and the many meals he has made on Athenian youths and maidens].

Above all, there is in "Labyrinth" a certain strange consistency that is like the consistency of dreams. Accept its premises and the whole thing becomes almost comprehensible. On its dream plane it unfolds an absorbing story whose complete lack of conceptual content only adds to its eerie charm.

The ballet's present engagement has revealed Igor Youskevitch as one of the hardest working and most superlatively gifted of present day dancers. His tireless artistry glorifies everything in which he appears—even when his assignments run to as many as three taxing rôles in a single evening. Last night he was langorous, lithe, delicate, and powerful by turns and often, it almost seemed, together. He was the male principal in "The Magic Swan" and, as usual, Theseus in "Labyrinth."

Chicago Woman's Club to Hold Open House Thursday

The Chicago Woman's club will hold a New Year's open house at 3 o'clock Thursday at 72 East 11th street. There will be a musical in the club lounge, with Helen J. Lillroth, marimbist, appearing as guest artist. The program will include a tone poem in the spirit of the season, given by Lola Carter Robuck, former music appreciation chairman and a member of the string quartet which plays for the organization's winter chamber music concerts. On Friday Mrs. Ethel M. C. Brazelton will review Mary Ellen Chase's book, "Windswept," for the current events class, meeting in the morning.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Harry's the Name.

The long distance telephone operator, after unavoidable delay, succeeded in putting thru Mr. Van Dyke's call. Breathlessly she notified him: "On your call to New York, Mr. Beard, we are ready."

A Mother's Reward.

A stranger than fiction tale: A magazine writer was unfortunately forehanded in sending birthday gifts to her son at camp. The last minute she received a card saying he was on his way to another camp. Desolate to think she had sent his presents . . . and that he would not get them in time . . . she remembered two as yet unmailed. She hastened to the airport. The guard at the gate was a young noncommissioned officer in uniform. Hurriedly she explained who she was . . . that her son had been moved from Camp Roberts . . . that she hoped, still, to get these remaining packages to him. The noncom listened and said, "I just came from Camp Roberts." The mother felt foolish to ask—after all, there were thousands of men there—but did he . . . did he, by any chance, know her boy, John?" "I was John's sergeant," he answered.

Test Your Commas.

It is said that more than half of the mistakes made in writing are caused by misuse of the comma. In the following paragraphs from Whistler's "Ten o'Clock," where would you place the commas for clarification?

Nature contains the elements in color and form of all pictures as the keyboard contains the notes of all music.

But the artist is born to pick and choose and group with science these elements that the result may be beautiful—as the musician gathers his notes and forms his chords until he brings forth from chaos glorious harmony.

To say to the painter that nature is to be taken as she is is to say to the player that he may sit on the piano.

Jones Commercial School.

Perhaps you have wondered about the Jones Commercial Evening school—the only all commercial public school in Chicago, at 607 Plymouth court. There, after a strenuous day's work, 950 pupils study to increase their earning ability. And 86 per cent of them are women. Courses include accounting, advertising, business mathematics, business English, stenography, business machines, filing, civil service preparation, comptometry, Spanish, and better speech. Next semester, registration for which will begin the latter part of January, the school is introducing an office personality course.

Stenography is the most popular course, typewriting next, and comptometry next. [This course is so much in demand that, with equipment sufficient only to accommodate 168 pupils, a waiting list of 300 was carried.]

No men are at present enrolled in calculating—or in business machine courses.

"They do not seem to have the patience for the tedious drill required to gain speed proficiency in these courses," was the reason suggested by one of the instructors.

The ages of the students range from 17 to 57! And the occupations represented, among others, are policeman, model, seamstress, nutritionist, Braille translator, librarian, sales clerk, war department clerk, secretary of state's office clerk, shipping room, and factory worker.

Henry Aldrich Really Comes to Life in Film

"HENRY ALDRICH FOR PRESIDENT."

Produced by Paramount.
Directed by Hugh Bennett.
A sequel to the Clifford Goldsmith "Henry Aldrich" stories.
Presented at the Roosevelt theater.

THE CAST.

Henry Aldrich.....Jimmy Lydon
Geraldine Adams.....June Preisser
Phyllis Michael.....Mary Anderson
Dizzy Stephens.....Charles Smith
Mr. Aldrich.....John Litel
Mrs. Aldrich.....Dorothy Peterson
Mary Aldrich.....Martha O'Driscoll
Mr. Bradley.....Vaughan Glaser
Ed Talkins.....Rod Cameron
Irwin Barrett.....Kenneth Howell
Mr. Crosley.....Lucien Littlefield
Mr. McClosky.....Irving Bacon

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

In Jimmy Lydon, Henry Aldrich of the radio script really comes alive! The rôle should be his permanently, I think.

Jimmy, with his slightly squirrel teeth, his flap of lank hair always in one eye, and his broken down, broken up voice, is 100 per cent American boy. You could kill him and you could kiss him, and every woman in the theater was crying unashamedly over him during two episodes I could tell you about but won't.

The presidency referred to in the title is not the office of United States President, but the slightly minor one of Centerville High school student body head. . . . For this honorable office Henry has as contenders Irwin Barrett, the town's rich boy, and Phyllis Michael, who nourishes a secret crush on Henry. . . . She steps out, when she learns that there has been a conspiracy to use Henry to split the vote between herself and Irwin and from then on is Henry's chief aid. . . . Willing, nay determined, to be the sweetheart of the winner is Geraldine Adams. . . . And Henry loves—or thinks he loves—Geraldine. . . .

Well, politics seems to be politics wherever encountered. . . . Barrett, determined to win, stops at nothing. . . . But Henry has a devoted ally in Dizzy Stephens and, with his aid, is able to make a wow of a speech. . . . This speech almost proves to be his undoing. But God's in his heaven for Henry and those who love him. Including yourself.

This is a well written little affair, full of delicious hokum. It hands you many a laugh and will delight parents with its display of sly and gentle cognizance re the moods and manners of the adolescent, at home and at large.

See you soon.

Library's Wartime Role Is Keynote of Library Conference

The rôle a library's shelves of books must play in the winning of the war and the peace to follow was the keynote subject in the opening session of the midwinter conference of the American Library association yesterday in the Drake hotel.

In a prepared statement read to the more than 1,000 delegates and later in an interview Charles H Brown, association president, called on all librarians to support the association's policy.

"Every library must reorganize its services and expenditures without delay to meet the necessities of successful warfare," the statement said. "Each library activity must stand double scrutiny: Will it contribute to victory? Will it help make a better America and a better world when the war is over?"

Carl B. Roden, director of the Chicago Public library, said that institution already is organized to do its part. Thousands of new technical books have been put on the shelves, and use of the branch libraries for defense meetings has been volunteered.

The convention will continue thru tomorrow.

The Housewife

If you keep the regulation size water bottles in your refrigerator you'll be interested to know there are little screw tops made for them that need not be removed when you pour the water. The tops have holes in them and a little attached plate that covers the holes when the bottle is upright but that slips aside when the bottle is tilted. Neatest trick of the week and quite a time saver.

Looking at Hollywood

—By John Chapman—

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 29.—David O. Selznick is a bit shamefaced about it—but he's having the dickens of a time casting one rôle in A. J. Cronin's "Keys of the Kingdom." He's embarrassed, because before it was over everybody got kidding about his search for a Scarlet O'H. in GWTW; and he's afraid people will snort at his present difficulty, real tho it is.

What he needs is an actor to play the priest, Father Francis Chisholm. And one of his difficulties is finding an actor who has led a comparatively blameless life. David doesn't want to be stuffy, but he wants a reasonably admirable man for the rôle.

Spencer Tracy is the choice of 11,000 letter writers who have been voting unasked. But Metro has said flatly that Tracy is unavailable. Spencer, in addition to being a magnificent actor, has the soundest of personal reputations.

Burgess Meredith asked for the rôle—and didn't get it; the reason being that he has been divorced. But Burgess, an able player of good personal standing, will probably have another rôle—that of Dr. Tolluch. And Ingrid Bergman will be sister Mari-Veronica.

When he was in New York Selznick asked Maurice Evans to take the cleric's rôle—but Evans, who has never made a movie, confessed that he'd be scared to death to try one. Robert Donat would be an excellent choice, but the war makes it impossible to get him here. One actor of blameless repute and fine ability, Dean Jagger, would fit the rôle in everything but size. He's too big. Orson Welles, who is colorful but no barfly, might be a happy choice except for a divorce.

Well, George Raft is going to work. At Universal, not Warners, in a remake of the Phil Dunning-George Abbott "Broadway." The studio filmed the play once before, in 1929. Bruce Manning will make the new production, and the story will be modernized. Instead of a mob of gangsters, the baddies will be a mob of spies. . . . Jed Harris is going to make a coast production of Nunnally Johnson's and Charles MacArthur's new comedy, which is described as a masterly defense of drink.

"When I get it going here," says Jed, "I'll put a two cent stamp on it and ship it to New York. No reason why plays can't be cast and tried out here."

Harris, returned from a recent visit to Broadway, confesses disappointment in the theater. He went to one play which was supposed to be good and sneaked out as soon as he was sure the producer had gone home.

"Then," he says, "I went around the corner and caught 'Target for Tonight.' There was more drama in those 25 minutes of film than I found in the theater I'd left.

So, apparently, the movies have another convert.

Too bad Bette Davis felt she had to resign as president of the academy. She'd have done the acting profession credit in the job, and she was full of plans for making the old institution hum. . . . David Hempstead will take "John of Paris" to New York next week, and the stars, Michele Morgan and Paul Henreid, will go along. . . . Tim Holt is getting a thrill pleasure out of kissing Anne Baxter in "The Magnificent Andersons"—because Tim, a western hero for two years, never was allowed to buss the heroine in his horse operas. . . . Before he does "Keys of the Kingdom," Burgess Meredith will star in "Black Curtain," a mystery yarn, for Paramount. Since the hits of "Maltese Falcon" and "I Wake Up Screaming," most studios have plotted a budget murder thrillers. . . . Paramount has taken up Betty Hutton's option.

I can just get in under the wire with a few unsolicited suggestions of New Year's resolutions and new leaves to turn over for Hollywood.

It can cut down on musical backgrounds. Half the time the actors look as tho they couldn't hear what they were saying—and you can't, either, without straining.

It can belabor its brain trying to think up a new allusion to the imminence of the stork, other than "Heat lots of hot water, quick."

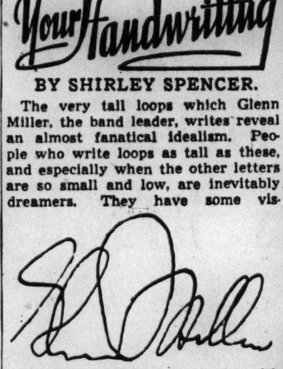
In fight scenes, it can think of some place to put a dribble of chocolate beside the corner of the hero's mouth. Did you ever notice that nobody ever gets a bloody nose in a movie fight?

And Hollywood can resolve to make as many fine movies as it did in 1941.

Your Handwriting

BY SHIRLEY SPENCER.

The very tall loops which Glenn Miller, the band leader, writes reveal an almost fanatical idealism. People who write loops as tall as these, and especially when the other letters are so small and low, are inevitably dreamers. They have some visionary ideas that don't fit in with the down to earth facts that often confront them. They live in an imaginary world of their own imagining and are often blissfully happy and complacent. They just don't see what they don't want to admit into their beautiful world.



Mr. Miller's idealistic loops certainly soar high, and his capitals in his signature and in the rest of his letters rise to heights that are sometimes 10 times that of his small letters. Music has power to carry him into a world of fantasy.

For your own Handwriting Analysis send 10 cents (in coin) and a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3 cent stamp, together with a sample of handwriting to Shirley Spencer, Box 116, General Postoffice, New York City. (IMPORTANT: Write 25 words and signature in ink.)

Never Expect Overnight Cure of Nervousness

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

If your child is behaving in those various ways which we describe as "being nervous," look back a little. Has he or she been ill? Or, to put the cart and the horse in the reverse order, if your son or daughter is convalescing from an operation or sickness, be prepared for a kind of behavior that is not, for him or her, quite normal. And be prepared, further, to look on at that irritability or contrariness, or what you consider "nervousness," as a logical aftermath of the illness.

The idea, and it's a fundamental one, is that it is impossible to separate the body from the personality. And personality is, at the moment perhaps, the best word to use to describe the mind, spirit, disposition, behavior, and character of a child.

Illness creates physiological changes in the body which can't be shut away in a compartment by themselves. And as a superintendent of nurses in a famous children's hospital once said to me: "There is a convalescence of personality as well as of body when a child has been ill. I wish more nurses and mothers could realize that."

But right here I want to give you warning on an important point. It is this: That whatever the cause of your child's nervousness [illness or some of the other causes we shall talk about another day] don't expect quick results. I don't mean that there aren't ever quick results when the causes of nervousness are removed, because there are. But what I mean is, don't expect quick or miraculous recoveries.

Parents Reveal Engagement of Miss Jill Fabian

At a luncheon yesterday in Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Fabian announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Jill, to Lieut. Reuben J. Ross Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross of New York City. Miss Fabian, whose formal name is Elizabeth, altho she always is called Jill to match her twin, Jack, returned on Friday from Jacksonville, Fla. She went south to visit her sister, Mrs. Corwith Davis, and to see her fiancé before he left Dale Mabry field near Tallahassee for an undisclosed post.

Miss Fabian is a senior at Smith college and her twin brother is in his last year at Yale. The older Fabian children are Mrs. Davis, Mrs. William Porter Sullivan, and Francis G. Fabian Jr. Lieut. Ross, who is in the army air corps, was graduated from St. George's and from Princeton university. He is a grandson of Mrs. Edwin Cramp and the late Mr. Cramp, veteran Philadelphia shipbuilder.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Flora Mariotti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent H. Mariotti of Newton Highlands, Mass., to James L. Houghteling Jr., son of the James Lawrence Houghtelings of Washington, D. C., and Winnetka. Miss Mariotti was graduated from Wellesley college last June. Mr. Houghteling, whose mother is a first cousin of President Roosevelt, was graduated from Yale last June.

At a luncheon on Saturday in the Pump room Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bennett of Lake Shore drive announced the engagement of their daughter, Marion, to Edward Harvey, son of Mrs. Clarence E. Harvey of Sheridan road. The wedding is planned for March.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. King Jr. of Winnetka announce the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor, to Raymond G. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Miller of Baltimore, Md. Miss King is in her senior year at Connecticut college. Ensign Miller, who was graduated from the United States Coast Guard academy, is with the Pacific fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Tweedie of Wheaton announce the engagement of their daughter, Joy, to John Olson Jr. of Wheaton. Miss Tweedie was graduated from Wellesley college and now is connected with the industrial relations section of the California School of Technology in Pasadena. Mr. Olson expects to be assigned shortly to the United States Air school.

From New York City comes word of the engagement of Miss Ann Maughs Meissel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Meissel of that city, formerly of Winnetka, to Ensign Lansing M. Hinricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Hinricks of Winnetka. The wedding is planned for March. Miss Meissel was graduated from the Roycemore School for Girls and attended the University of Wisconsin. Her fiancé was graduated from the school of chemical engineering at Purdue university.

The engagement of Miss Phyllis Ann Taylor to Edward Shipmas Foscue of Winnetka was announced at a small breakfast on Sunday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Lee Taylor of Winnetka. Miss Taylor attended Colby Junior college in New London, N. H., and now is a student at the National College of Education. Mr. Foscue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland B. Foscue of Winnetka, is a senior in the college of engineering at Duke university.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Dieterich of La Grange announce the engagement of their daughter, Juanita, to James M. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murrel Miller of Atlanta, Ill. Miss Dieterich is a graduate of Knox college and her fiancé is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson O. Walker of La Grange announce the engagement of their daughter, Katherine Constance, to William Kaye Estes, son of Dr. and Mrs. George D. Estes of Minneapolis, Minn. Miss Walker attended Stephens college and Stanford university, where she received her B. A. and M. A. degrees. Mr. Estes was graduated from the University of Minnesota. Both he and his fiancée are working toward their Ph. D. degrees at the university.

Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Wade of Oak Park announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Lieut. Williard Morris of Fort Sam Houston, Tex., son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Morris of River Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Hiller of Woodlawn avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Jeanne Louise, to Henry S. Sallinger.

WCTU Will Hold Annual Reception on New Year's

The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its seventh annual New Year's reception from 4 to 6 p. m. Thursday in the Evanston headquarters. Miss Bertha Rachel Palmer, director of the union's department of scientific temperance instruction, will be in charge of the reception, which will mark the start of the seventh annual seminar in alcohol education. Hot spiced punch [nonalcoholic] and cookies will be served at the reception.

On the House

Now we are told of experiments conducted which prove that even our window shades can be depended on to save on fuel and reduce heat losses. . . . Two shades at each window contribute a dead air space between shades and this has insulating value. . . . Closed Venetian blinds are also helpful when the day is bitterly cold. . . . And while doors do not transmit heat as readily as windows they are opened more frequently . . . hence some sort of storm door or vestibule is a fuel saver, as well as storm windows and weatherstripping. LOUISE BARGELT.

Beautiful White Wools

MISS' WHITE WINTER FROCKS.

An important midwinter fashion is white in wool crêpe and jersey. Naturally the styles should be simple to allow the pristine beauty of the fabric to shine unrivaled. Both these patterns are perfect for the rôle of white-in-winter.

Style No. 3437 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 2⅞ yards of 39 inch material.

Style No. 3113 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19. Size 15 requires 3⅜ yards of 39 inch material for dress, ⅛ yard of 35 inch red fabric for apples, and ⅛ yard of 35 inch green material for leaves and stems. Applique included in pattern.

Each patterns costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly. The winter pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Question 21 of the recent bridge examination was satisfactory to most readers, but, ironically enough, a strong complaint came from that faction which placed supreme faith in a "rule" from my own Gold Book. Question 21 was:

Rubber bridge; East-West vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

North	East	South	West
3 hearts	Pass	?

You are South and hold:

♠ K Q J 9 7 6 ♥ 2 ♦ Q 8 5 ♣ J 7 3.

What call do you make?

The official answer was "pass." A 25 point demerit was assessed against three spades, and 40 points demerit against any other call.

Several thousand examinees wrote in, calling my attention to the following statement on page 150 of the Gold Book: "With no raise or proper suit take-out [to an opening three-bid], but with one and a half to three honor tricks in at least two suits, responder should bid three no trump. Example: The opening bid having been three of any suit, responder should bid three no trump, holding: ♠ A 6 2 ♥ K 5 2 ♦ 10 7 4 ♣ 9 6 3 2."

I took it for granted that readers would appreciate the enormous bearing of a hand's distribution on whether or not it constituted a three no trump take-out to an opening three-bid. The example just quoted contains the traditional 4-3-3-3 distribution, whereas the hand in Question 21 had the 6-3-3-1 pattern. To the contestants who took the Gold Book statement so literally I can say only this: Suppose the hand in Question 21 had been as follows:

♠ K Q J 9 7 6 2 ♥ 2 ♦ Q 8 5 2 ♣ J

This hand also would contain the technical requirements of one and a half honor tricks. Would they still bid three no trump in response to three hearts? I sincerely hope not! Yet I have merely distorted the distribution so that we now have a 7-4-1-1 pattern.

The vital point is that in Question 21 South's distribution and the particular makeup of his honor tricks are totally unsuited to no trump play. He has the sketchiest sort of stoppers in both minor suits; he has no fit for hearts and his own spade suit figures to be worthless unless he finds the A-x of spades in North's hand.

I sincerely regret having to let down any of my disciples, but time and time again I have pointed out that textbook rules must be qualified and modified by the player's own common sense and logic.

TODAY'S HAND.

East, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

♠ 8
♥ K 10 7 6 4 3
♦ A 9

WEST
♠ K 7 4
♥ A J 8 2
♦ 7 5 4
♣ Q 6 2

EAST
♠ A 5
♥ Q
♦ K J 8 6 3 2

SOUTH
♠ Q J 10 9 6 3 2
♥ 9 5
♦ Q 10
♣ K 10

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	4 spades	Double [final bid]

South's preëmptive was somewhat too bold despite the vulnerability conditions.

West opened the diamond seven. This was ducked in dummy. East won and returned a diamond. Declarer should have utilized dummy's one sure entry for a lead up to his club king, but woodenly led the singleton trump. East hopped up with the ace and returned the heart queen [which he should have done at the second trick]. West took the ace and returned the deuce. Declarer finessed with the ten; East ruffed and properly returned another diamond. Declarer ruffed and led the ten of spades, in the hope that West would hold off with the king. West, however, hopped up with the spade king and used his low spade as a precious exit card, throwing declarer right back into his own hand. Eventually the defenders had to be given two club tricks, for a total of seven tricks and a penalty of 700 points.

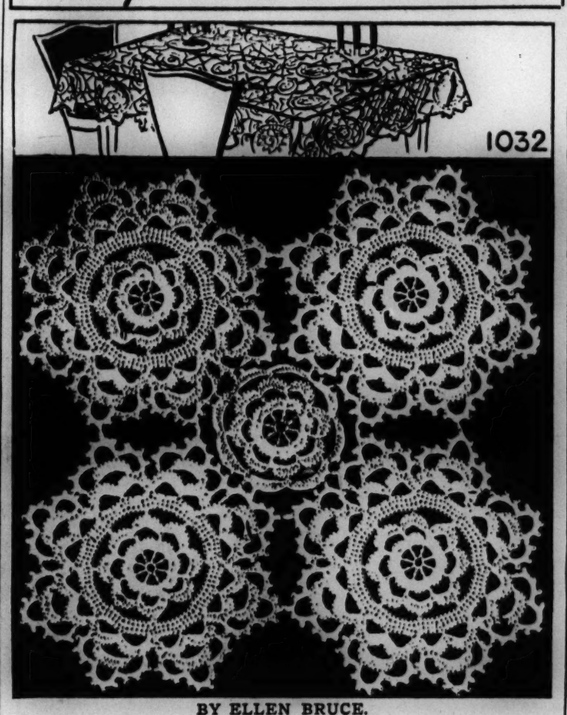
Pretty Crocheted Medallion



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Here is a handsome, crocheted medallion which is the foundation of a beautiful tablecloth. This lovely rose design may be used with equal effectiveness for a bedspread. The medallion is not difficult to crochet, and the central motif is the same as the first few rounds of the large design.

For instructions in crocheting the rose medallion, No. 1032, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Kopp Leads Illinois Symphony in Two Works New to Chicago

BY CECIL SMITH.

Even the venturesome Illinois Symphony orchestra has seldom if ever played a program filled with more violent contrasts than the one Leo Kopp conducted in the Civic theater last night. In the first half of the program one of the serenest of Bach's orchestral works, the fifth "Brandenburg" concerto, with the exquisite filigree of its adagio for solo flute, violin and piano, and its jovial finale in the form of a fugal gigue, was followed abruptly by the rhythmic barbarism and exotic postimpressionist instrumental colors of "Amazonas," by the Brazilian Hector Villa-Lobos.

After the intermission two works deriving from Negro music, with a considerable admixture of Tin Pan alley—William Grant Still's new "Plain Chant for Americans" and Jerome Kern's familiar "Ol' Man River"—stood in anthitesis to the sunny, superficial Symphonic Variations, Opus 78, by Dvorak.

"Amazonas," an early and undisciplined work, scarcely represents the most up to date aims and methods of Mr. Villa-Lobos. Tho not without its own special excitement, it owes a debt to Ravel and early Stravinsky. In its component of instruments may be found the archaic viola d'amore, which is nearly inaudible, and a piercing electrically amplified violin, known as the violinophone, which is horrendously audible.

Mr. Still's "Plain Chant for America" has none of the medieval suggestion its title gives. Less discreet in its choice of musical materials than the "Afro-American Symphony," it accompanies a patriotic text—sonorously and effectively sung by Jackson Smith—with a spread eagle musical commentary in musical comedy vein. Both the Villa-Lobos and the Still works were played for the first time in Chicago.

Betrothal in Secret Never Wise Practice

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

"My bashful beau proposed to me last week, and I accepted him. He bought my ring, but requested me not to wear it before his parents because he knows they do not wish him to spend the money on a ring.

"I have been over to his house during the last two months and have had dinner there, but no mention was made of our engagement. When we told my parents of our engagement, they invited his folks over for Thanksgiving dinner in order to meet them. But at the dinner no mention was made by his parents of the fact that we are engaged. My dad started to propose a toast, thinking to announce it that way, when my beau's father made the toast to good luck and health instead of to our engagement. There was no attempt during the entire evening to make mention of it. I feel deeply hurt. My fiancé says he did tell his parents that we plan to marry early in June. What shall I do?—Unhappy."

The young man's parents aren't taking the news very graciously, are they, Unhappy? But sometimes parents are like that. They can't bear to lose their son. They forget, however, that their parents were faced with the same loss at one time, and that the day of losing their boy to some girl is ahead of them, sooner or later.

We do think your dad might have forced the toast, regardless of interruption, and that your mother should have expressed herself.

We think you ought to wear the ring and forgo any attempts at secretiveness as long as your minds are made up to marry.

GAMBLING JURORS NAME 2 BOOKIES AS WIRE TAPPERS

First Indictment of Kind in County; Others Seen.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Indictments were voted yesterday charging Louis A. Sachs and his brother, David, with conspiracy to tap telephone wires in order to conduct a gambling business at 624 South Michigan avenue.

This is the first indictment of its kind ever voted in Cook county, and it was said to be the first of a series of indictments aimed at members of the gambling syndicate headed by Jack Guzik.

Two Months' Investigation.

The indictments came after an investigation that lasted two months. The inquiry was started after THE TRIBUNE obtained secret ledger sheets showing the Guzik gang was making millions of dollars every year in Cook county thru its slot machine racket, and in handbooks and rooms in which roulette, craps, and other gambling games were operated.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, who ordered the inquiry, said it is by no means concluded and that other indictments will follow. He said the January grand jury would take up where the December jury leaves off when it is discharged next Friday.

The indictment of some policemen was indicated by the prosecutor's actions, and it was said to be certain that an indictment naming "Dago" Lawrence Mangano, an old-time public enemy who, like Guzik, was a brothel employé of Al Capone, will be returned. It was expected that another may name Frank [Chew Tobacco] Ryan, the manager of the syndicate's downtown horse betting headquarters.

Race Information Center.

The Sachs brothers were held responsible for what police termed a "nerve" center—a telephone headquarters where racing information is received and rebroadcast, and where commission bets are received and in some instances "laid off" to other gamblers. "Dago" Mangano was found operating another such place at 59 East Chicago avenue. Ryan was arrested in another "nerve center" at 10 North Clark street.

The Sachs brothers were also charged in the indictment with conspiracy to obtain a lease for their gambling headquarters under a false name. They fled to Florida after the raid on their rooms Dec. 5. Some time later, however, they communicated with First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley and said they would appear before the grand jury and testify. Crowley said he wanted to trace their connection, if any, with the Guzik gang. However, they did not return to Chicago.

Mangano appeared at the grand juryroom yesterday. He was given a new subpena calling for his return on Jan. 13, but his possible indictment would preclude his being questioned then.

Allman Before Jury.

Police Commissioner Allman was before the jurors nearly all of yesterday afternoon. It was his first appearance there this month. He was questioned several times by the November jury, and as its term of service neared an end the jurors gave Allman information on gambling conditions which led him to abolish the police morals division, which had been in charge of gambling raids.

The December jury's summation was scheduled to be presented to Commissioner Allman yesterday. Courtney said recommendations may also be made by this jury to the mayor, commissioner of police, the courts, and other agencies for law enforcement.

UNION TO PICKET MAYWOOD DAIRY; PARLEYS ENDED

Picketing of the Maywood Farm Dairy company's plant and stores handling its products was promised for today by the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, local 753 [AFL], after negotiations for an agreement collapsed last night. The negotiations were proceeding thru the federal conciliation service.

Tom Haggerty, secretary and treasurer of the union, said the conferences ended when the company refused to sign an amended agreement with the union. B. M. Marshman, conciliator, said a meeting scheduled for today between the opposing sides had been canceled.

Marshman said he was notified by William Sloan, attorney for the company, that the board of directors had voted yesterday to cease negotiating with the union.

2 PANDAS BOUND FOR NEW YORK STOP IN CHICAGO

Two cousins of Mei Mei, the Brookfield zoo's panda, arrived in Chicago from San Francisco yesterday on the North Western railroad's Overland limited. The pandas, gifts to American children from Mme. Chiang Kai-shek and Mme. H. H. Kung in appreciation of American contributions to the United China relief, stopped here briefly en route to the New York City Zoological park.

The animals, one male and one female, were captured in western China by Dr. David Graham, curator of the University of West China. They were greeted at the North Western station by Edward H. Bean, director of Brookfield zoo. The male panda is 11 months old and weighs 70 pounds; the female is 8½ months old and weighs 50 pounds.

Physician to Face Court Today on Abortion Charge

Dr. Irving E. Mossman, 4900 Sheridan road, who was arrested Saturday by detectives attached to the coroner's office, was charged yesterday with performing an abortion. He will appear today in Felony court, following his release on bond of $1,000. Dr. Mossman is 47 years old.

Seized After Holdup; Admits Robberies

CENSURE FUNDS FOR FLOWERS IN '42 PARK BUDGET

Federation Officials Doubt Value in War.

The Civic federation, fiscal watchdog over municipal budget meetings, yesterday both blessed and censured the park district's proposed 1942 budget which calls for total appropriations of $23,130,744, an increase of $52,198 over 1941.

At a public hearing yesterday the federation approved the park district's "personnel administration" and "its fine civil service program." At the same time it asked for curtailment or elimination of a $347,154 item in the proposed budget to be used to maintain a staff of florists, gardeners, and artcraft, crafts and drama instructors.

Urge Every Possible Economy.

In a formal statement by Harland C. Stockwell, assistant executive secretary, the federation said:

"As you know the defense effort will require increasingly large contributions from the public. Every possible economy should therefore be practiced in local government and all activities not fundamentally essential should be sharply curtailed or abolished altogether. With this thought we question the propriety of the following types of appropriations in your tentative budget:

"Florists, $118,422; gardeners, $98,310; artcraft instructors, $49,405; crafts instructors, $46,320, and drama instructors, $34,697.

Not Essential Activities.

"We feel that floral displays in the parks can surely be largely dispensed with for the period of emergency. We question whether artcraft, crafts, or dramatics instruction are ever a proper function of a park district. Certainly they are not 'essential' activities under existing conditions."

Park district officials made no reply to the criticism during the public hearing. But they later countered with this statement:

"These instructors already have done a great service in the maintenance of civilian morale. There is great interest, for example, in aviation and aircraft, due in large measure to the classes in model plane building. Each of our crafts instructors also teaches classes in Red Cross work. These classes are extremely valuable in the prevention of civilian hysteria."

One of the items in the tentative budget calls for an appropriation of $100,000 "to aid or assist in the military or civilian defense." The money would be used only in the event it was needed.

CURSES UNIFORM, STABS SOLDIER; ORDERED TO JAIL

A man who cursed the uniform of a United States soldier and then slashed the soldier's face with a knife when he resented the insult, was sentenced to 60 days in the Bridewell yesterday by Judge John T. Zuris in Stockyards court.

The defendant was William Cyujko, 54 years old, 5001 South Paulina street, a 180 pound WPA laborer. On Oct. 27, according to the testimony, he insulted the uniform of Private John Zintek, 28, of 5120 South Wood street. Zintek slapped his face. They were separated by bystanders and while the soldier's back was turned, Cyujko stabbed him in the back of the head with a knife six inches long and slashed him deeply across the face. Zintek then knocked Cyujko sprawling in the gutter.

"This was a vicious stab in the back," Judge Zuris said. "The soldier is enlisted to protect his country. The least we can do is protect him from insult and knife attacks in civilian life."

Cyujko's attorney, Frank Meier, said he will appeal the sentence.

Lockup Keeper Suspended After Parolee Flees Cell

Commissioner Allman yesterday ordered the suspension of Marshall Harris, lockup keeper at the Englewood police station, as the sequel to the escape earlier in the day of Lawrence Johnson, a paroled convict, who had been arrested as a burglar. Johnson 49 years old, picked the lock of his cell door and escaped thru the station coal chute. The escape occurred between Lockup Keeper Harris' rounds at 2:15 a. m. and 2:30 a. m.

Union Official Placed on Probation After Theft

Eward Dobbin, 37 years old, 6923 South Campbell avenue, for three years treasurer of a union organized by employés of the Williamson Candy company, was placed on probation for five years yesterday by Chief Justice Robert J. Dunne of the Criminal court, on a charge of embezzling $2,600 in union funds. He made restitution of $650 in court, and has to repay the balance as a condition of his probation.

TOWN'S PRINCIPAL BUILDING BURNS.

Alabaster, Mich., Dec. 29 (AP).—Fire today destroyed Alabaster's principal building, a three story frame structure which contained offices of the United States Gypsum company, a general store, and a postoffice.

Bonds Total $2,000

William Lindsey, 22 years old, recently of 445 South Halsted street, who was seized by a policeman and an army major Saturday after a loop holdup, was held to the grand jury in total bonds of $2,000 on two robbery charges in the Felony court yesterday. His captors were Policeman Edward A. Gleason and Maj. Earle L. Miller. Lindsey admitted holding up two downtown hosiery shops. He said he wanted the money so he and his invalid wife could visit their small son in Racine, Wis., during the holidays. Lindsey used a piece of wood to simulate a gun.

TRAINING SCHOOL GUARDS SEIZE 6 TRYING ESCAPE

Alert guards frustrated an escape attempt by six inmates yesterday at the Illinois State Training School for Boys, near St. Charles. Altho all the boys reached the outside of the steel fenced grounds, they were quickly recaptured.

Russell W. Ballard, school superintendent, said the six inmates and the offenses for which they were committed are Edward House, 16 years old, 1524 Washburne avenue, truancy; Boyce Wilson, 16, of 3428 Dearborn street, strong arm robbery; Alvin McKinley, 16, of 5048 Forrestville avenue, stealing; William Christmas, 15, of 4747 Langley avenue, strong arm robbery; Ed Luckett, 17, of 4527 Wabash avenue, delinquency, and Eddie Baker, 16, of Champaign, larceny. All are colored.

The inmates, working inside the school grounds, made a sudden rush to the high steel fence and climbed over. Guards went after them at once. Wilson, who sprained an ankle in his drop on the other side of the fence, was nabbed first. McKinley, Christmas, Luckett, and Baker were found in nearby cornfields. House was found hiding in a hog barn.

BURGLARS STEAL VITAL TOOLS; 40 MAY LOSE JOBS

The burglars who entered the Torchweld Equipment company, 1035 Lake street, Sunday night did more than take 35 sets of micrometers and a set of precision machinist's tools—they put 12 men out of work. A total of 40 will lose their jobs by the end of the week unless the tools are replaced.

T. W. Russell, the manager, reported the burglary to Des Plaines street police and said the company is working on defense contracts for the army and navy. The firm has a priority rating but it will be difficult to replace the tools which were valued at $400.

The burglars left no marks of entry. Police were investigating the possibility the theft was committed or directed by some one acquainted with the interior of the plant.

Meat Stolen After Train Wreck; Autoists Sought

Police Chief William Higgins of Villa Park last night was seeking a number of motorists who spirited away sides of bacon and butchers' cuts of meat, scattered Sunday in front of the Villa Park station when eight cars of a Great Western freight left the rails. A broken axle was blamed for the wreck.

3 KILLED, 8 HURT AS AUTO SCRAPES BUS AND HITS CAR

Ordnance Workers Made Late by Traffic Snarl.

Three men were killed and eight other persons were injured seriously yesterday in a head-on collision between two automobiles in Highway 66A, seven miles south of Joliet. A score of men riding in a Joliet bus, which also figured in the accident, were shaken up.

The dead were James T. Murphy, 45 years old, of Cherry, in Bureau county; Robert Reed, 20, of 704 Jefferson street, Lockport, and Willis R. Yazel, 56, of Mishawaka, Ind.

Injured in Two Hospitals.

Those injured and in either St. Joseph's hospital or the Silver Cross hospital in Joliet are: Yazel's wife, Phoebe, 55; his daughters, Mrs. Priscilla Fordyce, 24, of Mishawaka, and Mrs. Austin Gebert, 34, of 3836 Delmar boulevard, St. Louis, Mo.; his granddaughters, Iris Babcock, 16, and Colleen Babcock, 15, who are Mrs. Gebert's daughters; Raymond Yazel, 26, of Mishawaka, a cousin of the Yazels; William Bracken, 24, of 509 Singer avenue, Lemont, and Frank Saltzer, 47, of 706 Williamson avenue, Joliet.

In one car were Mr. and Mrs. Yazel, Mrs. Fordyce, Mrs. Gebert, the Babcock girls, and Raymond Yazel. In the other car were Murphy, Reed, Bracken, Snitzer, and Joseph Preboy, 28, of Columbia street, Joliet, all employés of the Elwood ordnance plant.

According to police, Mrs. Fordyce was driving north, and her car accidentally sidewiped a southbound Joliet city line bus loaded with men on their way to work at the ordnance plant. She lost control of the car, and a second later it crashed head-on into the other car a short distance behind the bus.

Two persons identified as Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Grieb, 1020 Lawrence avenue, were killed near Fort Wayne, Ind., yesterday when their auto skidded and overturned.

Frank Seifert, 69 years old, an itinerant who lives near Dyer, Ind., was killed early today when he was struck on Kruse road, near the Sauk trail, by the auto of Wilbur Peters, 21, of near Chicago Heights.

Physician Dies of Injuries.

Dr. Thomas W. Plant, 52, of 4935 North Kentucky avenue, a member of the staff of St. Mary's hospital, died yesterday of injuries suffered on Dec. 23 when his car struck a safety island at Central Park avenue and Irving Park road.

Louis Abete, 33, of 7257 South Mozart street, a radio repairman, died in County hospital, the victim of a hit and run driver in the 6100 block of South Western avenue.

Hector J. Bedard, former president of the village of Clarendon Hills, adjacent to Hinsdale in Du Page county, was injured fatally when his automobile struck a tree on Route 83 at 47th street, Clarendon Hills. He died in the Hinsdale sanitarium. Police said a heart attack may have caused him to lose control of his car. Bedard was 43, an accountant, and lived at 11 Golf avenue, Clarendon Hills.

Auto Victim's Body Found.

The body of Mrs. Anna Tooman, 82, of Braidwood, was found in a ditch off School street, in Braidwood, yesterday. She had been missing since Dec. 24. Police said she appeared to have been killed by a hit and run driver. Braidwood is in Will county.

Frank Vesely, 17, of 1822 South 55th avenue, Cicero, died in Loretto hospital of injuries suffered Nov. 11 in a collision of two automobiles on U. S. Highway 66, five miles south of Downers Grove, in Du Page county. Two other persons were killed at the time.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 973 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 681 were killed in Chicago, where 26,478 were injured in the same period.

JOB SEEKER, 70, CHEATED OUT OF $17 BY CON MAN

Joseph Poloncy, 70 years old, 3617 Cermak road, told Lawndale police yesterday that he had been seeking a job as a watchman for some time. Yesterday morning a man who represented himself as a physician from St. Luke's hospital knocked at Poloncy's door and said he could get him a job if he had a uniform. Poloncy paid him $17 and accompanied him to County hospital, where the man said he was to pick up some X-ray plates. Then, he told Poloncy, they would go to St. Luke's and get the uniform. After waiting in the lobby four hours, Poloncy decided it was time to tell the police about the confidence man who defrauded him.

LOYOLA WINS, 57-52; OHIO, MICHIGAN LOSE

SILVER SKATES' FIRST ENTRANT MAY FINISH NO. 1

Ralph Lehnhardt Is the Name.

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

Ralph Lehnhardt.

The first entrant in the 1942 Silver Skates also has an idea he will lead the way to the finish line in the senior men's competition of the Derbies, which will be held in Garfield park Jan. 17 and 18 under the auspices of The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Ralph Lehnhardt, 18 years old and a graduate of Tilden Technical High school, is the skater looking forward to a big year. Ralph set aside the comics and other favorite features in THE TRIBUNE early Sunday morning, filled out the entry blank and then glided to the nearest mail box. Lehnhardt's entry was far ahead of many others which arrived during the day, and he hopes to have similar success against the Chicago district's outstanding performers on the ice rink.

First Try in Senior Events.

Lehnhardt lives with his parents and his brother Gerald, on the southwest side. However, he was found exactly where a skater with championship aspirations would be—practicing his favorite sport in Gage park. Ralph occasionally takes time out from his duties as an attendant at his father's service station to enjoy a few hours' skating in Gage park or Orland park. He frequently is accompanied by Gerald, who is 20 years old, and also has made several attempts to win Silver Skates.

"This will be my first attempt in the senior class competition of the Silver Skates Derbies," Lehnhardt said. "I believe it will be the same as participating in any other division—skate fast enough and you'll beat the field. I have seen many of the leading senior skaters in Chicago in competition and I think I can whip 'em."

He's a One Sport Man.

Winning in the Silver Skates will be no new experience to Lehnhardt. Four years ago he won the juvenile championship. He attempted to capture the intermediate title last season, but finished fourth after a poor start. A representative of the Barrett Athletic club, Lehnhardt did have considerable success in other events last winter, winning the city half mile title and later the Illinois state mile championship.

Lehnhardt has little interest in other sports. He followed the Tilden Tech baseball, football, and basketball teams while in school, but participated in only the Tilden Tech ice skating events. However, he tried bicycle racing last September, entering the Elgin to Chicago road race, but abandoned this sport and says he will stick to speed skating as long as he can.

A bulging envelope trailed Lehnhart's letter. It was forwarded to THE TRIBUNE by Frederick N. Jewell, choir director of St. Ann's Episcopal church, who entered 26 choir boys in the midget, juvenile, junior, and intermediate classes.

CITY ICE SKATING MEET SHIFTED TO WAVELAND RINK

The city ice skating championships will be held in Waveland park, Irving park road at the lake shore, on Thursday afternoon, instead of Humboldt park, where the meet previously was scheduled, Bill Beck, coach of the Northwest Skating club, announced yesterday.

At the same time the Chicago Park District's annual championship meet Saturday was shifted from Garfield park to Waveland rink. Park workers are busy flooding the big baseball and football fields at Waveland and by tomorrow indications are that ideal ice will be available for public skating.

Lou was shifted to third base so Franklin could operate at short. . . . Bobby Robertson, University of Southern California half back, is spending his Christmas "vacation" doing bit parts in the movies. . . . Walter Mehl, Wisconsin distance star, now engaged in graduate work at his alma mater, made his third trip to the Sugar bowl track meet this year. . . . Both Cubs and Sox will skip El Paso, Tex., on their exhibition jaunts this year, the first time in many springs the city has not been scheduled for a visit by one or both of the Chicago teams. But it wasn't because El Paso is a border town, exposed to government clamping down. Both Sox and Cubs are scheduled to visit San Diego, a much hotter spot than El Paso.

To Remember.

Now in these twilight days of late December,
We fain would pause awhile just to remember—
The first blue violets we found in May,
June roses on a bank—a summer day;
Above a hill, a harvest moon hung high,
And there a winding road, and you and I
Upon our way—beneath a moonlit sky.
The days are marching to a slower measure,
And as the shadows fall, we closely treasure
Each memory—the things we value most,
Retrieve, perhaps, some dream that we have lost.

When War Is in the Air.

When war is in the air, I like to think
Of quiet nooks beneath the sturdy trees,
Where on a branch a lonely bobolink
Sings to the world a vesper hymn of peace.

When war is in the air, I like to pause
Within my garden to inhale at ease
The sweetness and the fragrance of the rose,
Which gives my heart a taste of perfect peace.

When war is in the air, I like to read
The Book of Ruth, a simple love affair;
No battle records, not a sign of greed,
But all so tranquil and so peaceful there.

When war is in the air, I like to hear
Refrain of carols from the Syrian plain,
Glad tidings from above to quell our fear,
And give us hope of righteous peace again.

COACHES URGE ONLY MINOR RULE CHANGES FOR '42

Suggested Alterations Would Aid Offense.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 29 (AP).—The nation's football coaches today adopted a hands-off policy on their playing code and passed only relatively minor suggestions, all designed to aid the offense, on to the game's rule makers.

Chairman Lou Little of Columbia, emerging from a day long session with the American Football Coaches association rules committee, said fewer suggestions for changes had been introduced than at any time since the body was formed a decade ago.

Would Create Balance.

Suggestions, to be presented Jan. 4 at Phoenix, Ariz., to the National Collegiate Athletic association's official rules committee, were:

1. The team scored upon by either a touchdown or field goal is to have optional choice of goal. This is designed to create offensive balance, Little said, particularly when the wind advantage is great.

2. Clarification of the stubstitution rule to remove the possibility of the so-called sleeper play.

3. Revision of the lateral pass rule which nullifies a play downfield when the ball is passed forward. The coaches would make this a five yard penalty from the point of infraction. Now the ball is returned to the line of scrimmage.

Reject Some Changes.

4. Placing a penalty for sending a substitute on the field after the offensive team has left the huddle or gone into formation. Penalty: Loss of a time out.

5. Revision of the substitution rules to permit players to report to any one of the officials.

Little said that the committee had rejected proposals to move the goal posts back to the goal line, permit a forward pass from any distance behind the line of scrimmage instead of the present five yard regulation and also advance the ball by the defensive team on a fumble.

How Sleeper Play Works.

He explained that the sleeper play referred to the practice of hiding out a player, who was presumably going to the bench, and then converting him into a receiver of a cross-field pass.

"The committee feels there now is a happy balance in offense and defense," Little explained. "The offense has a small edge, which is as it should be, and we are trying to keep it that way."

Little said that a questionnaire sent to 600 football coaches had yielded 27 suggested changes, an unusually small number, and that there had been no recommendations for drastic rules changes.

The coaches' recommendations will be presented at Phoenix by Little and H. O. [Fritz] Crisler of Michigan, association president.

Meetings Start Today.

The coaches open formal sessions tomorrow, meeting in conjunction with the NCAA. Army and navy officials will speak on a program dealing with the contribution of competitive athletics in the war crisis.

Philip O. Badger of New York university, NCAA president, said he expected his organization, confined largely to a policy making rôle, to urge colleges to continue full athletic programs.

"We're not conducting a circus or show, you know," he said, "but athletic programs are in the interest of public morale."

Bobby Riggs Wins Over Donald Budge, 9-7, 6-4

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 [Special].—Bobby Riggs defeated Don Budge, 9-7, 6-4, tonight in their first match of the professional tennis tour. It was the second defeat for Budge, who lost to Frank Kovacs in the opening match at New York. Kovacs beat Gene Mako, 6-2, 6-3. Mako was subbing for the injured Fred Perry.

Mount Carmel Gains Another Final

Mount Carmel, winner of the title in 1939, last night again reached the final game of the Fenwick pre-season junior basketball tourney in Fenwick's gymnasium with a 37-21 semi-final victory over St. Michael's. Tonight the south siders will meet St. Philip's, which gained the final by defeating St. Patrick's 33 to 26. In the above photo the players whose numbers are visible: Capt. Tringalli of St. Michael's (14); John Kempfer, Mount Carmel (18); Charles O'Connor (4), and Joe Neumann (7), both of St. Michael's.

Eight high school basketball teams, two representing each section of the city, won their way into the second round of the University of Chicago's 24th annual interscholastic tourney by victories in the first round yesterday in the Midway fieldhouse. The winners were Crane, Tilden, Harper, Marshall, Lane, Morgan Park, Von Steuben, and Lindblom.

The roster of the second round, to be played tomorrow, will be completed by today's games, the feature of which will be the second phase of Du Sable's title defense, which will occur against Roosevelt at 8 p. m.

Today's competition will see 16 more teams, 12 of which will be playing their first tourney contests, battling for the eight remaining second round berths. Following second round play tomorrow, the quarterfinals will be played on New Year's day, the semi-finals Friday, and the finals Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Burke Leads Scorers.

Little Bob Burke, the Tilden lightweight squad's star, failed to be high scorer in his team's victory over Wells, but the six points he made, added to the 19 scored in Saturday's elimination round, gave him a substantial lead in individual scoring in the tourney with 25 points. Threatening his position, however, are a trio who have played in only a single game. Nathaniel Clifton, Du Sable's 6 foot 6 inch leader, got 19 Saturday, and in yesterday's play George Thomas of Lane made 18 and Israel Acker of Marshall scored 17.

With the exception of Marshall, which won only after a hard-fought and exciting campaign in the final minutes of its game against Kelly,

Chicago Asks for National Amateur Golf

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Mr. George S. May, the enterprising gentleman whose name is synonmous with Tam o' Shanter Country club and the successful conduct of two valuable golf tournaments thereat, yesterday sent an unusual New Year's card to the United States Golf association. In his greeting, he also included what is probably the most progressive sports invitation in the present wartime situation.

George's bid consists of asking the USGA, when it convenes in annual meeting a week from Saturday in New York, to transfer the 1942 National amateur golf tournament already awarded to California, to Chicago and blend its finishing pattern in with the $15,000 Tam o' Shanter open tourney, richest golf show of the year, next September. If the USGA were to accept the invitation of May and his board of directors, [and the possibility of a transfer because of the present war complexion on the Pacific Coast was indicated over the week-end], Chicago golfers would be witnesses to an unparalleled seven days of competition.

Plan a Double Tourney.

The National Amateur was awarded by the USGA to California's famed Pebble Beach links for the week of Sept. 7, continuing thru Saturday, Sept. 12. May and his board anticipated their 1942 Tam open dates as far back as the highly successful 1941 tournament. They chose the dates of Sept. 10, 11, 12 and 13.

Under the plan outlined in yesterday's invitation, the two tournaments could be played simultaneously. The schedule would be adjusted by making the Tam o' Shanter open a three day event, with a thirty-six hole final round, instead of the four single eighteen hole rounds held last year.

The joint schedule would ensue in the following form:

Monday, Sept. 7.—Medal play qualifying in amateur.

Tuesday, Sept. 8.—Continuation of amateur qualifying.

Wednesday, Sept. 9.—Sixty-four low amateurs in 18-hole morning matches; 32 survivors in 18-hole afternoon matches.

Thursday, Sept. 10.—Sixteen survivors in 18-hole morning matches; 8 survivors in afternoon matches.

Friday, Sept. 11.—Four semifinalists in amateur playing 36-hole matches; field in $15,000 open plays 18 holes.

Saturday, Sept. 12.—Finalists in amateur play 36-hole championship match; open field plays 18 holes.

Sunday, Sept. 13.—Thirty-six holes for open field.

Here's the Telegram.

The telegram forwarded to the USGA included the following significant lines:

ST. PHILIP AND MT. CARMEL GAIN FENWICK FINAL

St. Philip and Mount Carmel reached the final round in the third annual Fenwick junior basketball tournament last night. St. Philip defeated St. Patrick, 33 to 26, and Mount Carmel beat St. Michael, 37 to 21, both semi-final games being played in the new Fenwick gym.

St. Philip and Mount Carmel will clash for the title tonight at 9 o'clock. St. Michael and St. Patrick will playoff for third place in a preliminary game at 8 o'clock. Lineups:

500 MILE RACE OFF; MAY RUN SHORTER EVENT

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 29 (AP).—In place of the annual 500 mile Indianapolis motor speedway race, suspended today for the duration of the war, a 100 mile dirt track race may be run at the Indiana state fairgrounds.

Lou Moore, president of the Indianapolis Automobile Racing association, Inc., said the association would apply tomorrow for American Automobile association sanction of the fairgrounds race on May 30. It had been set for June 21. Cars built for the 500 mile race would be used.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, speedway president, and T. E. Myers, general manager, announced suspension of the big race today. They pointed out it consumed rubber, fuel, and other materials needed in the war effort.

The speedway race has been held annually since 1911 with the exception of 1917 and 1918, when it was suspended because of the first World war. Crowds have been estimated unofficially up to 500,000.

Santa Clara, Cal., Dec. 29 (AP).—Loyola university of Chicago defeated the University of Santa Clara, 57 to 52, tonight in a thrilling overtime period basketball game.

The Broncos led, 26 to 25, at half time and the teams were tied with 50 points each at the end of the regular playing period.

In the five minute overtime period Stanton, Loyola forward, broke up the game with a field goal and a free throw.

Patrick of Santa Clara was high scorer with 10 field goals and one free throw for 21 points, while Mickey Rottner and Stanton tied for second with 16 each.

Loyola plays California in Berkeley tomorrow night. Lineup:

OHIO LOSES, 60-45

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 29 (AP). — Stanford's towering basketball men bottled up Ohio State tonight, forced it to play a long-shooting game and won easily, 60 to 45. Stanford led at the half, 28 to 17.

The Indians took the lead from the start and held it thruout. Their tremendous reach—they average 6 feet 3—compelled the visitors to attempt long shots.

Ohio State's most serious threat came in the second half when the visitors once climbed to within three points of the leaders.

BUTLER WINS, 45-37

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 29 [Special].—Butler's big sophomore center, Glenn Miller, stopped the scoring antics of Michigan's Jimmy Mandler in the second half tonight and Butler went on to win, 45 to 37. It was Michigan's second defeat in three starts.

Before that Mandler had given the Butler team some anxious moments. There was his burst of three straight goals early in the first half, for instance, which quickly transformed a 5 to 3 Butler advantage into a 5 to 10 deficit. After Mandler's barrage it took hard work on Butler's part to square matters at 19 to 19 at intermission.

BRADLEY TECH WINS

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 29 (AP).—Bradley Tech's Braves won their fourth game in six starts tonight by defeating the University of Oklahoma quintet, 47 to 42.

Paced by Forward Ray Ramsey and Guard Bill Chinuge, each of whom tallied 14 points, Bradley had a 41 to 33 lead until Oklahoma rallied and climbed to within five points with four minutes to go. Tech then stalled successfully. Center Gerald Tucker and Guard Dick Reich were high scorers for Oklahoma with 11 points each. Lineup:

OKLAHOMA [42]	G	F	P	BRADLEY [47]	G	F	P

OREGON STATE LOCKS DOORS TO ROSE BOWL DRILL

Durham's All Agog About Transplanted Game.

Durham, N. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—Tobacco Town turned into Times Square with a southern accent today.

Football fans poured in for Thursday's transplanted Rose bowl festivities. Hotels hung out the S. R. O. sign and speculators were getting a mere $15 per copy for regular $4.40 pews in Duke's sunken stadium, where the Blue Devils and Oregon State welcome the new year.

Stiner Locks Gates.

But the loudest buzz of the day came from Chapel Hill, 11 miles away, where Coach Lon Stiner locked the doors on the last tough workout of his busy Beavers from the Pacific coast. You had to have an identification tag and an okay from Washington to get thru the gates. Sports writers were barred.

The question in these parts was just what came over the up to now easy going, open handed Stiner to cause him to pull the shades down. Some said he, like Wallace Wade of the Dukes, was figuring on the surprise element involved in this game.

Neither Coach Lon nor his small band of zippy youngsters had lost any of their confidence, despite the word that Left Tackle Lloyd Wickett's old left shoulder injury was acting up again and the 200 pounder had to be strapped up in a special pad.

Wade ran Duke thru a full drill and reported only one casualty—Moffat Storer, the 6 foot half back whose knee is ailing. However, this didn't cause any shift in the 1 to 3 odds on Duke, because the No. 1 Blue Devil, solid Steve Lach, was still ready to go.

Rose bowl officials announced today that these men would officiate in the football game between Oregon State and Duke here Thursday:

Lee Ison of California, referee; Gus Tebell of Wisconsin, umpire; E. T. [Curley] Saunders of Washington and Lee, field judge, and Douglas Lowell of the College of Idaho, head linesman.

SUGAR BOWL FOES SET

New Orleans, La., Dec. 29 (AP).—The Sugar bowl football rivals began tapering off today for their New Year's day meeting with no casualties—and no alibis.

Coaches Jim Crowley of Fordham and Don Faurot of Missouri pronounced their teams intact and ready to go, with no more rough practice scheduled that might cause injury to a key player. Crowley declared his Rams, who have been holding two workouts daily at Bay St. Louis, Miss., to make up for time lost because of cold weather in New York, were "coming along just as we want them." The Rams held only one drill today.

Missouri's Tigers did their last hard work this afternoon and Faurot announced "We're all right except for the usual number of minor bruises here and there." In comparatively good shape when they arrived at their Edgewater Park, Miss., training quarters, the Tigers have held only one session a day.

GEORGIA, T. C. U. DRILL

Miami, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP).—Georgia's Bulldogs got their first look at the Orange bowl stadium today, while their New Year's day opponents, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs, went thru a two hour scrimmage.

Coach Wally Butts gave his Georgia eleven a relatively mild workout, concentrating on offensive play. All-America Half Back Frankie Sinkwich was in fine form during a lengthy passing session.

The Horned Frogs ended four days of virtual idleness with today's scrimmage. Coach Dutch Meyer closed the gates to spectators while he attempted to sharpen the Christian attack with blocking practice and prolonged offensive work. The entire T. C. U. squad, except Reserve Center Bill Blackstone, participated in the rough work. Blackstone is suffering from a slight shoulder injury.

ALABAMA REACHES DALLAS

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 29 (AP).—A crowd of booted, pistol-shooting chamber of commerce cowboys yelled a western welcome today as Alabama's crimson tide rolled in for its New Year's game with Texas A. & M. in the Cotton bowl.

The visiting players were loaded aboard a fire truck and paraded to the center of the business district where Mayor Woodall Rodgers made the address of welcome. About 80 persons were in the Alabama party. The Aggies will reach Dallas tomorrow afternoon.

HOLD RITES FOR JOSEPH SMILEY OF N. U. TONIGHT

Funeral services for Joseph E. [Pat] Smiley, football and baseball star at Northwestern university from 1898 to 1901, will be held in the Woodlawn Methodist church at 8 o'clock tonight. Mr. Smiley who resided at 6017 Harper avenue, died Sunday night after a brief illness. He was 66 years old.

Last June, Mr. Smiley received a service award from the Northwestern University Alumni association of which he was a vice president. He was an officer in the N. U. club of Chicago and had served as vice president of the university's student alumni council. He was connected with the real estate firm of McKay and Poague and was a trustee of the Woodlawn Methodist church. Survivors are the widow, Grace Shuman Smiley, and four children.

LINCOLNSHIRE PARTY.

More than 350 are expected for the annual New Year's eve party of Lincolnshire Country club in the big clubhouse at Crete. Dancing will be continuous thru breakfast Thursday morning.

HENRY EDWARDS, PUBLICITY HEAD OF A. L., RESIGNS

Former Sports Editor, 70, Will Retire.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Henry Pierpont Edwards, who graduated from sports page editing to the rôle of publicity dispenser for the American league, will go into retirement Feb. 1 next. The move was confirmed yesterday by Will Harridge, American league president, following a "confidential" leak in New York.

The American league owners acted on the resignation at their meeting here early this month by establishing a pension for Edwards, but Harridge wished to keep the whole affair secret until shortly before the retirement date. The league president, so far as is known, hasn't acted on filling the position.

Edwards, now 70 years of age, was sports editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer for 28 years. When the late E. S. Barnard, business manager of the Cleveland club, was elected president of the league he invited Edwards to create a public relations department. Edwards took up his new duties Feb. 1, 1928. As soon as his retirement is effective he will locate in Huntsville, Ala.

James Dykes, the Marco Polo of baseball, flitted thru the city again yesterday, this time headed from east to west. The White Sox manager was on his way from his Pennsylvania home to Los Angeles and vicinity, his second hegira to the west coast since the city series. During his brief stop here he buzzed for an hour with Harry Grabiner, White Sox vice president, but insisted that baseball was only a small portion of their conversation.

8 Prep Teams Gain 2d Round in Tournament

none of yesterday's winners was seriously pressed. Outdistanced at the start, Marshall pulled even at the half only to go under again, so that it was necessary to pick up ten points to lead for the first time less than two minutes before the game. A long shot by Acker and a short push shot by Julian Gross, with seconds to go, won the game, 33 to 30.

Harper Rallies to Win.

Of the two south section winners, Harper won, 36 to 27, over Sullivan in the second half, after trailing by a point at the half, and Morgan Park picked up a 7 point lead and then coasted thru two quarters, defeating Harrison, 35 to 21. Both of the north side victors overcame weaker opposition. Lane Tech by 41 to 22 over Foreman, and Von Steuben, which stood off Bowen's drive in the final periods to win, 29 to 21.

Crane Tech, the second west section winner, with Marshall, trailed by a single point at the half and could gain only a like margin in the third period. In the stretch, however, the Tech team put on a spurt which brought the 32 to 25 margin over Parker.

Tilden, first of the central section teams to enter the second round, did so on a 30 to 20 defeat of Wells. Lindblom, second of the central section teams to survive the first round, left little doubt of its superiority over McKinley's team, swinging into an early lead and increasing the advantage to win, 34 to 20.

WILDCATS FACE 3 'BIG' GAMES; IRISH ARE FIRST

Northwestern's basketball team will usher in a strenuous postholiday campaign when it meets Notre Dame in the Evanston High school gymnasium tomorrow night. The game with the Irish will be followed by the Big Ten conference opener with Indiana Saturday and a game with Minnesota Monday. All three games will be played in Evanston.

The continued illness of Bud Hasse, regular center, has forced Coach Dutch Lonborg to reshuffle his lineup for tomorrow night's game. Don Clawson will start at center in place of Hasse, while Capt. Henry Clason has been shifted from guard to forward.

In addition to Clason the players who will be trained for double rôles are Don Kruger, forward and guard; Ted Esser, center and guard, and Bobby Jake, forward and guard.

Northwestern comes up to its final pre-conference test with a record of consecutive victories over Western Michigan, Butler, and Pittsburgh. The Wildcats have set a fast scoring pace by rolling up 151 points in the three games for an average of 51 points per game while holding opponents to an average of 37 points per game.

The Wildcat attack centers around Sophomore Otto Graham, who has scored 61 points.

ILLINOIS VS. HARVARD

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 29 [Special].—Harvard's touring basketball team will meet Illinois here tomorrow night. The easterners are coached by Earl Brown, former basketball and football star at Notre Dame. Bob Lutz of Gary, Ind., who scored six field goals as Harvard was losing to Bradley, 48 to 44; George Burditt of La Grange, who got three; Ed Buckley of Ely, Minn., and Ed Rothschild of Winnetka, are middle westerners with the Crimson.

Illinois Ice Skaters Plan Public Schools

A Hale America physical fitness program designed to teach outdoor ice skating to the public got under way yesterday when champion skaters and officials of the Illinois Skating association met with Carl Stockholm, physical fitness representative of the Sixth civilian defense region, and William Steinmetz, Chicago metropolitan representative of physical fitness in the national defense program.

The plans were submitted to Herbert J. Knudten, president of the Illinois Skating association for him to call a committee meeting of skating experts and draw up a method of operation to conduct free schools on rinks thruout the city during the winter months. In joining the nationwide movement for improving the health of the American people the Illinois Skating association becomes a part of the greatest schedule of sports participation the nation has ever known.

"Public spirited organizations like the skating association which is willing to teach civilians to skate," Stockholm asserted, "are doing their part in helping the United States win the war."

Champions of the sport represented at the meeting included Francis Allen, winner of a string of titles in 1924; Leo Freisinger, who has won six national championships; Vic Ronchetti, former national champion; Misses Elaine Bogda Gordon and Shirley Jane Burnett, current girls' titleholders, and such former stars of the ice as Fred Buengen, Earl W. Solem, Julian Steinmetz, George O'Connell, Harvey Johnson, and Pete Miller, president of the Amateur Skating union of the United States.

Others active in skating present were Sid Novak, secretary of the Illinois Skating association and the A. S. U., Carmen Tortorelli, Harry Berz, Phil Pritikin, Bud Solem, Louis Pohl, William Himmer, Robert Helford, and V. F. Herniund, general supervisor of physical activities for the Chicago parks district.

NORGE SKI CLUB TO HOLD ITS 36TH TOURNEY JAN. 18

The Central Ski association yesterday sanctioned Sunday, Jan. 18, as the date of the Norge Ski Club's 36th annual tournament on the famous Norge hill in Fox River Grove. As this will be the only meet held on that date, the prospect of having all the leading jumpers in the country is good.

The officials of the Norge Ski club again hope to be able to obtain permission for the skiers in the Royal Norwegian Air corp, who are now training at their base in Toronto, Canada, to participate in the tourney.

Great Lakes at Work—and at Play

College Stars at Great Lakes Ask for No Favors—Get None

"Hup, two, three, four, hup, two, three, four—get into step there—hup, two—keep those rifles lined up—hup, two, three—don't look down at the deck—hup, two—right shoulder—ARMS!—keep the cadence—hup, two, three, four——."

Jargon to the layman, perhaps, but a platoon of young men learning to be first class sailors for a first class navy knew exactly what the words were all about and responded to them yesterday with snap and precision as they streamed in a steady tempo from the lips of Paul Christman, U. S. N., chief boatswain's mate commanding company 205 of the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Christman, Missouri's great quarter back of 1938, 1939, and 1940, and a member of the Chicago Tribune All-Star football team in 1941, is one of a rapidly growing group of young fellows whose names have been bywords on the sports pages of the nation and who are now doing important parts in the task of national defense.

He Earns His Rank.

But it wasn't his—or their—prowess in athletics that won Christman an immediate rating which in time of peace usually requires from 12 to 16 years of continual service to achieve. Rather, it was his college degree and the military training he received while earning it that was responsible. Paul is training recruits because that happens to be where he can be of most service to the navy, not because he was a collegiate football star.

The same is true of Bob Feller, who recently was inducted at Great Lakes and is expected to embark soon for preliminary training at Norfolk, Va., of members of Great Lakes' basketball team, which has won eight games in nine starts against strong collegiate competition, and of all the other athletes, famous and otherwise, now serving at the training station.

Jim Currie, floor captain of the basketball team, is also a chief petty officer. But John Lobsiger, high scoring former Missouri star, is only a yeoman, third class. The answer is that Currie's training qualified him for a high rating; Lobsiger's did not.

Christman Tells His Story.

How do they like their jobs? Well, let Christman, who could have made a handsome sum playing pro football or could have laid the foundation for a fine business career, tell you about it.

"I'm doing something I really like," he said. "I like navy life and my job is swell. Football? No, I haven't given it any thought. I suppose I would play if I were stationed where there happened to be a team, but I'm not worrying about it. The navy is my job. Football is only a pleasant sideline I can take or leave alone without losing any sleep over it."

The husky, blond chief has no bed of roses, either. He gets up at 5:30 each morning. He drills his company the required six hours daily—really drills it. He and the petty officers assigned to his company hold intensive courses in seamanship for all hands, as well. And in his few leisure moments he studies naval affairs, history, and tactics.

Members of the basketball team are equally busy at their jobs. Dick Klein, for instance, is a boatswain's mate, first class, in Christman's company. He assists Paul in drill, seamanship and manual of arms instruction. If he had to give up basketball tomorrow, it wouldn't make a bit of difference to the navy. Perhaps it wouldn't even make much difference to Klein. He loves the game, but his big interest in life right now is seeing to it that men assigned to him for instruction become the kind of sailors America has the right to expect in its navy.

Insurance Salesmen Here, Too.

Jim Van Orsdel, Frank Baumholtz, George Rung, Forrest Anderson, Bob Calihan, Bill Menke, and Bob White, all basketball players, are also boatswain's mates of varying classes, assisting in the training of recruits. Lobsiger, as mentioned, pounds a typewriter for eight hours each day as a secretary-stenographer in the public relations office. Bob Osterman, former Notre Dame football player, is a seaman in the station insurance office.

Then there is Ensign Paul Soper, who once lugged footballs for Northwestern. Ensign Soper is assistant athletic officer, in which capacity he enacts a trouble shooting rôle for Lieut. J. Russell Cook, athletic officer. Does Ensign Soper have much to do? Listen:

"I'll be glad to knock off this afternoon. Had the patrol duty for 24 hours and I'm sort of behind on my sleep. Yeah, guess I'll take it easy tonight. Big day tomorrow."

Athletes? Sure they are, every one. But they are sailors first and they don't let anybody forget it. Dick Klein summed up the attitude of each when he said:

"Hell's bells! The only thing that will impress the Japs and Nazis is the licking they're going to get. Press clippings won't help in that at all!"

*First team selection in 1940.

Western division clubs led the rush yesterday when release of the National league's 12th annual All-League team disclosed stars from their section had been selected in 15 of the first 22 places.

Sixty players received votes in the ballot in which a committee of nine newspapermen participated. Three of the players—Don Hutson, Green Bay's veteran end and chronic record breaker; Clyde [Bulldog] Turner, the Chicago Bears' big center, and George McAfee of the Bears generally acclaimed the greatest half back in league history—were unanimous choices, appearing on the first team on each of the nine ballots.

Name Fortmann Again.

A fourth player, Dr. Danny Fortmann, the Bears' guard and field captain, named for the fourth straight season, received eight first place votes, but did not impress the ninth committeeman sufficiently to get as much as a second team berth on his ballot.

Hutson and Perry Schwartz, of Brooklyn, were awarded the first team end positions for the second consecutive year. It marked the fourth successive season that Hutson has been named to the first team. Frank [Bruiser] Kinard, like his Brooklyn team mate, Schwartz, landed on the first team for the second consecutive year, leading all tackles with 27 out of a possible 45 points. Scoring was based on five points for first place and four for second. At the other tackle the committee placed Wee Willie Wilkin of Washington.

Wilkin is one of six men who made the first team for the first time. The others are Turner, Joe Kuharich, the Chicago Cardinals' signal calling guard; Sid Luckman, whose generalship and passing have been important factors in the Bears' two consecutive championships; Cecil Isbell, the most productive passer in the league, who delivered at least one touchdown toss in every game for Green Bay, and McAfee.

Clarke Hinkle, first team full back three times previously in his 10 years of stardom at Green Bay, received four first place votes and two for the second team to beat out Clarence Manders of Brooklyn, the league's new ground gaining champion. Hinkle amassed 28 points against Manders' 22 in the balloting.

Hinkle's selection gave Green Bay three places on the first team against four for the Bears, two for Brooklyn, one for Washington, and one for the Chicago Cardinals. The New York Giants, eastern division champions, dominated the second team with three men, while the Bears, and Green Bay each placed two. Other second team berths went to the Cardinals, Detroit, Cleveland, and Brooklyn.

Salak's Sayings.

Ambition is a funny thing; it doesn't work unless you make it.

The average man gets paid for what he's worth up to his neck. What he earns above that is entirely up to him.

It requires courage to express one's talent.

Fear has kept more people from being successful than failure ever did.

The mind is our bill of credit; yet so few draw on it to its fullest extent.

Imagination without training is like an umbrella without a handle.

TENNEY WHIPS EDDIE LANDER AT MARIGOLD

Harry Tenney, former Cleveland Golden Gloves lightweight boxer, last night ended the winning streak of Chicago's Eddie Lander in the presence of 1,309 in Marigold Gardens. Tenney was awarded a unanimous 10 round decision over the Chicagoan. The receipts were $1,820.

George Feltes, Great Lakes middleweight, defeated John O'Brien of Calumet City in a four round bout. In other matches Lou Flyer won from Tito Taylor in six rounds; Vince Calzaretta whipped Sam Morris in four rounds, and Bill Constance knocked out Carlos Lopez in the second round.

Nick Castiglione, west side lightweight, who has beaten Julie Kogon, Joe Ghnouly, Pete Lello, and Leo Rodak in recent months, will open boxing drills in Trafton's gymnasium this afternoon for a 10 round bout against Aldo Spoldi in the Coliseum, Jan. 9. Booker Beckwith, Gary light heavyweight, will establish training in the loop gymnasium Saturday for a 10 round headliner on the card against Joe Maxin of Cleveland. . . . The next show in Chicago Stadium will be offered Jan. 23, Promoter William R. Rand said yesterday. Willis [Shorty] Hogue, San Diego, Cal., middleweight, is scheduled to appear on the program against an opponent to be selected. Hogue, who stopped Andre Jessurun and Johnny Barbara in two previous Chicago starts, has gone to Minneapolis where he will meet Charley Burley in 10 rounds on Jan. 9. He will collect $1,200 for the assignment.

SONJA HENIE'S REVUE TO RUN EXTRA EVENING

Sonja Henie's Hollywood ice revue, now appearing in the Chicago Stadium, will remain in Chicago for an extra performance, Arthur M. Wirtz, executive vice president, announced yesterday. The added show will be held on the night of Jan. 5. Tickets will be placed on sale this morning at the Stadium ticket offices, 1800 West Madison street and 65 West Madison street.

DOUBLE HEADER AT MARQUETTE IS A SELLOUT

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 29 [Special].—Marquette athletic authorities announced today that the New Year's eve basketball double header in the Milwaukee auditorium was a sellout. The capacity of the auditorium is 6,300. Marquette will meet Michigan in the first game and Wisconsin's national champions will face Dartmouth's eastern intercollegiate champions in the other.

BEARS DRILL FOR ALL-STAR GAME; DEPART TODAY

Halas Selects Squad of 27 to Play Sunday.

Here it is nigh on to the new year, and yet the Chicago Bears, not content with having bowled the football world over in the course of defending their National league championship, yesterday were going about acting as if they were just embarking on the 1941 season. Actually, their immediate plans include boarding the Advance Commodore at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the La Salle street station and heading for their special battle with an all-star pro eleven Sunday afternoon in New York's Polo Grounds.

Interwoven with their departure hence and their arrival in Manhattan's Lincoln hotel are several other matters. One transpired yesterday morning when the champions worked out for an hour and a half in Wrigley field, the scene of the Dec. 21 triumph over the New York Giants. This little exercise, most of which revolved around a skull session designed against the Giants' defense, will be repeated at 9 o'clock this morning.

Four Drills in New York.

The Bears no sooner will land in New York on Wednesday morning to his themselves to the Polo Grounds for the first of four workouts, terminating with a final drill on Saturday.

Twenty-seven players, and Coaches Halas, Paddy Driscoll, Heartley [Hunk] Anderson, Luke Johnsos, and Jack Manders, and Traveling Secretary Frank Halas will be in the party entraining this afternoon. Six Bears left for Christmas holiday visits in the east following the Dec. 21 championship victory, and will meet the team there on its arrival Wednesday. These include Sid Luckman, quarter back; Ed Kolman, tackle; Bill Osmanski, full back; Joe Stydahar, tackle; John Federovich, tackle; Al Baisi, guard, and John Siegal, end.

Selects Regular Lineup.

Boss Halas, acting just as fidgety as you might expect to find him in the week of a midseason argument with the Packers or the Giants or Cardinals, said yesterday as he went into a private huddle in his loop headquarters with Driscoll and Johnsos, that he will start the same lineup that brought the Bears their second straight title.

LES M'MITCHELL WINS SULLIVAN SPORTS TROPHY

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—Leslie MacMitchell of New York university, who continued to be a team runner, even tho he was the outstanding miler of 1941, has been named as the 12th winner of the James E. Sullivan memorial trophy, Amateur Athletic union award for the athlete who best combines ability and sportsmanship.

MacMitchell, 21 years old last September, was chosen by a tribunal of 600 sports leaders as the one "who by his performance, example and influence as an amateur and a man, has done the most during 1941 to advance the cause of sportsmanship."

Results of the poll announced today by the Sullivan memorial committee show that MacMitchell received 848 points—on a 5-3-1 basis. Cornelius Warmerdam of the San Francisco Olympic club, who hoisted the world pole vault record to 15 feet 5¾ inches in the course of beating the old mark nine times in one season, polled 662 points for second place.

Third went to Joe Platak, seven-time national A. A. U. handball champion from Chicago's Lake Shore club, with 463 points.

RECALL IROQUOIS THEATER FIRE AT CEREMONY TODAY

Corrigan, Who Took Alarm in 1903, to Participate.

At 3:32 p. m. today the harsh clang of a fire bell will sound thru the council chamber of the city hall, marking the start of Chicago's annual commemoration of its ghastliest theater tragedy.

The man at the bell will be Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan who, as a private in Engine Company No. 13, received the first alarm from the Iroquois theater at 3:32 p. m., Dec. 30, 1903. At that moment 38 years ago 575 boys and girls, men and women were burning, suffocating, and being trampled to death in a flame swept furnace that had been advertised as the nation's most modern and safest theater.

A Profound Effect.

It was not Chicago's greatest disaster, either in the number killed or in property loss, but its effect upon the city and the nation probably was more profound than any tragedy of modern times. The laws and safety regulations that came into being as a direct result are credited with having saved thousands of lives and to have insured that the Iroquois victims did not die in vain.

On that black December afternoon, the magnificent new theater, on the site of the present Oriental, was jammed with young people, many of whom were listed in the social register. The Iroquois would seat 1,700 persons and 200 others had purchased standing room. The play was "Mr. Blue Beard," starring the late Eddie Foy.

At 3:15 p. m. a double octet was on the stage singing "Let Us Swear by the Pale Moonlight." Unseen by the audience, a strip of gauze which was part of the proscenium arch drapery ignited from a sputtering, open arc light, 12 feet above the stage floor. A tiny flame ran up the strip and ignited a velvet drape.

No Water Available.

A glass of water would have extinguished it. But there was no water. There were only two extinguishers and these were unsuitable. Some of the audience now saw the fire and the futile effort to control it. They rose.

Eddie Foy stepped from the wings, partly costumed and with one side of his face made up. He spoke reassuring words. He even joked a little. Those who had been standing sat down. At Foy's direction the orchestra struck up a lively tune.

From the red velvet drape the flames were spreading upward into the flies. A length of blazing muslin drifted down on to the stage.

The singers bolted into the wings, one of them with his costume afire. More fiery fragments rained down. The orchestra fled. The next instant the auditorium was a madhouse filled with shrieking, struggling humanity, crazed by terror.

The rigging loft above the stage now was aflame from end to end. The asbestos curtain, of which the Iroquois management had boasted, was lowered halfway, but jammed. Searing gases collected behind it. Then the stage door was opened.

Blast of Wind Strikes Curtain.

A blast of wind struck the half lowered curtain and it billowed out over the audience, followed by a pillar of flame which roared upward into the dome and licked into the balconies. It was all over for most of the 575 victims even before a stage hand had run 200 feet down the alley to Engine House No. 13 and motioned frantically to young Fireman Corrigan.

When the firefighters entered the scorched house of death they found bodies piled 6 to 10 feet deep at emergency exits which were locked and at doors built to open inward. Scores of dead lay in grotesque heaps on the balcony stairways.

No one was ever punished for the Iroquois tragedy, altho the theater's managers and several public officials were indicted. A multiplicity of civil suits dragged on for years.

Today's Iroquois memorial service is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and will be open to the public. In addition to Commissioner Corrigan, the speakers will include Mrs. Edward J. Buchan, 452 Briar place, who as Annabelle Whitford was leader of the Fairy Queen ballet of "Mr. Blue Beard"; Frank Holland, another member of the cast, and Alice Burns, who was in the audience.

The service will begin at 3 p. m. and will reach its climax at 3:32 when Commissioner Corrigan strikes the fire gong.

L. M. EILSHEMIUS DIES AT 77, HIS ART RECOGNIZED

New York, Dec. 29 (AP). — Louis Michel Eilshemius, 77, who unblushingly called himself "the world's greatest painter" in a 50 year fight for artistic recognition which finally came, died today of pneumonia in Bellevue hospital.

Louis M. Eilshemius.

The self-styled "Mahatma of Manhattan's Montparnasse and the Transcendental Eagle of the Arts" was taken to the hospital Dec. 17 under protest. Friends said that he was in dire need of medical attention and that he could not pay for proper treatment.

Death came to the nonconformist painter with his loudly uttered self-estimates apparently proved. Three of his landscapes hang in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Two other paintings adorn the Museum of Modern Art. Another is in the Phillips memorial gallery in Washington, D. C. Two years ago a biography, "And He Sat Among the Ashes," by William Schack, was published.

He was born Feb. 4, 1864, in Arlington, N. J., of Dutch parents. He attended the state college of agriculture at Cornell university where he painted on the side. He studied painting here and in Paris.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—Frederick W. Vanderbilt, railroad director, yachting enthusiast, and grandson of the late Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, left a net estate of $72,845,478 at his death June 29, 1938, an estate tax appraisal showed today. State inheritance taxes totaled $11,680,673 and the federal tax assessment was listed at $31,155,605.

Woman 'L' Ticket Agent Scorns Robber's Pistol

Guns hold no awe for Mrs. Laura Schenkenberger. When she was held up in the ticket cage of the elevated lines at 61st street and Princeton avenue last night, Mrs. Schenkenberger, who is 65, just snapped, "Take that pistol away." She dropped to the floor, turned on the alarm, and the three bandits fled.

Kills Himself by Binding Head with Adhesive Tape

Walter Brunken, 22 years old, a former inmate of the Kankakee state hospital, was found dead in his room at 1436 Astor street yesterday, apparently a suicide. He had wound adhesive tape around his head from forehead to chin, causing suffocation. He left a letter which said he was a failure.

2 STREET CARS CRASH ON NORTH SIDE; 16 INJURED

Sixteen persons were injured last night, none believed seriously, when two street cars collided in Clark street at Lawrence avenue and both were derailed.

Patrolman Gust Ring of the Summerdale station said that a south bound car jumped the track at the intersection, ramming into a north bound car piloted by Ralph Milnes Jr., 52 years old. Passengers in both cars were shaken severely and suffered shock and bruises. The other motorman was P. W. Perry, 25.

Ring said that 11 persons were taken to the Ravenswood hospital and 5 to the Swedish Covenant hospital. Rush hour traffic was tied up for some time.

OPM AID PREDICTS ARMS OUTPUT RATE OF 24 BILLION A YEAR SOON

Dr. Copeland Says Goal Is About 3 Months Distant.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—Dr. Morris A. Copeland, director of the bureau of research and statistics of the Office of Production Management, estimated today that toward the end of the first quarter of 1942 munitions production output and defense construction would be at the rate of 24 billion dollars a year.

This would reach nearly 30 billions a year if military pay and subsistence were included, he said in a paper read before the annual joint conference of Allied Social Science associations by Prof. John Hutchins of Cornell university in the absence of Dr. Copeland.

U. S. Income Tops 92 Billion.

Milton Gilbert, chief of the national income unit of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, said his department predicted that national income would exceed 92 billion dollars for 1941. He described this as a record increase over the 1940 figure of 76 billions.

Asserting that during 1940 the defense effort stimulated and increased general business activity, Dr. Copeland predicted it would continue to have a stimulating effect on private business.

"So long as there is a substantial amount of excess capacity widely distributed thruout various parts of our economy," he said, "the effect of a program of government business activity such as the defense program—unless there are very radical differences in fiscal policy or in other attendant circumstances—is likely to be a material increase in private business activity."

Urges Master Priority Plan.

Another member of the OPM, Benjamin Caplan, told the group in a paper read by Prof. E. G. Working of the University of Illinois that a master plan was needed which would be flexible in the allocation of scarce raw materials, so that there might be a smooth flow of such materials in defense industries.

"Only by allocating in accordance with such a master schedule," he said, "can it be assured that fabricators will not be held up by 'plenty of steel, no copper.' Until the principle of control from 'bottom up' thruout the field of scarce raw materials is adopted, and administration is in accordance with an end-product preference classification and master production plan, there can be no satisfactory assurance of the smooth flow of scarce raw material into the production of defense materials."

Arming Rate Outstrips Nazis.

An assertion that the rate of rearmament in the United States was proceeding faster than it did in Germany or any other country was made in a paper by Lester Kellogg of OPM.

He said "there has never been a time in which all of the country's forces were being so completely mobilized as they are at present."

He suggested that "the measures now being developed must be fully recorded so that they will be available as guides when our next major mobilization effort, whether for peace or war, is undertaken."

SPENDING ON WAR ABOVE 1918 PEAK AND STILL RISING

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—The treasury disclosed today that in the first 26 days of this month it spent $2,197,358,728, compared with $2,061,000,000 in December, 1918, the most expensive month in the first World war period.

Defense accounted for $1,585,968,821 of the recent total. Official records did not show exactly how much of the December, 1918, expenditure went directly for war purpose, but a substantial part of it was money lent to the allies.

Lend-Lease Spending Given.

In the 1941 counterpart of such loans, lend-lease expenditures in the first 26 days of December accounted for $227,264,706 of the defense spending. The army took more than half of the total, spending $839,724,360. The navy took $415,861,130.

On a fiscal year basis, World war totals were due for overshadowing. In the most expensive fiscal year of the World war, the government spent $18,522,895,000. In the current fiscal year, with a little more than six months yet to go, spending already aggregates $11,913,115,238.

Rate of Outgo Expanding.

Moreover, the rate of spending has been growing rapidly and the latest budget bureau estimate, made before the war, places the outgo at 24½ billion dollars in the full fiscal year to end next June 30.

Defense has cost 8 billion dollars since the fiscal year began, and is slated to cost at least 10 billions more by June 30, 1942.

Even larger spending programs are in the making, possibly calling for a budget of 50 billion dollars in the next fiscal year. A glimpse of these plans is due in about two weeks when President Roosevelt will send his annual budget message to congress.

TAX BILL ESTIMATED.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—The nation's state and local government tax bill for 1941 was estimated today by the National Industrial Conference board at a new peak of 8 billion 925 million dollars. The board, a private research organization, figured federal tax collections for 1941 also would set a record at 7 billion 673 millions. State and local taxes in 1940 were 8 billion 538 millions. Federal collections in 1940 were estimated at 5 billion 569 millions.

QUICK VICTORY ESSENTIAL FOR JAPS, SAYS PALYI

Altho Japan has sufficient raw materials and an industrial capacity to sustain her for a war of at least two years' duration, she must win within the next six months in the far east if she is to win at all, Dr. Melchoir Palyi, visiting professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin and a former adviser to the Reichsbank in Berlin, said yesterday.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting of the City Club of Chicago in the La Salle hotel, Palyi said Japan is faced with the tremendous task of eliminating the United States and Great Britain from the far east, gaining control of the Burma road and finally subduing China. Like any war in which a nation of limited resources attacks a country of superior raw materials, that country must win quickly to win at all, he asserted.

Palyi emphasized, however, that the Japanese must not be underestimated as an adversary. He said that Japan has been organizing her resources and industrial machinery since 1931 and today stands among the "most industrial nations in the world." In addition, he said, the country has an advantageous strategical location with many of the necessary basic war materials at her disposal which will be increased with successful conquests in the far east.

AIRPLANE PARTS PLANT RETURNED TO MANAGEMENT

Bendix, N. J., Dec. 29 (AP).—The aviation equipment plant of Air Associates, Inc., reverted to private management today after 60 days of operation by army officers under the direction of the war department following a labor dispute with the CIO.

Fred G. Coburn, company president, and Col. Roy M. Jones, army officer in charge since Oct. 31, said in a joint statement that the transfer had been made at 5 p. m.

Col. Jones urged the workers at a mass meeting to "Give us in the armed forces the best you can."

In Washington, the war department confirmed the return of Air Associates to private management and said that production had been increased approximately 37 per cent under army control.

GROCERY CHAIN HEAD PLEDGES PRICE RULE AID

John A. Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, asserted last night that only government can control wholesale food prices and said this federal authority is "necessary" for protection of the consumers.

In an advertisement appearing in more than 3,000 newspapers, he promised complete coöperation with governmental agencies in preventing unwarranted price increases, continuation of efforts to reduce the spread between prices paid the grower and charged the consumer and to hold A. & P. inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service.

The chart shows the division of federal spending in the first 26 days of this month. Shaded areas in "pie" refer to defense spending. The cannon to the right compare present and 1918 spending, indicating the vast increase in the new war period.

Armour Sales and Profit Rise in Fiscal Year

George A. Eastwood.

Benefiting from the government's large scale provisioning of the armed forces and from increased civilian meat consumption, Armour & Co. yesterday reported that sales in its 1941 fiscal year were the largest since 1929 and net profit the best since 1924.

The financial report for 52 weeks of the fiscal year ended Nov. 1, issued by George A. Eastwood, president, disclosed that sales increased 26 per cent to $826,236,109, compared with $733,949,000 in the preceding fiscal year, which had 53 weeks. In terms of weight, sales rose 6 per cent to 8 billion 250 million pounds, against 7 billion 800 million pounds the year before.

Profit Nearly Doubled.

The company and its subsidiaries earned $15,111,410 against $8,307,429 in the 1940 fiscal year. After deducting dividends on the guaranteed preferred stock of Armour & Co. of Delaware, chief operating subsidiary, 1941 net income was $11,354,408, equal after preferred dividend requirements for a year to $1.95 a common share, against $4,560,539, or 28 cents a common share.

The large meat packing enterprise pocketed 1.63 cents profit from each dollar of sales in the 1941 fiscal year, the financial statement showed. This was the best earning ratio since 1934, when the company realized 1.89 cents net profit from each sales dollar. The 1940 ratio was 1.13 cents.

Rising prices of meat animals caused the company to increase its investment in inventories and accounts receivable by $47,226,000 in the 1941 fiscal year. Part of this was financed by almost 28 million dollars of additional short term borrowing.

Revises Inventory Accounting.

Eastwood observed that for the first time the company applied the "last in, first out" method of inventory accounting permitted by amendment of the federal revenue laws in 1939.

This method allows the company to reduce its tax liability from inventory profits in a period of rising prices because current sales are considered as involving goods bought at recent high prices instead of earlier low prices. The new valuation has been applied to certain pork, hide, leather, soap, and glue products. The effect was to reduce consolidated net profit in the 1941 fiscal year by $4,200,000.

Commenting on recent federal indictments of meat packers for alleged violation of anti-trust laws, Eastwood declared that the company, its officials, and employés will be "completely exonerated" when the charges are tried.

PACKERS PLEAD NOT GUILTY IN EASTER HAM SUIT

Pleas of not guilty to a charge of conspiracy to violate the Sherman anti-trust law were entered yesterday before Judge William H. Holly in the federal District court by 118 companies and individuals connected with the meat packing industry.

They were indicted last August, charged with conspiring to control and raise prices of hams in the weeks before Easter.

The defendants come from 30 different states and many cities. Nine Chicago companies are accused. Judge Holly set trial for May 18, 1942, the long lapse being necessary, it was said, because of the difficulties in rounding up witnesses.

BUSINESS MEN MUST KEEP 43 'DATES' WITH TAX COLLECTOR IN '42

Chicago business men will have to keep a rendezvous with the tax collector 43 times in 1942, the Chicago Association of Commerce disclosed yesterday in issuing its annual tax calendar.

Of the 43 different tax dates, 23 will be for tax payments or reports to the state, 18 to the federal government, 3 to Cook county, and 2 to the city. January and July will be the busiest tax months and August and November the lightest.

For January the calendar reminds business men that they should have their state motor vehicle licenses and city vehicle stickers on New Year's day; that the Illinois retailers' occupation tax return and payment for December, 1941, is due on Jan. 15, and that Illinois unemployment compensation tax for 1941, the federal unemployment compensation tax for 1941, the federal old age benefit tax for the last quarter of 1941, and federal excise return and payment for December, 1941, are due on Jan. 31.

Buyers Favor State Control of Oil Output

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 29 (AP).—Faced with a federal order limiting oil production during January, a group of the state's principal crude petroleum purchasers today adopted a resolution urging an Illinois proration law to be effective only during the war emergency.

Former Gov. John Stelle of McLeansboro, who led a successful fight against proration legislation in the legislature last spring, made the surprise proposal and the resolution urging a second special session of the general assembly to enact laws permitting production control was sent to Gov. Green.

Oppose Voluntary Pact.

Forty-four men representing most of the crude oil buyers in the state were invited to the conference by the governor to discuss means of complying with the recent order of Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, federal petroleum coördinator, setting a quota of 386,400 barrels daily during January on Illinois oil production.

Stelle proposed a temporary proration law after the buyers decided that they could not enter into a voluntary agreement restricting purchases of oil without first obtaining assurance from the attorneys general of the United States and Illinois that such an agreement would not be a violation of the Sherman anti-trust act and the state oil conservation code.

Prefers State Control.

The former governor, who appeared as a representative of the Loudon Pipeline company, Pana, asked that small oil operators and pipeline companies be consulted in drafting a state production control bill "so they won't get hurt."

Acknowledging that he had opposed proration measures in the past, Stelle added:

"But we have proration by the federal government right now at 386,400 barrels. I'd rather have Illinoisans administer a proration law so you would have the right to come to Springfield to plead your case and not to Washington."

The formal resolution was presented by Clarence T. Smith of Flora, chairman of a subcommittee appointed by Ickes to study production in Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky.

Murray, Green Tell Views on Labor Policy

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—President Philip Murray of the CIO and President William Green of the AFL outlined to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins today their views on how the proposed war labor board should function to carry out the recent pledge of workers and managers that there shall be no interruption of wartime industrial production.

Altho their organizations have differed sharply in the past, Murray and Green met together with the labor secretary for more than two hours and were understood to have submitted a jointly approved plan of procedure for the board.

Settlement Within 30 Days.

The proposals, among other things, called for:

1. A board composed of four labor, four industry, and either one or three representatives of the public.

2. Disputes, which have failed of agreement by collective bargaining, to be settled by conciliation, mediation, or voluntary arbitration, with full use being made of the machinery of the United States conciliation service.

3. Final adjustment of all issues in a dispute within 30 days.

Set Up Guiding Principles.

They proposed that the board be guided by the following principles:

1. All workers are entitled to a wage sufficient to maintain full efficiency, good health, and well being for themselves and families.

2. Policies established under the labor relations act, the wage-hour act, and other existing labor statutes shall not be impaired.

3. Continuation of the normal processes of collective bargaining on wages, hours, working conditions, and union security.

4. No strikes or lockouts to be ordered during the war.

Steel Industry Increases Week's Rate to 96.1 Pct.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—The steel industry will operate this week at 96.1 per cent of capacity, 2.7 points above last week's rate, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated today.

BANK BUSINESS LOANS RISE 23 MILLIONS IN WEEK BEFORE HOLIDAY

Bank loans for the financing of business and agricultural activities maintained their upward trend in the week ended Dec. 24, the Federal Reserve board reported yesterday. The volume reached 6 billion 792 million dollars, 23 millions more than a week earlier and 1 billion 781 million more than the amount outstanding on the corresponding date last year.

Following are the principal assets and liabilities of the member banks of the federal reserve system in 101 cities as at the close of business Dec. 24 [last six ciphers omitted]:

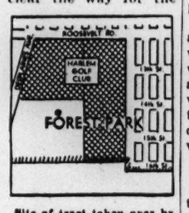
TORPEDO PLANT SITE IS TAKEN OVER FOR NAVY

Court Overrides Refusal to Sell.

The navy department moved swiftly yesterday to clear the way for the construction of a 10 million dollar torpedo plant in Forest Park which will employ 6,000 persons.



Site of tract taken over by navy for torpedo plant.

Impatient over delay in negotiations with the owners of the Harlem golf course selected as the site of the proposed plant, the navy took title to 80 acres of the 117.73 acre tract thru the Federal District court.

Dispensing with the usual condemnation proceedings, United States Attorney J. Albert Woll, acting for the navy, deposited a check for $130,011.75 with the court clerk. Federal Judge William H. Holly promptly acted on the navy's petition and transferred the title to the government.

Part of Former Race Track.

The site taken by the government is at the southeast corner of Roosevelt road and Des Plaines avenue, in the suburb, and was formerly part of the old Harlem race track, owned by the late John B. Condon.

The Northern Trust company, as trustee for the Condon estate, which owns half of the property, had been unable to obtain approval from all the owners for its sale to the government. A quarter interest is held by John S. Condon, a grandson of the original owner, and the remaining quarter by his sister, Mrs. Marguerite Jones. The government was reported to have offered $400,000 for the entire tract.

In a letter accompanying the check Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox informed Woll that the urgent need for the land "makes it impractical to proceed with negotiations with the owners."

To Be Run by Amer. Can Unit.

The proposed torpedo plant will be owned by the Defense Plant corporation, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. It will be operated by the Amertorp corporation, a recently formed subsidiary of the American Can corporation.

This same property was to have been the location of the 16 million dollar Studebaker corporation's airplane engine plant. The land was to have been rezoned to permit the erection of a factory. Then the same opposition developed, the deal was dropped, and Studebaker built at Cicero and Archer avenues.

It is understood that the new plant's scheduled production will be larger than the only other two torpedo manufacturing plants in this country combined. Its initial personnel of 6,000 will be able to turn out seven complete torpedoes daily. These will be 22 feet long and cost about $12,500 each.

LIMIT PURCHASES OF FATS, OILS TO 90 DAYS' SUPPLY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—The government today forbade any manufacturer or processor of fats and oils from buying more than a 90 day supply. About 1,800 kinds of fats and oils were included in an Office of Production Management order. Soap and paint makers are among largest consumers affected.

The order covers cottonseed oil and lard in the raw materials state, but not as finally processed for home use. Not covered are mineral oils and the so-called "essential" oils, such as lemon, camphor, clove, wintergreen, and citronella.

Many of the affected products are imported from the far east and have been cut off by the Pacific war, and others are domestic oils which can be used in place of the imported oils.

NORTH WESTERN PUTS NEW '400S' INTO USE MONDAY

A new three and a half million dollar fleet of "400" streamlined trains will be placed in service next Monday between Chicago and many points in Wisconsin and upper Michigan by the Chicago and North Western railroad, R. L. Williams, chief executive officer, announced yesterday.

All the locomotives, with one exception, will be diesel powered. Seven streamliners will operate daily except Saturday and Sunday northbound from Chicago to Milwaukee, and six will operate southbound from Milwaukee to Chicago. The extra northbound train will return to Chicago via Madison and Janesville. The new fleet will permit a saving of as much as five hours and 20 minutes over existing schedules to certain points, Williams said.

Federal Price Ceiling Cancels Cigaret Boost

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—Leon Henderson, price administrator, announced tonight that the American Tobacco company had refused to rescind a price increase on its leading brand of cigarets and that in consequence the government would impose a price ceiling on cigarets at a level which would cancel the advance.

The administrator said the company offered only "limited data" in justification of the increase, which raised the wholesale price of the brand 57 cents a thousand, from $6.53 to $7.10. Other major tobacco companies did not follow the advance.

Henderson made the announcement at the close of a three hour meeting with officials of the tobacco firm at which Office of Price Administration authorities requested that the advance be postponed until OPA had time to make a thoro study of the cost and price situation. The request was rejected, OPA said.

Base Rise on Higher Taxes.

The company contended, OPA said, that the advance was intended to maintain earnings in the face of higher income and excess profit taxes. It also maintained that its position under the anti-trust laws would be prejudiced if it were to accede voluntarily to Henderson's request, but said it would abide by any formal ceiling imposed.

OPA officials contended that any advance could be justified only on the basis of a more exhaustive study than the tobacco company presented, "in view of the highly favorable earnings position of the company and the substantial price advance involved."

Henderson said his primary purpose in the forthcoming price order was "to prevent an increase in the price of cigarets to the public."

Threatens Wider Action.

If wholesalers and retailers fail to coöperate in this purpose, he added, OPA will enlarge the scope of the schedule to include price maximums at the retail and wholesale levels as well as the manufacturers' price.

"The OPA request was reasonable," Henderson said. "The corporation merely was asked to withhold the advance until proper studies could be made. It refused. Preliminary evidence indicates that earnings of the company before taxes are near record levels and the company, partly as a result of the stimulating effect of defense expenditures, is enjoying a boomtime volume of sales.

"Under the circumstances, and considering that the Lucky Strike increase might involve advances on the part of other manufacturers, OPA is compelled to issue a schedule of maximum prices for cigarets at or about the levels of Dec. 26, 1941."

MATCH COSTS GOING UP

Don't be too critical of your tobacco retailer if he hasn't been liberal with book matches lately. A case containing 2,500 books of "resale" matches, those containing advertising of some company other than his own, costs about $4.50 wholesale, compared with about $2.50 a year ago. Chicago match companies reported. A federal manufacturers' tax of $1 accounts for half the difference and the remainder may be attributed to increased costs of labor and materials, officials said.

RAILROAD SEEKS MEN TO OPERATE TRAINS IN STRIKE

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 29 (AP).—Protesting a new wage scale and working rules, 104 engineers and trainmen on the Toledo, Peoria, and Western railroad were on strike today.

The road advertised for railroad men and published a notice that employés who failed to report to work would be without jobs.

Despite picket lines established Sunday night, freight trains bound for Keokuk, Ia., and Effner, Ind., left the yards today. A third locomotive was used for switching.

BOOST FLAMEPROOF CHEMICAL OUTPUT TO ASSIST ARMS EFFORT

A chemical that makes cloth flameproof and will facilitate armament production by reducing property loss and fire injuries among plant workers has been made available in large quantities in time to aid in the war, the American Chemical society announced yesterday.

The product, known as ammonium sulfamate, is being applied in increasing amounts in the manufacture of airplanes and in the treatment of steel mill and shipyard workers' clothing, and air raid wardens' uniforms, the society reported. Mattresses, upholstery, and rugs can be treated by the spray method, and clothing requires only a rinse in water in which the powder has been dissolved.

Large scale production of the chemical has been started at a plant which the producer, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., opened last month at Grasselli, N. J., the society said.

RAILS HANDLE RECORD TRAFFIC VOLUME IN 1941

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29 (AP).—American railroads pulled up to the end of 1941 with the record of having handled without delay the largest volume of freight traffic in history, John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said today in a review of the year's operations.

"And," said Pelley, "the railroads are confident of their ability to meet transportation demands in 1942 if materials for adequate maintenance and for new construction are made available."

Continuous improvement in cars, locomotives, and in operating methods and efficiency enabled the carriers to prevent an equipment shortage despite the record breaking task imposed upon them, Pelley said.

Capital expenditures in 1941 were estimated at 600 millions, compared with $429,147,000 in 1940.

Investment Trust Turns to Buying Side of Market

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—Andrew J. Lord, president of Affiliated Fund, Inc., said today the company had switched from the selling to the buying side of the securities market. He said the fund had instituted more than a year ago an investment policy of selling on rallies, building up cash reserves.

SMALL PLANT FINANCIAL HELP STUDIED BY OPM

Senator Asks Fund of 150 Millions.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—An Office of Production Management spokesman said this afternoon the OPM was prepared to carry out a program of financial assistance to small industrial plants to get them into munitions production. Sen. James M. Mead [D., N. Y.], a member of the defense committee and of a special committee on small business problems, earlier in the day urged that congress appropriate 150 million dollars for this purpose.

Sen. James Mead.

"National defense production requires all available hands," said the senator. "We cannot afford to have any unemployed men or factories."

Study Direct Aid Plans.

Floyd Odlum, head of the division of contract distribution of OPM, is in California, personally supervising problems in the aviation industry, but his representative here said that a thoro study is being made of methods whereby the government can aid small plants that could not qualify for ordinary loans from private sources to pay for conversions or enlargements of equipment for arms work.

OPM statistics show that of 169,000 small industrial plants in the United States, approximately 10,000 are now working on defense contracts. Another 30,000 or 40,000 are qualified physically, according to this survey, to produce for the army and navy. Most of the 169,000 will continue to produce civilian requirements, altho several thousand will be closed by restrictions on critical materials.

Lists Eligible Plant Types.

Sen. Mead listed four categories of concerns that might merit government aid. They are:

1. Plants that are dead or dying because of the application of priorities. Thousands are now closed or will shortly close.

2. Plants that are going concerns now—but because of war demands face curtailment and must move quickly to war production.

3. Plants that could get war contracts but need new machinery and have no money for that purpose.

4. Plants that have machinery and could bid for contracts, but need money in order to arrange for production on war contracts.

Big Reservoir of Output.

"A widespread, complete organization of America's war production," said the senator, "would bring 50,000 small plants into the program. It would tap a big reservoir of machines and skilled men who are not now being used for defense.

"It would obviate the necessity of much new plant construction. And it would accelerate the war production of ships, tanks, guns, and all of the equipment vital to our military organization."

EMPLOYES CREATE AXIS SINKING FUND; HOPE IT GROWS FAST

An "axis sinking fund," accumulating from voluntary contributions every time United States forces destroy axis military equipment, has been formed by employés of Fleetwings, Inc., Bristol, Pa., maker of aircraft parts, it was announced yesterday. Proceeds will be sent to the United States treasury.

The employés have agreed to contribute on this basis: One cent for each axis airplane destroyed in the air; one cent for each five planes destroyed on the ground; one cent for sinking an assault boat; five cents for each miscellaneous naval auxiliary; 10 cents for a destroyer, submarine, troopship or transports; 25 cents for a destroyer or submarine tender; 35 cents for a cruiser, and 50 cents for larger naval craft.

The members also pledged to give a dollar for each boat sunk during a week in addition to the first one or the 50 cent class.

STOCK TRADING MOUNTS; PRICES UP ON AVERAGE

Steels Advance as Others Fall; Ticker Late.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP).—The stock market sprinted at high speed today, but, so far as a definite direction was concerned, failed to get anywhere in particular. Speed was the rule from the start and, just before the close, the ticker tape fell behind actual floor transactions for the first time since Dec. 8. The day's volume, 2,925,455 shares, was the largest since May 21, 1940.

Steels, rails and "blue chips" that had been hit hardest in recent days were among the best performers, with a few getting up 2 points or so. Among losers of as much were some tobacco, rubber, oil and mail order stocks.

Replacement of "sold out" stocks was the principal stimulant, brokers said, but this was offset to a considerable extent by exceptionally large-scale tax selling which has only two more days to run.

Consider Rise Warranted.

Bidders stepped in apparently on the idea the average decline this month to the lowest levels since April 1, 1938, called for more of a technical rally than appeared Saturday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks managed to cling to a gain of .1 of a point at 35.8. It was one of the broadest markets in more than 18 months, with 1,005 individual issues involved in trading.

Steels generally did fairly well despite less of a comeback in this week's production rate than some had expected. Rubbers again had to contend with tire rationing, with United States Rubber especially depressed by fears for the company's important holdings in the far east. Oils suffered from rumors the government might put a ceiling on pipe line company profits.

Tobacco Issues Slip.

Tobaccos slipped as it was indicated federal authorities disapproved the cigaret price boost ordered by one of the major manufacturers.

Stocks emerging on the upside included American Telephone, Eastman Kodak, Bethlehem Steel, Santa Fe, Southern railway, Kennecott, Youngstown Sheet, Allied Chemical, du Pont, United Aircraft and Chrysler.

Under pressure were American Tobacco, Reynolds Tobacco, Goodrich, Goodyear, American Can, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texoas company, Consolidated Edison, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Phelps Dodge, and General Motors.

CHICAGO TRADE LARGE.

Trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday totaled 146,000 shares, the largest volume since Oct. 20, 1937. It brought the year's total to 6,884,000 shares, which marked the first time the 1941 cumulative volume has exceeded that of the corresponding 1940 period.

One hundred ninety-five issues were traded, the largest number since the exchange began recording this figure in September, 1935. Prices were irregular.

The volume leader was Chicago corporation, with 18,900 shares traded. Other heavily traded stocks were Commonwealth Edison, 9,950 shares; Middle West, 6,950 shares; Central & South West Utilities, 4,200 shares, and La Salle Extension university, 4,000 shares. All five of these issues closed unchanged from Saturday.

CORN AT 4 YEAR PEAK ON BUYING BY PROCESSORS

U. S. Agency Sells Million Bushels Thru Brokers.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Corn sold at a new four year high in Chicago yesterday as processors rushed to build up reserves. Grain men paid 82¼ cents a bushel for No. 1 yellow corn. Over the week-end they had consumated the sale of one million bushels of old crop corn from Commodity Credit corporation stocks.

Dealers report that the processors, distillers and other manufacturers using corn have been steady customers for substantial quantities of the grain for the last several weeks. The sale of the government owned stock was probably the first time that sales of government corn have been negotiated thru regular trade channels.

Fear War Supply Upset.

The grain men said big industrial consumers seek to accumulate substantial reserves because of war uncertainties, including possibility of higher prices, and prospects of a vast expansion in farm consumption of corn.

Corn products are being called upon to substitute for imported products in many industries. There are new uses for corn oil. Corn starch likely will replace the imported taploca starches. Substantial quantities of corn alcohols will go into munitions.

Prices of corn have been advancing almost steadily. The average price in Chicago went from 79 cents a bushel in 1915 to $1.52 in 1918 under wartime conditions. With prospects of a record pig crop in 1942, more cattle, record poultry production and replacement of tractors on the farms with horse-drawn equipment, the grain men look for a much larger corn consumption.

Grain Markets Firmer.

Under normal conditions about 83 per cent of all corn grown is consumed on the farm. Forty per cent is fed to hogs; 20 per cent to horses and mules; 15 per cent to cattle; four per cent to poultry; one per cent to sheep; and 3.5 per cent goes into hominy and cornmeal for human consumption. Feeding plans for 1942 would indicate that all of these percentages probably would be revised.

Trading in all grains was on a firmer basis yesterday. Turnover in the grain futures market, however, was believed to have been smaller than on Saturday when the Chicago Board of Trade experienced the most active trading session since Dec. 18.

Wheat closed ⅜ cent a bushel higher, with May contracts at $1.26⅞ a bushel. Corn advanced ¼ to ⅝ cent; oats, ¾ cent, and rye ⅜ to ⅝ cent. Soy beans were unchanged to ⅜ cent higher.

LARGE RECEIPTS TOPPLE PRICES IN HOG MARKETS

The largest Monday receipts since January, 1940, caused a break of 10 to 20 cents in the market for hogs at the stockyards yesterday.

Officials of the stockyard company announced late in the day that all former truck records were broken before the movement slackened. During the day 1,461 trucks were unloaded, as against the former record of 1,436 set a year ago yesterday.

Prices for the session averaged 15 cents lower at $1.05, with top sales at $11.40.

Live costs of other meat animals also declined under heavy supplies. Slaughter lambs sold off mostly 35 cents, with the top at $12.60.

Steers and yearlings dipped 25 to 40 cents during the day. Beef cows ruled weak to 25 cents lower.

[Acme Photo.]

According to London, these life rafts are carrying survivors of a German air attack on a British rescue ship which was crowded with survivors of sunken merchant ships.

Private Joseph Dee Everingham and results of a letter he wrote to Voice of the People asking for mail.

Canadian army medical corps nurses, destined for foreign service, visiting the observation tower of the Empire State building, New York. They are commissioned as first lieutenants.

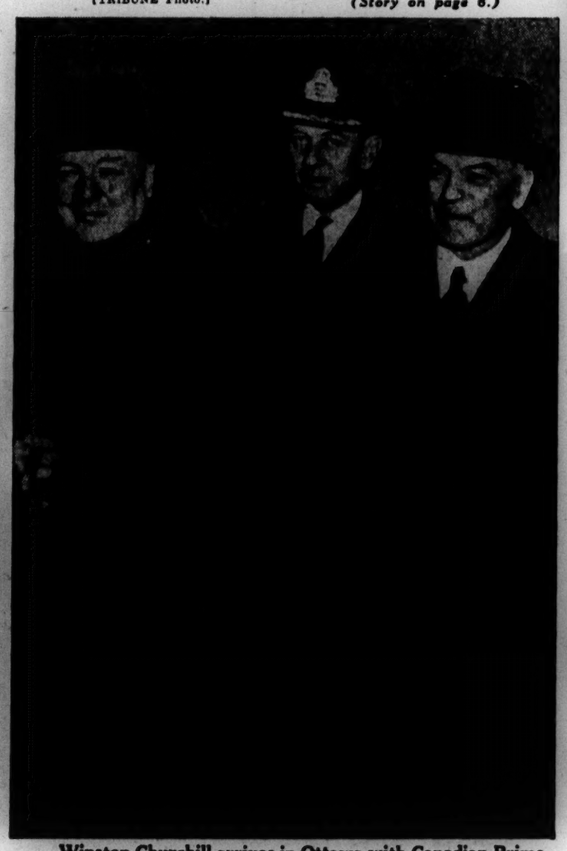
The survivors of the rescue ship being helped aboard a British warship which came to their assistance. London said the German plane machine gunned life boats.



Winston Churchill arrives in Ottawa with Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King (right) for conference.
